

FOUR

be/am/is/are/

do go
eat
fall
drive
write ride
give break
wake take speak
draw
fly
wear
show
see swim
sing
ring
begin come run lend send sit get buy
bring teach catch fight
say stand
tell hear meet
read

was/were

did went ate fell drove wrote rode gave broke woke took spoke drew flew wore showed saw swam sang rang began came ran lent
sent sat
got bought brought taught caught fought
said stood told heard
met
read

been done

gone
eaten fallen driven written ridden
given broken
woken taken spoken drawn flown
worn shown seen swum
sung
rung
begun
come
run
lent
sent sat gotten bought brought taught
caught
fought
said
stood
told
heard
met
read

LESSON FIVE

STRUCTURES

Paul has phoned the Newman's house twice.
There's a pretty girl standing beside the newsstand.
I've come to take you home.

THE ENCOUNTER

Paul Redford is standing inside the airport in Miami. The Dallas plane arrived thirty minutes ago. Everybody on it, except Paul, has left the airport now. Paul is waiting for his father's friend, John Newman. He doesn't see anybody like him. He saw Mr. Newman on a picture his father showed him once. Paul remembers him as a tall men with curly hair.

Paul has phoned the Newman's house twice, but nobody answered. He has been to the information desk three times, but nobody has asked for him. He has the Newman's address, so he can take a taxi to their house. First he walks to the newsstand to buy a postcard to send his girl-friend in Ottawa. There is a pretty girl standing beside the stand looking outside the window, and now she has seen Paul. She has never met him before, but Mr. Redford gave her a description of him: "a tall boy with a guitar"

"Excuse me. Are you Paul Redford?"
 "Yes, I am".

"Hello, I'm Janet Newman. I've come to take you home. Dad and my brother went fishing, so they couldn't come.

Answer these questions orally.

- How did Paul come to Miami?
- When did the plane arrive?
- Has everybody on the plane left the airport?
- Who's Paul waiting for?
- What's Mr. Newman like?
- Has Paul phoned the Newman's house?
- Did anybody answer?
- How many times has Paul been to the information desk?
- Has anybody asked for him?
- Does Paul have the Newman's address?
- Why is Paul buying a postcard?
- Who's looking at the Dallas plane?
- Has Janet ever met Paul?
- Can she recognize him?
- Where are Janet's father and brother?

PRONUNCIATION:

rule	music	carry
ultimate	news	am
cook	union	matter
put	using	marry
stood	you	Parry
good

Repeat the sentences:

Paul has phoned their house twice.
 There's a newsstand outside and there's a young girl standing beside it.
 I've come to take you home.
 What do you think of their fishing boat?

Oral Practice:

1. Repeat after the teacher, and then practise:

I've come to the movies twice this week.
 My sister's been to the theatre three times this week.

Practise with:

I	flown	once	this week.
My sister	been to	twice	today.
The teacher	danced	three times	this year.
My friend	sailed	four times	this month.
The students	traveled
We	driven
	ridden phoned asked
	taken

2. Ask and answer:

Have you ever been to Miami?
 No, I haven't, but I've been to Colorado.

When did you go there?
 In January last year.

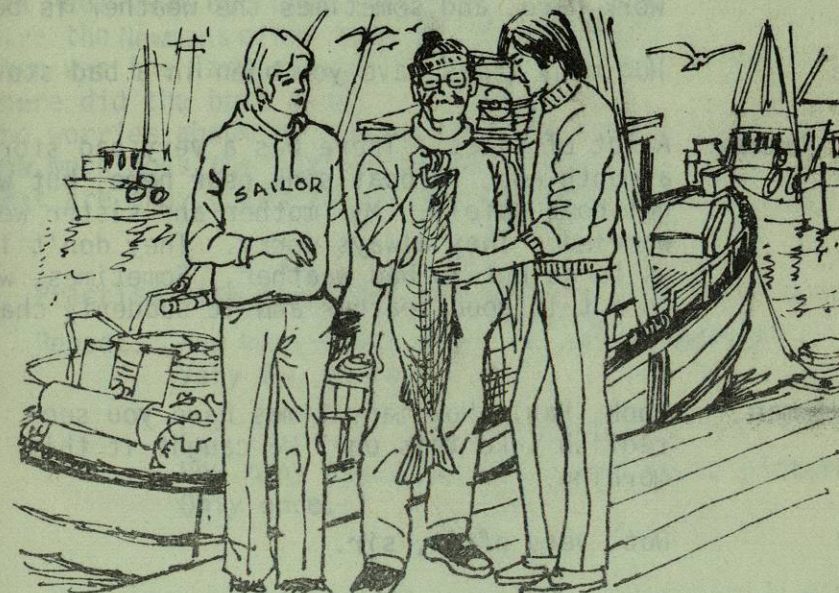

Now practise with the names of cities, towns, places, etc.

last week
 two years ago
 a month ago
 several days ago
 last year
 yesterday.

and:

many times
 only once
 never
 (and so on)

THE FISHING TRIP

Mr. Newman: Paul, have you seen our new boat?
 Paul: Yes, sir. I think it's wonderful. Are you going out again soon?
 Peter Newman: Yes, come with us on our next trip.
 Paul: Thank you very much. I like the sea.
 Peter Newman: Do you like to eat fish?
 Paul: Yes, I like it very much. You fish redfish and I'll sure eat it.

Mr. Newman: Have you ever been out on a boat, Paul?

Paul: Yes, I sailed a lot in Galveston, Texas.

