

TABLE OF CONTENTS

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

	PAGE.
The present Government of Mexico — Mexican Independence, when, where and by whom proclaimed — The present constitution of Mexico — The different branches of government — Executive, Legislative and Judicial powers — The Cabinet and attributes of the several Secretaries, . . . . .	1
Boundaries and present area of the Republic — The area of New Spain (Mexico) before its independence — Area of Mexican territory acquired by the United States, by treaty, . . . . .	4
Geographical position, . . . . .	5
Bays, gulfs, capes, islands, . . . . .	5
Rivers, their names and length, . . . . .	6
Mountains, their altitudes, . . . . .	7
Forest and vegetable productions, their names in the native languages, and their equivalent in English, as well as the botanical terms when possible, . . . . .	8
Population; its estimate by Humboldt and Alaman — Character of the people — The Mexican Indian — Population of Mexico in 1881, . . . . .	10
Antiquities, . . . . .	12
Etymology of the word Mexico, . . . . .	13
Mexican dialects, . . . . .	13
The climate of Mexico, the future and resources of the country, its agriculture, the situation of Mexico more favorable than that of other countries situated under the same latitudes, . . . . .	13

	PAGE.
Considerable altitudes of the Mexican plateaus or table lands — Mountains of Mexico — The Mexican plateau extends from the 18° to the 40° degree of north latitude, . . . . .	15
Variety of climates and the different cultures on the two inclined planes or slopes that connects the plateau with the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, . . . . .	16
Mexico divided in relation to its climate in three zones: 1. Tierra caliente , the powerful vegetation of that region; 2. Tierra templada , or temperate zone, the mildness of its climate, its resources; 3. Tierra fria , or cold zone, its temperature—Favorable situation of Mexico—Proximity of the four great basins of unequal altitudes—Their differ- ent cultures, . . . . .	16
Temperament of divers plants in Mexico — The sugar cane, . . . . .	17
The advantages of the climate of Mexico, superior to European countries and South America — The altitudes of the plateaus of South America too great, . . . . .	17
The great plains of South America are in width and length cut by deep ravines, . . . . .	19
Small number of volcanos in Mexico (earthquakes seldom happen), . . . . .	20
Small number of streams — Lack of water on the plateau, . . . . .	21
Principal lakes near the City of Mexico, . . . . .	21
Saline substance in the soil in some portion of Mexico, . . . . .	21
Botany — Medicinal plants — Tobacco — Various valuable gums, . . . . .	22
Flowers, . . . . .	23
Agriculture — The cultivation of corn, wheat, the maguey, the sugar-cane, cotton, coffee tree, tobacco, aniseseed, the cochinilla—Estimated value of agricultural productions, . . . . .	23
Zoology — Venomous reptiles, etc. . . . .	25

	PAGE.
Table showing the names of the different States composing the Republic of Mexico — Their area, their population, their capital and population in 1881, . . . . .	27
Political division of the Republic of Mexico and datas fur- nished by the latest census, . . . . .	28
Average revenue of the Mexican Republic — The revenue of the different States, . . . . .	28
The State of Aguas Calientes — Its boundaries, area, number of estates, population, its capital, its productions, . . . . .	28
The State of Campeche — Boundaries, area, population, moun- tains, rivers, lakes, ports, natural productions—Its capital, Campeche—Value of real estate, . . . . .	29
The State of Coahuila—Indian tribes who inhabited the country when the Spaniards took possession of it — Its former dependencies — Its present area and population — Its political division — Its present capital, Saltillo — Descrip- tion of the same and all principal towns in the State — Dialects spoken — Production — Industry—Public instruc- tion — Mining in the State — Sierra Mojada and the mines of Matehuapile, . . . . .	30
The State of Chiapas—Situation, boundaries, area—Rivers, natural productions—Political divisions—Its capital and population, . . . . .	34
The State of Chihuahua—Situation, boundaries, area—Topo- graphical aspect and climate — Lagoons, mountains, rivers, vegetable productions, agriculture, zoölogy, industry, mining, Indian tribes, population—Its capital, the City of Chihuahua—Description of some of the principal towns, . . . . .	35
The State of Colima—Boundaries, area, population—Moun- tains, sea ports, natural productions, political divisions, the City of Colima, . . . . .	38

