NUM. LXX

A large, ornate decorative block on the right page. It features a central illustration of a woman, likely the Virgin Mary, seated and holding a book. The text is in a highly decorative gothic script. The main title is "Apostolado de la Prensa" and the subtitle is "Propaganda Gratuita de Lecturas Populares". The year "1897" is printed at the bottom of the illustration. The signature "F. Arnal" is visible at the bottom left of the illustration.
