

might profitably be used by the high-school student. Lastly, under C, the teacher and advanced university student will find the necessary guidance in carrying on his work as far as he may feel inclined.

In the preparation of the present volume I am under special obligations to Miss Ellen Scott Davison, who greatly aided me in the quest for suitable material and in the translation, and to Miss Louise Ropes Loomis, Lecturer in Barnard College, who prepared portions of the bibliographies and also forwarded the translation. With the kind permission of my friends, Professors Cheyney and Munro, I have used some of the extracts which have already appeared in the Translations and Reprints, of which we three were the original editors. I have also included some of the pieces in Dr. Henderson's very useful Select Historical Documents of the Middle Ages, but I have frequently preferred a different rendering from his. I am also indebted to the translations in the Bohn series, although here, too, I have freely modified the wording in the interests of accuracy and clearness. I owe most of all, perhaps, to the admirable Geschichtschreiber der deutschen Vorzeit in clearing up the occasional obscurities of the mediæval chroniclers. My indebtedness to a considerable number of translators and editors is acknowledged in the list of citations which follows.

J. H. R.

HIGH MOWING, JAFFREY, N.H.,
September 1, 1904.

CONTENTS AND LIST OF CITATIONS

VOLUME I

CHAPTER I—THE HISTORICAL POINT OF VIEW

CHAPTER II—WESTERN EUROPE BEFORE THE BARBARIAN INVASIONS

	PAGE
I. Resemblances between Paganism and Christianity
1. Seneca on God's gifts to man	14
De beneficiis , Lib. iv, cc. 5-7, and Lib. i, c. 2; ed. Hosius (Teubner, 1900); trans. ¹ by Th. Lodge in the Temple Classics Series
2. Epictetus	15
Dissertationes (or Enchiridion), Book I, Chaps. 30 and 9; trans. from the Greek of Arrian by G. Long in the Bohn Library
3. The Thoughts of Marcus Aurelius	17
Book II, Chaps. 1-3; trans. from the Greek by G. Long in the Bohn Library
4. Important contrasts between Christianity and paganism	18
LECKY, History of European Morals , opening of Chap. IV
II. The Early Conception of a Universal Church
5. The Catholic Church as conceived by Cyprian	19
De catholicae ecclesiae unitate , cc. 3, 4, 5, 6, 10, and 14; Corpus scriptorum ecclesiasticorum Latinorum , III; trans. by R. E. Wallis in Library of Ante-Nicene Fathers, VIII
III. The Church and the Roman Emperors
6. Edict of Galerius (A.D. 311), which first granted toleration to the Christians	21
LACTANTIUS, De mortibus persecutorum , c. 24; Corpus script. eccl. Lat. XXVII, Fas. ii; trans. by William Fletcher in the Library of Ante-Nicene Fathers, XXII

¹ While I have freely availed myself of the assistance offered by translations, I have not hesitated to modify, or even frankly desert in some cases, the renderings which I mention in this list.

7. The edicts of Constantine and his successors relating to the Church in the Theodosian Code	PAGE 23
Codex Theodosianus , ed. Haenel, Lib. xvi: tit. i, 2 (A.D. 380); tit. ii, 2 (A.D. 319), 6 (A.D. 326), 9 (A.D. 349), 24 (A.D. 377), 16 (A.D. 361), 5 (A.D. 323), 4 (A.D. 321), 41 (A.D. 412); tit. v, 1 (A.D. 326), 3 (A.D. 372), 34 (A.D. 398), 66 (A.D. 435), 46 (A.D. 409)
IV. Comparison between the Lot of those within the Empire and those living among the Barbarians
8. Salvian's comparison of the Romans and barbarians	28
De gubernatione Dei , Lib. v, cc. 4 sq., Lib. iv, c. 14: Mon. Ger. Hist., Auc. ant. I
9. Conversation of Priscus with a Greek living among the barbarians (448)	30
PRISCUS PANITES, Historiarum fragmenta , in Müller, Fragmenta historicorum Graecorum , IV, 86 sq.; trans. by Bury, History of the Later Roman Empire , I, 218 sqq.
CHAPTER III—THE GERMAN INVASIONS AND THE BREAK-UP OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE
I. The Huns force the West Goths across the Danube
10. Description of the Huns by Ammianus Marcellinus	35
Rerum gestarum libri qui supersunt , Lib. xxxi, cc. 2-4 and 13; ed. Gardthausen (Teubner, 1874); trans. by C. D. Yonge in the Bohn Library
II. How the West Goths became Arians and Alaric took Rome
11. Jordanes on the conversion of the Goths and the sack of Rome	39
JORDANES, De origine actusque Getarum , cc. 25-31; ed. Mommsen, Mon. Ger. Hist., Auc. ant. V
12. St. Jerome on the destruction wrought by the barbarians	44
(a) Ep. ad Ageruchiam ; Migne, Patrologia Latina , XXII, cols. 1057 sq.; (b) Commentaria in Ezechielem , Preface to Lib. iii; Ibid. XXV, col. 79
13. Dill on the reports of the sack of Rome	45
ROMAN SOCIETY IN THE LAST CENTURY OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE, 309 sq.
III. Attila and the Huns
14. Priscus' description of the court of Attila	46
MÜLLER, Frag. hist. Graec. (as above, No. 9), IV, 85 and 91 sq.; Bury, I, 217 sqq.