- The State of Durango—Situation, limits, area—Rivers, mountains, industry, products of the mint, population—Principal cities and towns, . . . . . 39
- The State of Guanajuato—Situation, boundaries and area—Rivers, principal cities and towns, mountains, population, dialects, principal villages, number of estates, value of the same mining, industry, . . . . . 40
- The State of Guerrero—Situation, boundaries and area—Topographical aspect and climate—Rivers, lakes—Natural productions, mining, population, its present capital, . . . . . 43
- The State of Hidalgo—Boundaries, area, population, productions—Principal cities and towns, . . . . . 44
- The State of Jalisco—Situation, boundaries, area—Topographical aspect and climate—Seaports—Rivers, lakes, mountains, vegetable productions, agriculture, mines, zoology, territorial divisions, population, principal cities and towns, industry, . . . . . 44
- The State of Mexico—Boundaries—Political divisions—Its capital, the City of Toluca, population, . . . . . 48
- The State of Michoacan—Situation, boundaries, area—Topographical aspect and climate—Rivers, lakes, mountains, natural productions, zoology, mining, political division, population, dialects, real estate, industry, cities and towns, . . . . . 49
- The State of Morelos—When created a State—Its boundaries—Area—Population—History—Principal cities and towns—Value of real estate, . . . . . 51
- The State of Nuevo Leon—Situation, boundary and area—Population, mountains, rivers—Census—Natural productions, fruits, vegetables and grain—Stock raising—Wild animals, birds, fish—Thermal waters, mines—Schools, principal cities and towns—Statistics, agricultural productions in 1878, . . . . . 52

- The State of Oaxaca—Situation, boundaries and area—Topographical aspect and climate—Rivers—Natural productions, zoology, mining—Population, principal cities and towns, President Juarez, . . . . . 55
- The State of Puebla—Boundaries and area—Population—Mountains, rivers, climate and natural productions—Mining, industry—Principal cities and towns . . . . . 56
- The State of Queretaro—Boundaries, area and climate—Rivers—Natural productions—Industry—Population—City of Queretaro, . . . . . 58
- The State of San Luis Potosi—Situation, boundaries and area—Climate—Mountains, rivers—Natural productions—Stock—Wild animals—Mines—Political divisions—Public instruction—The City of San Luis Potosi, its commerce—Other cities and towns—The Hacienda of Salado, . . . . . 59
- The State of Sinaloa—Situation, boundaries and area—Topographical aspect and climate—Rivers—Natural productions—Mining—Population—Principal cities and towns—The port of Mazatlan . . . . . 63
- The State of Sonora—Situation, boundary and area—Topographical aspect and climate—Rivers—Natural productions—Zoology—Mining—Political divisions—Population—Census—Indians—Principal cities and towns—The port of Guaymas, . . . . . 64
- The State of Tabasco—Boundaries and area—Climate—Water communications—Population, . . . . . 67
- The State of Tamaulipas—Boundaries and area—Climate—Rivers, lakes, mountains—Products, fruit trees, etc.—Stock-raising—Game—Mineral products—Territorial divisions—Principal cities and towns—Population—Schools—Public lands—Historical sketch, . . . . . 68

- The State of Tlaxcala—Situation, boundaries and area—
Topographical aspect—Lakes—Natural productions—Climate—Mining—Political divisions—Population—The City of Tlaxcala—Commerce—Census, . . . . . 73
- The State of Vera Cruz—When created—Boundaries and area —Population—Principal cities and towns—Natural productions—Mines, . . . . . 74
- The State of Yucatan—Boundaries—Etymology of the name
Yucatan—Principal cities and towns—Population—
Natural productions—Industry, . . . . . 76
- The State of Zacatecas—Situation, boundaries and area—Population—Configuration, topographical aspect and climate—Mountains—Natural productions—Minerals—Principal cities and towns—Census, . . . . . 77
- The Territory of Lower California, situation, boundaries and area—Topographical aspect and climate—Islands, capes, bays, ports—Natural productions—Mining—The capital,
La Paz, . . . . . 79
- Federal District of Mexico—Its boundaries—Area—Population—Political divisions—Real estate, etc.—The City of Mexico—Description of the City of Mexico—Its situation —Vegetation—Soil of the valley—Its foundation—Etymology of the word Mexico—Its population at the time of the conquest—Its buildings and institutions—Its monuments :
La Fuente del Salto del Agua, La Fuente de la Tlaxpana, La Plazuela de Santo Domingo, Iturbide market (ancient square of St. John, La Plazuela de Guardioliá, El Sagrario, Palacio Municipal (City Hall), Iturbide Hotel, or stage hotel (the ancient residence of the Emperor Iturbide)— National Theatre—Plaza Mayor (Main square)—The Cathedral of Mexico—The Walk of Buccareli—The College of Mines (where Gen. U. S. Grant, ex-President of the United States, received hospitality from the Mexican Gov-

- ernment while visiting Mexico)—El Paseo de la Viga—
The street of Roldan Bridge—Environs—Public educational institutions of the city—Description of the Sanctuary of the Holy Virgin of Guadalupe, patroness of Mexico, . . . . . 80
- History of mining in Mexico under Spanish rule—The Arizona bonanza and a title—The gold placers of Sonora—Que-bradilla produces great wealth—The Catorce mines and the viceroy—The mines of Guanajuato—The Zacatecas mines—Mammoth veins—Coinage of the mint in the City of Mexico—The product of La Valenciana—Until 1848 Mexico was the first country on the face of the earth for the product of precious metals—History of Mexican mines
—The discovery of the Patio process, or cold amalgamation process of working ores—Humboldt's opinion—Mr.
Dupont's opinion—Mints and assaying offices—Coinage—
American gold and silver production since 1848, . . . . . 96
- Catalogue of the principal mining districts situated in the different States of the Republic, and description of some of their principal mines, . . . . . 104
- State of Aguascalientes—Mines of magistral (this metal is only found in Mexico, and is indispensable to work certain classes of ore), . . . . . 104
- State of Chihuahua, one of the richest in minerals of the Republic—Catalogue of mining districts situated in said
State, giving the number of mines in each mining district (mineral), the names of the districts, in what canton they are situated, class of ores, and whether exploited or idle—date of the discovery of the principal mines in Chihuahua, names of mines classified according to their richness, . . . . . 105

	PAGE.
State of Coahuila—Number of mines worked at one time, their ores—San Juan de Guadalupe, Santa Rosa, Viezca, etc, . . . . .	112
State of Durango—The inexhaustible iron mountain Cerro del Mercado—Its discovery—Report of assays of the same, . . . . .	114
State of Guanajuato—The names of some of its principal mining districts, . . . . .	115
State of Guerrero—one of the richest in the Republic—number of mines in said State and names of some of its principal mining districts, . . . . .	115
State of Hidalgo—La Huasteca—some of its most important mineral districts—Jecker, the banker, who was the cause of the French intervention in Mexico, . . . . .	116
State of Jalisco—Description of its mining wealth—Statement showing the amount of coin produced by some of the mines in this great State—Table showing the mineral districts in the State, . . . . .	117
State of Mexico—Its mining wealth, . . . . .	119
State of Michoacan—Its most celebrated mines; their ores, . . . . .	120
State of Morelos—Some of its principal mines; their class of ores, . . . . .	121
State of Nuevo Leon—Its minerals—Names of some of the principal mining districts—Reports from official documents—Extract taken from the report of Lieutenant-Colonel Don Melchior Vidal de Lorca about the mines of this State in 1775—Extract of the report of Don Simon de Herrera about the mines of Nuevo Leon—Class of ores found at the Iguana mines, . . . . .	121
State of Oaxaca—Some of its mining districts, . . . . .	124
State of Puebla—But little of its mineral wealth is known, . . . . .	124