IV. How Pope Leo saved Rome from Attila	PAGE 49
15. Prosper's account of the meeting of Leo and Attila
PROSPER TIRO, Epitoma chronicon , ad an. 450: Mon. Ger. Hist., Auc. ant. IX
16. Later account of Leo's intervention
VITA S. LEONIS PAPAE, Lib. i, c. 2; Acta sanctorum, April, II, 18
V. Clovis and the Franks
17. Gregory of Tours and his history of the Franks
HISTORIAE ECCLESIASTICAE FRANCORUM LIBRI X, Lib. ii, cc. 27, 29-31: Mon. Ger. Hist., SS. rer. Mer., I
CHAPTER IV—THE RISE OF THE PAPACY
I. The Bishop of Rome and the Headship of the Church
18. Irenæus' catalogue of the bishops of Rome
CONTRA HAERESES, Lib. iii, c. 3, §§ 2-3; Migne, Pat. Graec. VII, cols. 848 sqq.; trans. in Library of Ante-Nicene Fathers, V
19. Tertullian on the distinction of the Roman Church
(a) De praescriptione haereticorum , c. 36: Migne, Pat. Lat. II, cols. 9 sqq.; trans. in Library of Ante-Nicene Fathers, XV. (b) De Pudicitia , c. 21: Corpus script. eccl. Lat. XX; trans. in Library of Ante-Nicene Fathers, XVIII
20. Cyprian on the danger of appeals to Rome
AD CORNELIUM; (Ep. 54 or, in some editions, 59): Corpus script. eccl. Lat. III; trans. in Library of Ante-Nicene Fathers, VIII
21. Sixth canon of Nicæa
Mansi, Conciliorum collectio , II, 669 sqq.
22. Decretal of Siricius
c. xv, § 20: Mansi, III, 661, or Migne, Pat. Lat. LVI, col. 554
23. St. Jerome on the equality of the bishops
AD EVANGELIUM (Ep. 146): Migne, XXII, col. 1194
24. Sermon by Leo the Great on Peter's headship
(a) Sermones , IV: Migne, LIV, cols. 148 sqq. (b) Ad Anastasium episcopum Thessalonicensem (Ep. 14): Migne, LIV, col. 676
25. Edict of Valentinian recognizing the supremacy of the bishop of Rome
NOVELLAE COD. THEOD. II, Lib. iii, tit. xvi
26. Pope Gelasius on the superiority of the spiritual power
AD ANASTASIUM IMPERATOREM, c. 2: Migne, LVI, col. 633

II. Gregory the Great and his Times	PAGE
27. Milman's appreciation of Gregory the Great	73
History of Latin Christianity , Book III, Chap. 7
28. Conditions depicted in Gregory's letters	74
(a) Ad Leandrum episcopum Hispalensem (Ep. Lib. i, 43); Migne, LXXXVII, cols. 496 sq. (b) Homiliae in Evangelia , Lib. i, Homilia i; Migne, LXXXVI, col. 1078.
29. How a monk dared to have gold in his possession	76
GREGORIUS MAGNUS, Dialogorum libri IV, de vita et miraculis patrum Italicorum , Lib. iv, c. 55; Migne, LXXXVII, cols. 420 sq.
30. Extracts from Gregory the Great's Moralia	77
Moralium libri sive expositio in librum B. Job. (a) "Epistola Missoria," cc. 4 sq.; Migne, LXXV, cols. 514 sqq. (b) Lib. i, c. 16; Migne, LXXV, cols. 537 sq.; translated (very freely) in Library of the Fathers of the Holy Catholic Church , 3 vols., Oxford, 1844 sq.
31. Extracts from Gregory's Pastoral Charge	80
Regulae pastoralis liber , Pars ii, cc. 8 sq., and Pars iii, "Prologue"; Migne, LXXXVII. Good translation by Rev. H. R. Bramley, with Latin original on opposite pages, Oxford and London, 1874.

CHAPTER V—THE MONKS AND THE CONVERSION OF THE GERMANS

I. The Monastic Attitude of Mind

32. St. Jerome's plea for a life of solitude	86
Ad Heliodorum monachum , cc. 2 sq. (Ep. 14); Migne, XXII, cols. 548 sq.
33. Ideals of monasticism described by a Spanish monk	87
Saint Jean de la Croix, Vie et Œuvres , 1893, II, 94, cited by William James, The Varieties of Religious Experience , 304 sq.
34. A modern psychologist's analysis of asceticism	88
JAMES, The Varieties of Religious Experience , 298 sq. and 296 sq.

II. The Devil and his Wicked Angels

35. The Pagan gods, devils in disguise	90
GREGORY THE GREAT'S Dialogues (as above, No. 29), Lib. iii, c. 7; Migne, LXXXVII, cols. 229 sqq.
36. St. Gall and the demons	90
WETTINUS, Vita Galli confessoris , cc. 7 sq.; Mon. Ger. Hist., SS. rer. Mer. IV.
37. Martin, a hermit, withstands the terrors of the devil	92
GREGORY THE GREAT'S Dialogues (as above, No. 29), Lib. iii, c. 16; Migne, LXXXVII, col. 257

III. Purgatory, Hell, and Heaven

III. Purgatory, Hell, and Heaven	PAGE
38. Description of purgatory, hell, and heaven	93
BEDA, Historia ecclesiastica gentis Anglorum , Lib. v, c. 12; trans. by Giles' Beda, Complete Works in the original Latin with a new translation of the historical works , 1843-1844

IV. The Conversion of England, as described by Bede

39. Arrival in Kent of the missionaries sent by Gregory the Great	97
Bede (as above, No. 38), Lib. i, cc. 23 and 25
40. Instructions of Gregory the Great for the missionaries in England	100
Ibid. Lib. i, c. 30
41. The conversion of Northumbria	101
Ibid. Lib. ii, c. 13
42. Controversy between the Roman and Irish missionaries over the date of Easter	103
Ibid. Lib. iii, c. 25

V. Boniface and the Conversion of Germany

43. Boniface's commission from the pope	105
S. Bonifatii et Lulli epistolae : Mon. Ger. Hist., Epist. III, 258; also in Jaffé, Bibliotheca rerum Germanicarum , III, 62
44. Gregory II appoints Boniface presiding bishop in Germany	105
Ibid. Mon. Ger. Hist., 292; Jaffé, III, 103
45. Oath taken by Boniface to the pope	106
Ibid. Mon. Ger. Hist., 265; Jaffé, 76 sq.
46. How Boniface destroyed the oak of Thor	106
WILLIBALD, Vita Sancti Bonifatii , c. 6; Jaffé, Bib. rer. Ger. III, 452
47. How the monastery of Fulda was founded	107
Vita Sancti Sturmis abbatis , cc. 4-14; Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, II, 367 sqq.