	PAGE.
State of Queretaro—Its mineral wealth—Variety of metals found in this State—Mines worked in 1881, . . . . .	125
San Luis Potosi—Great wealth of this State yet undeveloped—Its principal mining districts—Historical sketch of the Guadalcazar mining district—Historical notice of the mining district of Charcas—Mining district of Ramos—Mining district of Ojo Caliente—The names of some rich mines, such as la Nevada, la Pastora, San Pedro and la Ventura, situated on lands of the estate of San Rafael del Salado—Number of mines worked or idle in the State, . . . . .	126
State of Sinaloa—Metals produced by the mines in the State—Names of some of its principal mining districts—Number of known mines in the State, . . . . .	129
State of Sonora—Great reputation of this State for its mining wealth—Immense masses of virgin iron, rich copper mines, gold placers—Description of some of its principal mining districts—Statement showing the mines actually worked in the district of Magdalena, giving the number of mines in each mining district, names of mines, locality, hacienda or ranch, where situated, and name of municipality, . . . . .	130
State of Tamaulipas—Present state of mining industry in that State—Names of some of the mining districts and mines, . . . . .	136
State of Zacatecas—The first of the Republic for its mineral productions—Statement giving the names of the mining districts, and names of their mines, class of metals actually exploited in the State—Statement giving the names of the mining districts in said State actually paralyzed—Description of some of the principal mining districts, . . . . .	137

The States of Chiapas, Colima, Vera Cruz and Yucatan are classified among the poorest of Mexico for their mineral wealth. Some few mines are worked in each of them, . . .	146
Territory of Lower California—This large territory is rich in minerals—Number of mines and their class of ores in the municipalities of La Paz, San Antonio, Todos Santos, Santiago, San José del Cabo, Mulegé, Comondu and Santo Tomas—Stone Coal, different localities where it is known to exist in the Republic—Petroleum, different localities where it is known to exist in the Republic, . . .	147
American silver mining in Chihuahua—The Santa Eulalia Mining Company—The Cusihiuriachic mines—The Rich Mountain Mining Company—The Corralitas mines—The Batopilas mines—The Chihuahua Silver Mining Company—The consolidated mines of Hidalgo or Parral—The Hidalgo Mining Company—The Philadelphia Mining Company, . . .	150
Mining in Nuevo Leon—The Texas-Mexican Mining and Smelting Company—Organization, prospect and property of the company—The Rosario Mining Company, . . .	153
Railroads in Mexico—List of railroads in operation during the year 1880, . . .	156
The Vera Cruz Railroad, . . .	157
Table showing the railroad concessions granted by the Mexican Government from August, 1877, to February 3d, 1881, . . .	158
Sketch of some of the most important railroad charters granted by the Mexican Government to American companies, . . .	161
The International and Interoceanic Railway Company, . . .	162
The New York, Texas and Mexican Railroad (better known as Count Telfener's road), . . .	163
The Mexican National or Palmer-Sullivan Railroad, and its several divisions, . . .	164

The Mexican Pacific, . . .	165
Telegraphic lines in the Republic of Mexico, . . .	166
Weights and measures, . . .	168
Mexican land measures translated from the Ordinanzas de tierras y aguas , . . .	168
Table showing the old Mexican or Spanish land measure compared with the metrical system and our American acres, . . .	170
English weights and measures compared with the metrical system of weights and measures—Linear measures, superficial measures, measures of capacity, weights, . . .	171
Items of interest to importers of merchandise into the Republic of Mexico, . . .	173
Tariff of public lands in 1876, . . .	173
Abridged Mexican tariff on imports, . . .	175
New Tariff Law of June 25th, 1881, . . .	177
Late decree concerning the revenue, . . .	183
Naturalization laws, . . .	185
Abstract of the laws for the acquisition and ownership of real estate and mines, . . .	187
Synopsis of Mexican laws on inheritance, . . .	191
Information for persons desiring to purchase real estate or make contracts of any kind in Mexico, . . .	191
Statistics—Federal revenue for the fiscal year 1879-1880, . . .	192
Statement of the revenue and expenditures of the different States of the Republic of Mexico during the fiscal year 1879 to 1880, . . .	193
Statement showing the expenditures of the different branches of the Mexican Government for the fiscal year 1879-1880, . . .	194
The value of real estate . . .	195
Statement showing the value of real estate in each of the States of the Mexican Republic in 1881, . . .	196