CHAPTER VI—CHARLES MARTEL AND PIPPIN

I. The Koran

48. Passages from the Koran	116
Cc. 1, 2, 78, and 56; trans. by STANLEY LANE-POOLE, The Speeches and Table Talk of the Prophet Mohammad . Chap. II is from The Qur'an , trans. by E. H. Palmer, 2 vols., Oxford, 1880

	PAGE
II. How Pippin became King of the Franks
49. Weakness of the later Merovingian kings	120
EINHARD, Vita Karoli (as below, No. 53), c. 1
50. Pope Zacharias authorizes the coronation of Pippin	121
Annales Laurissenses minores , ad an. 750: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, I, 139
51. Coronation of Pippin by the pope	122
EINHARD, Annales , ad an. 753 sq.: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, I, 139
III. The Lombards, Pope Stephen and Pippin
52. Letter of Pope Stephen to Pippin	122
Codex Carolinus , Ep. 9: Mon. Ger. Hist., Epist. III, 498; Jaffé, Bib. rer. Ger. IV, 48 sqq.
CHAPTER VII—CHARLEMAGNE
I. Charlemagne, the Man
53. Charlemagne's personal appearance and habits	126
EINHARD, Vita Karoli Magni , cc. 22-25: Jaffé, Bib. rer. Ger. IV, 509 sqq.: Mon. Ger. Hist., octavo edition
II. Charlemagne and the Saxons
54. Charlemagne conquers the Saxons in order to convert them	129
Vita Sancti Sturmis (as above, No. 47), c. 22
55. The Rebellion of Widukind	129
EINHARD, Annales (as above, No. 51), ad an. 782
III. How Charlemagne was made Emperor
56. Charlemagne's coronation as emperor	131
EINHARD, Ibid. , ad an. 799-801
IV. Charlemagne's Way of raising Troops
57. The Heerbann, or fine for refusing to join the army	135
Capitulare Italicum : Mon. Ger. Hist., Capitularia regum Francorum, denuo edidit Alfredus Boretius, I, 205,—a new edition much superior to that first issued in the Monumenta by Pertz; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. VI, No. 5
58. Wealthy landholders required to go to the army in person	135
Capitulare missorum de exercitu promovendo , c. 1: Boretius (as above, No. 57), 137; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. VI, No. 5

	PAGE
59. Nature of the supplies for the army	135
Capitulare Aquisgranense , cc. 9 sq.: Boretius (as above, No. 57), 171; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. VI, No. 5
60. Summons to Abbot Fulrad to join the army	136
Karoli ad Fulradum abbatem epistola ; Boretius (as above, No. 57), 168; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. VI, No. 5
V. Charlemagne's Income from his Farms
61. Extracts from the Capitulary de Villis	137
Capitulare de villis : Boretius (as above, No. 57), 82 sqq.; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. III, No. 2
VI. Charlemagne's Ideals of Government
62. Extracts from the capitulary for the missi	139
Capitulare missorum generale : Boretius (as above, No. 57), 91 sqq.; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. VI, No. 5
VII. Charlemagne's Anxiety to improve Education
63. Charlemagne's letter on the dangers of ignorance	144
Karoli epistola de litteris colendis : Boretius (as above, No. 57), 79; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. VI, No. 5
64. Charlemagne commands the establishment of episcopal and monastery schools	145
Admonitio generalis , c. 72: Boretius (as above, No. 57), 59; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. VI, No. 5
CHAPTER VIII—THE DISRUPTION OF CHARLEMAGNE'S EMPIRE
I. The Northmen
65. Apollinaris Sidonius describes the Saxon pirates	150
Epistulae , Lib. viii, Ep. 6 (close): Mon. Ger. Hist., Auc. ant. VIII, 132 sq.; trans. by HODGKIN, Italy and her Invaders , II, 366 sq.
66. A Northman's baptism	151
MONACHUS SANGALLENSIS, De gestis Karoli imperatoris , c. 19: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, II, 761 sq.
67. Opening of The Story of Burnt Njal	152
The Story of Burnt Njal , translated from the Norse by Dasent, 2 vols., 1861
II. Struggles between Sons of Louis the Pious
68. Death of Louis the Pious	155
RUDOLFUS FULDENSIS, Annales , ad an. 840 sq.: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, I, 362 sqq.

69. The Northmen at Nantes 157
Annalium Bertinianorum pars secunda, ad an. 843: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, I, 439 sq.
- III. A Melancholy Glimpse of the Conditions in the Ninth Century
70. An extract from the Annals of Xanten 158
Annales Xantenses, ad an. 844 sqq.: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, II, 227 sqq.
- IV. How the Northmen harried Frankland and laid Siege to Paris
71. How the Northmen laid siege to Paris 163
Annales Vedastini, ad an. 882 sqq.: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, I, 529 sqq.
- CHAPTER IX—FEUDALISM
- I. The Older Institutions which serve to explain Feudalism
72. Grant of immunity to a bishop 171
 Rozière, Recueil générale des formules usitées dans l'empire des Francs du V^e au X^e siècle. 3 vols. 1850-1871. No. 16; Vol. I, 17. Trans.,—as well as the following numbers to 88 inclusive—by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. IV, No. 3
73. Grant of a vill with immunity to a layman 172
 Rozière, No. 147; Vol. I, 185
74. Land received as a beneficium from a monastery . . . 173
 Rozière, No. 350; Vol. I, 433
75. A Frankish formula of commendation 175
 Rozière, No. 43; Vol. I, 69
76. Formal acceptance of a follower by his lord 176
 Rozière, No. 8; Vol. I, 8
- II. The Granting of Fiefs
77. How an allodial tenure might be turned into a fief . . 176
 Quantin, Recueil de pièces du XIII^eme Siècle, No. 631, pp. 310 sq.
78. The count of Troyes grants a manor as a fief 177
 Ibid., No. 2, p. 1
79. Record of grant of a fief to a knight 178
Historia Monasterii de Abingdon, II, 135, Rolls Series
80. The count of Champagne grants a fief to a bishop . . 178
 Brussel, Usage des Fiefs, I, 3, note

81. Pons of Mont-Saint-Jean becomes the man of the countess of Champagne 178
 Quantin (as above, No. 77), No. 220, p. 101
82. How a knight accepted a money fief from the king of France 179
 BOUTARIC, Institutions militaires de la France, p. 121
- III. Ceremony of doing Homage and swearing Fealty
83. How the count of Flanders received the homage of his vassals 179
 GALBERT DE BRUGES, De multro, traditione, et occisione gloriosi Karoli comitis Flandriarum; ed. by Pirenne, p. 89: Collection de textes
84. The viscount of Carcassonne does homage to the abbot of St. Mary of Grasse 180
 Teulet, Layettes du Trésor des Chartes, No. 39; Vol. I, p. 36
85. Rules for homage and fealty established by St. Louis . 182
Établissements de St. Louis, II, c. 19; ed. by Viollet, II, 395
86. How a prelate threatened his vassals with excommunication 183
 Bouquet, Recueil des historiens des Gaules et de la France, X, 447 sq.
- IV. Mutual Duties of Vassal and Lord
87. Fulbert of Chartres explains the duties of lord and vassal 184
 Bouquet (as above, No. 86), X, 463
- V. Feudal Military Service
88. List of vassals summoned by the king of France in 1272 185
 Bouquet (as above, No. 86), XXIII, 753 sq. and 759 sq.
- VI. Failure of Feudalism to secure Order. The Truce of God
89. Bishop Stubbs' definition of ideal feudalism 187
Constitutional History of England, Chap. IX, § 93
90. The truce of God 187
 Mon. Ger. Hist., Leges, II, 55 sqq.; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. I, No. 2
- CHAPTER X—THE DEVELOPMENT OF FRANCE
- I. The Election of Hugh Capet
91. How Hugh Capet was chosen king 195
 RICHER, Historiarum libri IV, Lib. iv, cc. 11 sq.: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, III, 633 sq.

	PAGE
II. King Robert and his Unruly Vassals
92. King Robert and his troubles with his vassals	196
RAOUL GLABER, Francorum historiae libri V , iii, c. 2; ed. by Prou in Collection de textes, 1886, pp. 56 sq.
III. How Louis the Fat consolidated his Power
93. Suger's account of Louis the Fat and his vassals	198
Gesta Ludovici regis cognomento grossi , cc. 2, 3, 8, 23-25; ed. by Molinier in Collection de textes
IV. Philip Augustus and his Vassals
94. Philip suppresses a rebellion and extends the royal domain	206
RIGORD, Gesta Philippi II Augusti regis Francorum , cc. 9, 26-28; ed. by Delaborde, Soc. de l'hist. de Fr.
V. Philip Augustus and John of England
94a. How Philip Augustus took Normandy from John	209
RIGORD (as above, No. 94), cc. 138, 140-142
VI. St. Louis
95. Extracts from Joinville	213
JEAN, SIRE DE JOINVILLE, Histoire de Saint-Louis , texte original accompagné d'une traduction, par de Wailly, 2d ed., Paris, 1874, cc. 15 sq.; 47 sq. and 50; 6 and 12
CHAPTER XI—ENGLAND IN THE MIDDLE AGES
I. King Alfred's Interest in Learning
96. Alfred's introduction to his translation of the Pastoral Care	222
King Alfred's West-Saxon Version of Gregory's Pastoral Care ; ed. by Sweet (Early English Text Soc.), 1871, pp. 2 sqq.
II. The Battle of Hastings: English and Normans
97. Conduct of Harold and William in the battle of Hastings	224
WILLIAM OF MALMESBURY, De gestis regum Anglorum libri V , Lib. iii, §§ 241 sqq.; ed. by Stubbs, Rolls Series; trans. by Stevenson in The Church Historians of England , 1854; also in the Bohn Library
III. Rule of William the Conqueror
98. William orders Doomsday Book to be drawn up	229
The Anglo-Saxon Chronicle , ad an. 1185 and 1187; ed. with an introduction by Benj. Thorpe, Rolls Series, II, 186 and 188 sqq.

	PAGE
IV. How the Great Charter was Won
99. John and his barons	231
ROGER OF WENDOVER, Chronica sive Liber qui dicitur Flores historiarum , ad an. 1215; ed. by Hewlett in Rolls Series; trans. by Giles in the Bohn Library
V. Principal Provisions of the Great Charter
100. Principal articles of Magna Charta	233
Stubbs, Select Charters and Other Illustrations of English Constitutional History , 8th ed., 296 sqq.; trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. I, No. 6.
VI. Writs of Summons to the Model Parliament
101. Summonses to bishops, barons, and representatives of the towns and shires	239
Stubbs, Select Charters , 484 sqq.; trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. I, No. 6
CHAPTER XII—GERMANY AND ITALY IN THE TENTH AND ELEVENTH CENTURIES
I. The Times of Henry I and Otto the Great
102. Germany in the early tenth century	245
Continuatio Reginonis Trevirensis , ad an. 907 sqq.; Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, I, 614 sqq.
103. Election of Otto the Great	249
WIDUKIND, Res gestae Saxonicae , Lib. ii, cc. 1 sq.; Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, III, 437 sq.
II. Rome and the Papacy in the Time of Otto the Great
104. Degradation of the papacy in the tenth century	250
BENEDICTUS SANCTI ANDREAE MONACHUS, Chronicon , cc. 30 sqq.; Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, III, 714 sqq.
III. Liutprand and his Book of Retribution
105. Liutprand explains why he wrote his book	256
Antapodosis , Lib. i, c. 1, and Lib. iii, c. 1: Mon. Ger. Hist., octavo ed.
IV. Bruno, the Ideal of a Scholar in the Tenth Century
106. Extract from Ruotger's Life of Bruno	259
RUOTGER, Vita Brunonis , selections from cc. 4-10 and 30: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, IV, 255 sqq.