Mining statistics—Products of the mines in Mexico from 1537 to 1821, and after the independence from Spain was achieved, . . . . .	197
Table showing the exports of timber to foreign countries from the Republic of Mexico for the fiscal year ending in 1875, . . . . .	197
Total imports from foreign countries into the Republic of Mexico during the fiscal year ending in 1875, . . . . .	198
Table indicating the cost of raising and gathering one arroba or twenty-five pounds of cotton in the divers States of the Republic, and its cost laid down at the nearest port of exports, . . . . .	198
Table showing the number of public schools in the various States and in the Territory of Lower California, the cost of their maintenance in the year 1880, . . . . .	200
Table showing the altitudes of some of the most important points in the Republic, taken from the best authorities on the subject, . . . . .	201
Mexican stamp duty (abridged), . . . . .	203
The Maguey plant, or agave americana , . . . . .	207
Itineraries of routes through the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, Nicaragua and Panama from the Atlantic side, . . . . .	210
From New Orleans to the port of La Ventosa, . . . . .	210
“ “ “ “ the Port of San Juan del Sur, . . . . .	210
“ “ “ “ Panama, . . . . .	210
“ New York, via Tehuantepec, to La Ventosa . . . . .	210
“ “ “ “ Nicaragua, to San Juan del Sur, . . . . .	210
“ “ “ “ Panama, to Panama, . . . . .	210
“ La Ventosa to San Francisco, . . . . .	210
“ San Juan del Sur to San Francisco, . . . . .	210
“ Panama to San Francisco, . . . . .	210

Route No. 1, from the city of San Antonio, Texas, to the city of Mexico, overland , . . . . .	210
Route No. 2, from Piedras Negras, in the State of Coahuila, to the town and old presidio of La Punta de Lampasas, in the State of Nuevo Leon — Distance, by way of the Alamo de los Borregos, 134 miles, . . . . .	211
Route No. 3, from San Antonio de La Punta de Lampasas, in Nuevo Leon, passing through Laredo—San Antonio to Laredo (by the wagon road), 170 miles, Laredo to La Punta, 79 miles, together 249 miles, . . . . .	212
Route No. 4, from the town of Lampasas to Villa Aldama, Salinas and Monterey; distance, 103 miles, . . . . .	213
Description of the city of Monterey, . . . . .	215
Route No. 5, from Piedras Negras, by way of Monclova, leaving out Santa Rosa and traveling the straightest and best road, where water and forage is found at all seasons of the year, 170 miles. From Monclova to Saltillo, 134 miles, . . . . .	217
Route No. 6, from the city of Saltillo, the capital of the State of Coahuila, to the city of San Luis Potosi, capital of the State of the same name, 266 miles, . . . . .	220
Route No. 7, from Queretaro to the city of Mexico, the capital of the Republic, 134½ miles, . . . . .	231
Distances, in Mexican leagues, from the City of Mexico to some of the principal cities of the Republic, . . . . .	234
Itinerary No. 1, from the City of Mexico to the cities of Queretaro, San Luis Potosi, Saltillo, Monterey and Matamoros, . . . . .	235
No. 2, from the City of Mexico to the port of Acapulco on the Pacific Ocean, . . . . .	236
No. 3, from the City of Mexico to Queretaro, Guadalajara, capital of the State of Jalisco, and the port of San Blas on the Pacific Ocean, . . . . .	236