CHAPTER XIII — THE CONFLICT BETWEEN
GREGORY VII AND HENRY IV

- I. The Early Years of Henry IV PAGE
107. The early part of Henry IV's reign 266
EKKEHARD, Chronicon universale, ad an. 1057 sqq.: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, VI, 198 sqq.
- II. The Issue between the Pope and the Emperor in the Matter of Investiture
108. Conference at Châlons in regard to investitures . . . 272
Suger (as above, No. 93), c. 9
- III. Gregory VII's Conception of the Pope's Prerogatives
109. The Dictatus of Gregory VII 274
Gregorius VII, Registrum, Lib. ii, No. 55 a: Jaffé (Bib. rer. Ger., No. 43), II, 174 sqq., and in the convenient Monumenta Germaniae Historica Selecta, ed. by Doeberl, III, p. 17
- IV. Origin of the Troubles between Gregory VII and Henry IV
110. Decree forbidding lay investitures 275
Ibid. Lib. vi, 5b, and vii, 14a: Jaffé, II, 332 and 398 sq.; Doeberl, III, 16 sq. [I am somewhat indebted here, as well as in the following numbers to 117 inclusive, to the translation in Henderson's Select Historical Documents]
111. Gregory's letter upbraiding Henry for neglecting the papal decrees 276
Ibid. Lib. iii, No. 10: Jaffé, II, 218 sqq., and Doeberl, III, 18 sq.
112. Henry's violent reply to Gregory 279
Mon. Ger. Hist., Leges, II, 47, and Doeberl, III, 24 sqq.
- V. Gregory's Deposition of Henry IV. Henry's Penance at Canossa
113. First deposition and excommunication of Henry IV . 281
Register of Gregory VII (as above, No. 109), Lib. iii, No. 10a: Jaffé, II, 223 sq., and Doeberl, III, 26
114. Gregory's account of Henry's penance at Canossa . . 282
Ibid. Lib. iv, No. 12: Jaffé, II, 256 sqq., and Doeberl, III, 33 sqq.

VI. The Pope explains the Supremacy of the Spiritual Power

115. Letter of Gregory to Bishop Hermann of Metz . . . 284
Contra illos qui stulte dicunt imperatorem excommunicari non posse a Romano pontifice, Ibid. Lib. viii, No. 21: Jaffé, II, 453 sqq., and Doeberl, III, 40 sqq. The whole letter may be found translated in Henderson's Select Documents

VII. The Formal Settlement of the Question of Investiture

116. A proposed plan to keep the clergy out of politics . . 290
Paschalis II privilegium primae conventionis: Mon. Ger. Hist., Leges, II, 68 sq., and Doeberl, III, 56 sqq.
117. Concordat of Worms 292
(a) Privilegium Calixti pape secundi: Mon. Ger. Hist., Leges, II, 75 sq., and Doeberl, 59 sq. (b) Preceptum Henrici quarti [V] imperatoris, Doeberl, III, 60 sqq., as published in the Mittheilungen des Instituts für Oesterreichischen Geschichte, VI, 105 sqq.

CHAPTER XIV — THE HOHENSTAUFEN
EMPERORS AND THE POPES

I. The German Cities begin to take a Hand in Politics

118. How Cologne fought Henry V 296
Chronica regia Coloniensis, ad an. 1114 and 1187: ed. by Waitz in Mon. Ger. Hist., octavo ed., pp. 53 sqq. and 136
119. Situation of the towns in the Netherlands 300
REINER, Annales ad an. 1203 and 1212: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, XVI, 656 sq. and 664

II. Otto of Freising's Account of the Italian Cities

120. Emperor Frederick's letter to Otto of Freising . . . 302
OTTO OF FREISING, Gesta Friderici (at opening): Mon. Ger. Hist., octavo ed., p. 1
121. Otto's description of the Lombard towns 303
Ibid. Lib. ii, cc. 13 and 13b: octavo ed., pp. 13 sqq.

III. Struggle over the Throne between Philip and Otto

122. How the rivals, Philip and Otto, were elected 307
Chronica regia Coloniensis, ad an. 1198: octavo ed., 162 sqq.

CHAPTER XV—THE CRUSADES

I. Pope Urban's Address at Clermont

123. Urban's speech at Clermont 312

ROBERTUS MONACHUS, Historia Iherosolytana, Lib. i, cc. 1 sq.; Recueil des historiens des croisades, Historiens occidentaux, III, 727 sqq. The extract in note is from FULCHER OF CHARTRES, Historia Iherosolytana, Lib. i, c. 3; Ibid. p. 324; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. I, No. 2

II. The First Crusade

124. Ekkehard on the opening of the First Crusade . . . 316

EKKEHARD (as above, No. 107), ad an. 1099: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, VI, 211 sqq.

125. Anna Comnena on the bad manners of the crusaders . 320

Michaud, Bibliothèque des croisades, III, 393 sq.

III. Campaigns in Palestine, from the Letters of the Crusaders

126. Stephen of Blois to his wife 321

D'ACHERY, Spicilegium, 2d ed., III, 430 sq.; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. I, No. 4

127. Godfrey of Bouillon and his companions to the pope . 325

Annales Sancti Disibodi (to wit, the monastery of Disenberg near Mayence), ad an. 1100: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, XVII, 17 sq.; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. I, No. 4

IV. St. Bernard and the Second Crusade

128. St. Bernard exhorts the people to take arms against the infidel 330

Epist. (No. 363), ad orientales Franciae clerum et populum: Migne, CLXXXII, cols. 564 sqq.; trans. by EALES, Life and Works of St. Bernard, II, 906 sqq.

129. St. Bernard blamed for the outcome of the crusade . . 334

GAUFRIDUS, Vita S. Bernardi Clarvallensis, Lib. iii, c. 2: Acta sanctorum, August, Vol. IV, 298; Migne, CLXXXV, cols. 308 sq.

V. A Holy Pilgrim

130. The pilgrimage of Udalrich to Jerusalem 336

Vita prior S. Udalrici prioris Cellensis: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, XII, 252

VI. Inducements offered to the Crusaders

131. Privileges granted by Eugenius III (1146) 337

OTTO OF FREISING, Gesta Friderici, Lib. i, c. 35: Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, XX, 371; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. I, No. 2

132. Privileges granted by Innocent III (1215) 338

Mansi, Conciliorum collectio, XXII, 1057

VII. A Glimpse of the Court of the Eastern Emperor

133. Luitprand's account of his reception in Constantinople . 340

Antapodosis, Lib. vi, cc. 5-9: Mon. Ger. Hist., octavo ed.

CHAPTER XVI—THE MEDIÆVAL CHURCH AT ITS HEIGHT

I. The Preëminence of the Church

134. The bull Unam Sanctam of Boniface VIII (1302) . . . 346

Text based upon the papal register given by Mury, Revue des questions historiques, XLVI, 255 sq.

II. The Seven Sacraments

135. An account of the seven sacraments by Eugenius IV (1438) 348

From the bull Exultate Deo, Denzinger, Enchiridion symbolorum et definitionum, pp. 201 sqq.

III. Tales illustrating the Miraculous Power of the Sacraments

136. Christ is seen in the hands of a priest 355

CÆSAR OF HEISTERBACH, Dialogus miraculorum, Dist. ix, c. 28; ed. by Strange, 2 vols., 1851, Vol. II, 186; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 4

137. Bees construct a church for the host 355

Anecdotes historiques, Légendes et Apologues tirés du Recueil inédit d'Étienne de Bourbon; ed. Lecoy de la Marche, 1877, No. 317, pp. 266 sq. (in the publications of the Soc. de l'hist. de Fr.); trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 4

138. Through confession a forgotten prayer is erased from the devil's register 356

STEPHEN OF BOURBON (as above, No. 137), No. 176, pp. 155 sq.

- PAGE
139. The Virgin saves the reputation of an erring matron and monk 357
The Exempla of Jacques de Vitry; ed. by T. F. Crane; pub. by the Folk Lore Society, 1890, No. cclxxxii, pp. 117 sqq.; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 4
- IV. The Privilege of Benefit of Clergy
140. How a clergyman might be saved from the gallows by reading a line 359
Philobiblon of Richard of Bury, c. iv; ed. and trans. by E. C. Thomas, 1889, pp. 173 sqq.
- V. How the Churches and Monasteries were Supported
141. The revenue of a parish church 361
 Bibliothèque de l'école des chartes, XXIV, 467
142. Manors given to the monastery of Zwifalt 362
 ORTLIEB, De fundatione monasterii Zwivildensis, Lib. ii, c. 5; Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, X, 74 sq.
143. The family of the monastery of Zwifalt 363
 Ibid. Lib. ii, c. 9; Pertz, pp. 77 sq.
- VI. Tales illustrating the Mediæval Attitude towards Heretics
144. The body of a burned heretic turns into toads 364
 LUKE, bishop of Tuy, De altera vita, Lib. iii, c. 15; in Magna bibliotheca veterum patrum; ed. of 1688, XIII, 283
145. Two heretics work miracles with the devil's aid 365
 CÆSAR OF HEISTERBACH (as above, No. 136), Dist. v, c. 18, Vol. I, 269 sqq.; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 4

CHAPTER XVII—HERESY AND THE FRIARS

I. Denunciations of the Evil Lives of the Clergy

146. The Revelation of Goliath the Bisshoppe 371
The Latin poems attributed to Walter Mapes, ed. Thomas Wright (Camden Soc. Pub.), London, 1841, pp. 271 sqq.
147. Walther von der Vogelweide on the practices of the popes 375
 Trans. by LEA, History of the Inquisition, Vol. I, Chap. I
148. A troubadour's description of the abuses in the Church 375
 Ibid.

- II. Report of the Habits of the Norman Clergy PAGE
149. Habits of the Norman Clergy in the Thirteenth Century 378
 EUDES RIGAUD, Regestrum visitationum archiepiscopi Rothomagensis, Rouen, 1847, 4to, pp. 35, 245, 305, and 159
- III. The Waldensian and Albigensian Heretics
150. Waldo of Lyons 380
Ex chronico universali anonymi Laudunensis, s. a. 1173; Mon. Ger. Hist., Pertz, XXVI, 447 sq.
151. Description of the Albigenses 381
 BERNARD OF GUI, Practica inquisitionis heretice pravitatis; ed. Douais, Pars V, c. 1, § 4
- IV. The Efficacy of the Sacraments in Polluted Hands
152. The efficacy of the sacraments in the hands of bad priests 383
 PILCHDORFFIUS, Contra Waldenses, cc. xvi-xvii; in Maxima bibliotheca patrum (1677), XXV, 281 sq.
- V. Attitude of the Civil Government toward Heretics
153. Provisions of laws of Frederick II concerning heretics . 385
Historia diplomatica Friderici secundi; ed. Huillard-Bréholles, Tome IV, Pt. I, pp. 5 sq.
- VI. Life and Character of St. Francis
154. How St. Francis undertook his mission 387
 THOMAS OF CELANO, Vita prima, Book I, cc. ii-iv; Acta sanctorum, October, Vol. II, pp. 685 sqq.
155. St. Francis preaches to the birds 391
 Ibid. c. vi, p. 669
156. The will of St. Francis 392
Acta sanctorum, October, Vol. II, pp. 663 sqq.; trans. in Sabatier, Life of St. Francis of Assisi, 337 sqq.