No. 4, from the City of Mexico to the City of Morelia, capital of the State of Michoacan, . . . . .	238
No. 5, from the City of Mexico to the City of Oaxaca, capital of the State of the same name, . . . . .	238
No. 6, from the City of Mexico to the cities of Zacatecas and Durango, capitals of the States of the same names, . . . . .	239
No. 7, from the City of Mexico to the City of Culiacan, capital of the State of Sinaloa, . . . . .	240
No. 8, from the City of Mexico to Ures, the capital of the State of Sonora, . . . . .	241
No. 9, from the City of Mexico to the City of Chihuahua, capital of the State of Chihuahua, . . . . .	242
No. 10, from the City of Mexico to the Rio Grande, via Tula, Ciudad, Victoria and Guerrero—the straightest route to reach the Texas frontier, . . . . .	243
From the City of San Luis Potosi to the port of Tampico, . . . . .	244
Itinerary from San Luis Potosi to Victoria, in Tamaulipas, . . . . .	245
From Victoria to Soto Lamarina, . . . . .	246
From Victoria to Monterey, capital of the State of Nuevo Leon, . . . . .	246
From Saltillo to Zacatecas, . . . . .	247
From Piedras Negras, in the State of Coahuila, Mexico (opposite the town of Eagle Pass, Texas), to the Sierra Mojada, . . . . .	247
Itinerary from Saltillo, the present capital of the State of Coahuila, to the City of Durango, capital of the State of the same name, . . . . .	248
Fares of the general Mexican stage line—Regulations of the same line, . . . . .	249
Itinerary of the Ferrocarril Mexicano (Mexican railway) between Vera Cruz and the City of Mexico, . . . . .	250
Information to travelers, . . . . .	251
Mexican steamship line, . . . . .	251

Names of prominent merchants residing in Laredo, New Mexico, . . . . .	251
Names of prominent merchants residing in Monterey, . . . . .	251
Table giving the extent and value of some of the principal estates situated between the City of Saltillo and the City of Mexico, . . . . .	252

LORENZO CASTRO

General Business Agent
San Antonio, Texas

LORENZO CASTRO,

GENERAL BUSINESS AGENT,

San Antonio, Texas.

---

Thirty years' experience in the Real Estate Business in Texas and Mexico. Will furnish valuable information for profitable investment of capital in Mexico, where high rates of interest can be obtained.

Will locate or purchase lands and mines in any State of the Republic and give perfect titles and possession of the same.

Will investigate all titles and furnish abstracts of the same.

Will also prosecute the rights of legatees to property in Mexico.

Has now for sale valuable mining interests and several large productive Haciendas (estates) in the northern States of Mexico, varying in area from 25 to 200 leagues in one block.

Will also prosecute all kinds of claims against the Governments of the United States and Mexico.

Charges entirely conventional; full satisfaction guaranteed. Correspondence in English, Spanish and French solicited.

ADVERTISE IN
"LA REVISTA"

A Daily Newspaper, published at

MONTEREY,

State of Nuevo Leon, Republic of Mexico,

BY

DESIDERIO LAGRANGE.

The best Advertising Medium in the northern frontier States of Mexico. Circulation greater than any other Daily in the State of Nuevo Leon.

---

RUSSELL HOWARD,
COUNSELLOR AND ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Well versed in Spanish and Mexican Land Laws.
More than thirty years' practice in all U. S. Courts.

Office, SOLEDAD STREET, in the Devine Building,

CITY OF SAN ANTONIO, Bexar Co., TEXAS.

---

HARRISON & HARRISON,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Will attend promptly to any business entrusted to their care.

OFFICE IN THE DEVINE BUILDING, SOLEDAD ST.

CITY OF SAN ANTONIO, Bexar Co., TEXAS.

FRANCISCO ARMENDAIZ,

Plaza del comercio,

MONTEREY,

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

Dry Goods and Groceries,

MEXICAN HOME MANUFACTURES,

IMPORTER

of all kinds of Foreign Merchandise.

ALSO,

HAT AND LEATHER MANUFACTURERS.

Beside the above this house does a General Commission Business, receives orders for Importations and Exportations of all kinds of merchandise and produce. It also offers its services to its customers and the public in general for all commercial transactions in their various branches, and also for the purchase and sale of Stock, Agricultural and Industrial interests.

---

FREDERICO PALACIO,

Principal representative of the House at

MONTEREY, MEXICO.