CHAPTER XVIII—THE PEOPLE IN COUNTRY AND TOWN

I. The Manor and its People

157. Official description of a manor belonging to Peterborough Abbey 399
Liber niger monasterii S. Petri de Burgo, in Chronicon Peterburgense, pp. 160 sq. (Camden Soc. Pub.); trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. III, No. 5

	PAGE
158. A manor in Sussex	400
Customals of Battle Abbey , pp. 17 sqq. (Camden Soc. Pub.); trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. III, No. 5
159. Description of an English manor house	404
Historical MSS. Commission Reports, 9, I, pp. 35 sq. ; trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. III, No. 5
160. Freeing a serf	405
DUGDALE, Monasticon , I, 394; trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. III, No. 5
II. The Mediæval Town
161. Customs of the town of Chester	406
Domesday Book , I, 262, b; Stubbs, Select Charters , 83 sq. ; trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 1
162. Opening of charter granted to Lincoln	408
Rymer, Foedera , I, 40; Stubbs, Select Charters , 158 sq. ; trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 1
163. Charter granted to Chester	408
GROSS, Gild Merchant , II, 140; trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 1
164. Articles of the spurriers of London	409
RILEY, Memorials of London , pp. 226 sqq. ; trans. by Cheyney, Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 1
165. Rules of the guild of white-tawyers	411
Ibid. pp. 232 sqq.
III. The Hanseatic League
166. Otto II promises protection to the merchants of Magdeburg (975)	412
Hansisches Urkundenbuch, ed. Höhlbaum, Halle, 1876, I, 1, No. 1
167. Alliance between Münster, Dortmund, Soest, and Lippstadt (1253)	413
Ibid. I, 164 sq. , No. 460
168. Agreement between London and Hansa towns (1282)	414
Ibid. I, 308 sqq. , No. 902
IV. Knights, Burghers, and Farmers
169. Knights and burghers in the thirteenth century	416
WOLFRAM VON ESCHENBACH, Wilhelm von Orange , modern German version by San Mante, Halle, 1873
170. Farmer Helmbrecht	418
WERNHER, Helmbrecht , Haupt's Zeitschrift für deutsches Alterthum , IV; Freitag's version translated by G. L. Burr and privately printed

V. Maltreatment of the Jews

	PAGE
171. Expulsion of the Jews from France	426
RIGORD (as above, No. 94), cc. 6, 12, 13, 15, and 16

CHAPTER XIX—THE CULTURE OF THE MIDDLE AGES

I. The Development of Modern Languages

172. An example of Anglo-Saxon	431
Anglo-Saxon Chronicle (as above, No. 98), ad an. 1068
173. English of the thirteenth century	432
The Story of Genesis and Exodus : an early English song (ca. A.D. 1250), ed. by Morris (Early Eng. Text Soc.)
174. Comparison of the various stages in the development of French	433
Histoire de la langue et littérature française , publiée sous la direction de Petit de Julleville, I, lxxvii
175. A few lines of Provençal	434
From a metrical romance, Flamenca , written in the first half of the thirteenth century: LANGLOIS, La Société française au 13ième siècle , p. 157
176. The ideals of the troubadours	434
SMITH, J. H., The Troubadours at Home , I, 150 sq.
177. A troubadour's song by Arnaut de Marueilh	435
Ibid. I, 169 sq.
178. The troubadours' creed, from Sordel	436
Ibid. I, 269 sq.
179. A song by Vidal	436
Ibid. I, 302
180. A song by Bernard de Ventadorn	437
Ibid. II, 162
181. A song by Walther von der Vogelweide	437
Lays of the Minnesingers ; ed. by Edg. Taylor, London, 1825, pp. 204 sq.

II. Mediæval Natural Science

182. Extracts from Alexander of Neckam	439
De naturis rerum , Lib. i, cc. 23 and 78; Lib. ii, c. 98; ed. by Thomas Wright (Rolls Series), pp. 71, 122 sq. , and 183
183. Mediæval ideas of the earth and stars	441
Popular Treatises on Science written during the Middle Ages in Anglo-Saxon, Anglo-Norman, and English ; ed. by Thomas Wright, London, 1841

	PAGE
184. The pelican and its habits	442
Ibid. pp. 115 sq.
185. Of fauns, cyclops, etc.	443
BARTHOLOMEW ANGLICUS, De proprietatibus rerum , as selected and modernized by STEELE, Mediæval Lore , London, 1893, pp. 128 sq. and 134 sq.
III. Historical Knowledge in the Middle Ages
186. How the Merovingian kings sprang from the Trojans	445
RIGORD (as above, No. 94)
IV. Abelard and the Universities
187. Abelard's popularity as a teacher	447
MCCABE, Abelard , New York, 1901, 82 sq.
188. Abelard's autobiography	447
ABAILARDUS, P., Opera ; ed. V. Cousin, Paris, 1849-1859, 2 vols.; Vol. I (first letter)
189. Abelard's Yea and Nay	450
PETRUS ABELARDUS Sic et Non ; ed. Henke et Lindenköhl, Marburg, 1851. (Not complete as given in Cousin's Opera inedita of Abelard)
190. Privileges granted to students by Frederick Barbarossa	452
Habita of Frederick I: Mon. Ger. Hist., Leges, II, 114; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 3
191. The system of lecturing at Paris	453
MCCABE (as above, No. 187), 79 sq.
192. Student life at Paris	454
JACQUES DE VITRY, Historia occidentalis , Lib. ii, c. 7; trans. by Munro in Tr. and Rp. Vol. II, No. 3
V. Supremacy of Aristotle in the Mediæval Universities. Scholasticism
193. Averroës on Aristotle's greatness	456
AVERROES, introduction to his edition of Aristotle's Physics
194. Aquinas and his work	458
RASHDALL, History of the Mediæval Universities , I, 365 and 367
VI. Roger Bacon and the Beginning of Modern Experimental Science
195. Roger Bacon's eulogy of Peter of Maricourt	460
Opus Tertium , c. cxliii; Opera quaedam hactenus inedita ; ed. by Brewer in the Rolls Series, 1859, pp. 46 sq.

	PAGE
196. Bacon prophesies marvelous progress in science	461
Epistola fratris Rogerii Baconis de secretis operibus artis et naturæ, et de nullitate magiæ ; Brewer's ed., 523 sqq.

CHAPTER XX—THE HUNDRED YEARS' WAR

I. Froissart's Account of the Battle of Crécy

197. The great battle between the French and the English	466
FROISSART, Chroniques , cc. 128 sqq.; trans. based upon that of Lord Berners—made in the time of Henry VIII —given in the Globe ed. of The Chronicles of Froissart , ed. by G. C. Macaulay, pp. 102 sqq.

II. How King John of France was captured at Poitiers

198. The capture of King John	470
Ibid. cc. 164 and 168; Globe ed., pp. 128 sq. and 131

III. Devastation wrought by the Hundred Years' War

199. Sack of Limoges (1370)	472
FROISSART (as above, No. 197), c. 283; Globe ed., p. 201
200. How the count of Arundel burned a town	474
(a) DENIFLE, La désolation des églises, monastères et hôpi- taux en France , 1897, I, 27, No. 95. (b) Ibid. I, 275, No. 600
201. Conditions in the time of Charles VII	474
THOMAS BASIN, Histoire de Charles VII et de Louis XI , in Denifle, op. cit. I, 514 sq., No. 999

IV. The Vision of Piers the Plowman

202. Extracts from Piers Plowman	475
LANGLAND, Vision of Piers Plowman , passus vi, v, vii; done into modern English by Miss Kate M. Warren, Lon- don, 1899

V. Charles the Bold of Burgundy and the Swiss

203. Charles the Bold and the Swiss	477
PHILIP DE COMMINES, Mémoires , Liv. vi, c. 12, and Liv. v, c. 2; trans. in Bohn Library, II, 84 sq., I, 303 sqq., and 311 sq.

VI. Louis XI of France

204. Character and troublous death of Louis XI	481
Ibid. Liv. vi, c. 12, and c. 11; Bohn trans. II, 80 sq., 70 sq., and 75 sqq.

CHAPTER XXI—THE POPES AND THE COUNCILS

- I. Might the Civil Government tax the Church Property? PAGE
205. The bull Clericis Laicos 488
Rymer's Foedera (ed. of 1727), II, 706 sq.
- II. Marsiglio of Padua and his Defender of Peace
206. Analysis of the Defensor pacis 491
Defensor pacis, Lib. iii and Lib. ii, c. 16 (end), in Goldast, Monarchia Romani imperii, etc., 1611-1614, Tom. II
- III. Wycliffe's Attack on Pope and Clergy
207. Wycliffe on the evil state of the clergy 497
Select English Works of John Wycliffe; ed. by Thomas Arnold, Clarendon Press, 1869-1871, 3 vols.: I, 208 sq.; II, 30 sq.
208. Wycliffe on auricular confession, etc. 499
Ibid. II, 87 sq. and 169 sq.
209. Statement of the views of Wycliffe's followers 500
Ibid. II, 457 sqq.
- IV. The Popes at Avignon. Origin of the Great Schism
210. Letter of Petrarch's describing the papal court at Avignon 502
PETRARCHA Opera omnia, Basel, 1581,—"Epistolae sine titulo," V
211. Beginning of the schism in holy Church 504
FROISSART (as above, No. 197), cc. 326 sq.; Globe ed., 207 sqq.
212. Nicholas of Clamanges on the three chief vices in the Church 508
Von der Hardt, Magnum Constantiense concilium, I, Pt. III, pp. 7 and 88
213. How corruption spread from the prelates to the lower clergy 510
DIETRICH VRIE, Ibid. Tom. I, pp. 104 sq.
- V. The Council of Constance
214. The decree Sacrosancta 511
Von der Hardt (as above, No. 212), Tom. IV, p. 98
215. The decree Frequens 512
Ibid. Tom. IV, p. 98 (1436)
216. List of abuses discussed at Constance 513
Ibid. Tom. IV (1452)

CHAPTER XXII—THE ITALIAN CITIES AND THE RENAISSANCE

- I. The Italian Despots PAGE
217. Machiavelli's advice to despots 516
Il Principe, cc. 13, 15, 17; trans., among other places, in Morley's Universal Library
- II. Humanism
218. Dante and the great writers of Greece and Rome . . . 520
Divine Comedy, canto iv (close): trans. by C. E. Norton
219. Dante's defense of Italian 522
Convito, Lib. i, c. 11; ed. by Moore; trans. (badly) in Morley's Universal Library; better by Miss Katharine Hillard
220. Dante's account of his sad life 524
Ibid. Lib. i, c. 3
221. Petrarch's description of himself 524
Epistola ad posteros: Epistolae de rebus familiaribus et variae; ed. by Fracassetti, Vol. I; trans. in ROBINSON AND ROLFE, Petrarch, 59 sqq. and 63
222. Petrarch's wide reputation 526
Ibid. Ep. Fam., Lib. xiii, 7: Robinson and Rolfe, 165 sq.
223. Petrarch copies a work of Cicero 527
Ibid. Ep. Fam., Lib. xviii, 12: Robinson and Rolfe, 275 sqq.
224. Founding of the Vatican Library by Nicholas V 529
VESPASIANO, Vite di uomini illustri del secolo XV, Life of Nicholas V, cc. 25 sq.; trans. by Whitcomb, Literary Source-Book of the Italian Renaissance
225. How Cosimo de' Medici founded a library 530
Ibid. Life of Cosimo, cc. 12 sqq.
- III. The Artists of the Renaissance
226. Cellini and the art-loving pope, Clement VII 532
Vita da lui medesimo scritta, Lib. i, cc. 43 sq. and 51; trans. by Thos. Nugent, 2 vols., 1812; also by Symonds, Roscoe, and others
227. Remarkable versatility of Leonardo da Vinci 535
VASARI Vite de più eccellenti pittore, etc.; trans. by Mrs. Foster, Bohn Library, II, 366 sqq.
228. Kindly disposition of Raphael 536
Ibid. III, 61 sq.
229. Michael Angelo and the popes: his character and aims 537
Ibid. V, 253, 257 sq., 293, 312 sq., and 335
230. Michael Angelo's fiery impetuosity 541
VIGNERO, as quoted by Mrs. Foster, V, 242, note.