Mr. Newman: It's different on a fishing boat. You must work hard, and sometimes the weather is bad.

Paul: How many times have you been in a bad storm?

Peter Newman: A lot of times. There was a very bad storm a month ago. A boat sank near here, but we got home safely. My mother and sister were worried. They always worry. They don't like us to go out in bad weather. Sometimes, we go out in good weather and it suddenly changes.

Mr. Newman: Look, Paul. How many times have you seen redfish like this one? We caught it this morning.

Paul: Not very often, sir.

Peter Newman: He's never seen redfish like that one, Dad. He's only seen redfish in pictures.

Mr. Newman: Don't talk like that, Peter. We're going to have redfish for dinner. My wife is a wonderful cook.

Answer orally:

What kind of fish did the Newmans catch?
 Has Paul seen a fish like that one before?
 Does Paul like the sea?
 Has Paul been out on a boat?
 Have the Newmans often been in bad storms?
 When was the last storm?
 Where did the boat sink?
 Who worries about Mr. Newman and his son?
 How much does the redfish weigh?
 What are they going to eat for dinner?

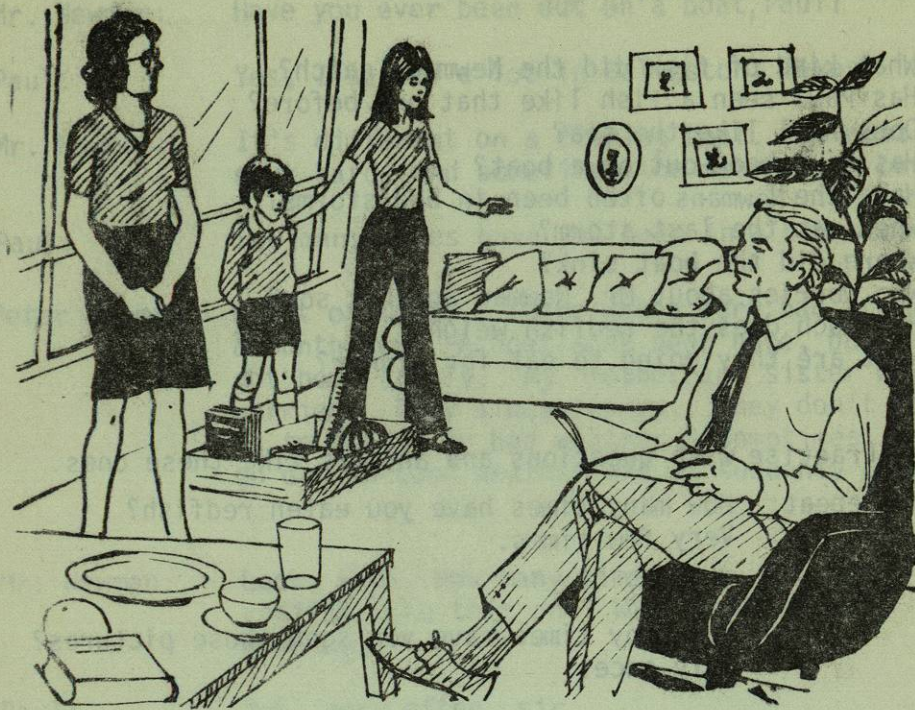

3. Practise with questions and answers like these ones.

Repeat: How many times have you eaten redfish?
 Very few times.

How many times have you seen those pictures?
 Only once.

Make new questions with:

eaten	only once
drunk	twice
seen	three times
visited	never
climbed	a lot of times
gone	few times
smelled
been on flown
swum

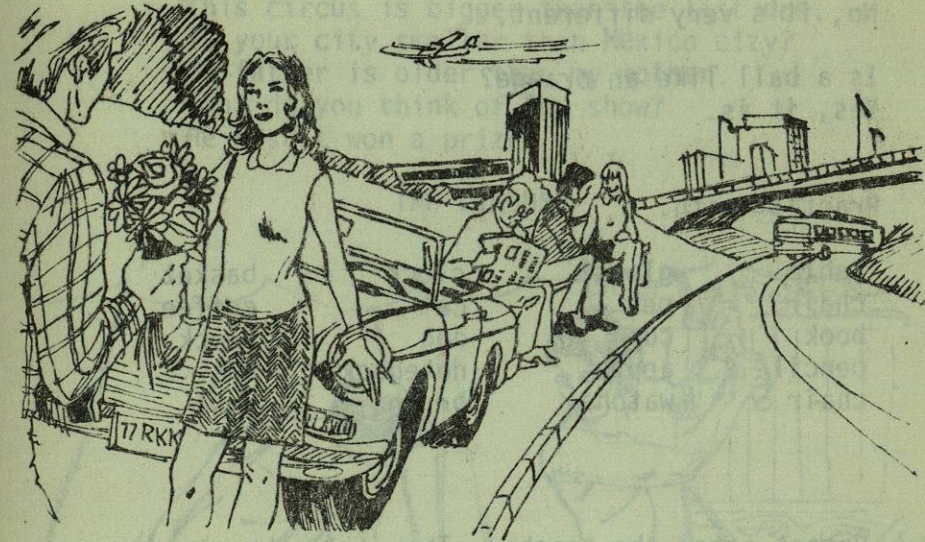

4. Repeat after the teacher.

Everybody in the picture has got black hair except the man.

Everything on the table is round except the book.

Now practise with the picture, people and things in the classroom.

everything	is	except
	has got
	is sitting
everybody	is wearing

5. Look at the picture and fill in.

- There is a pretty girl..... in front of the car.
- The old man reads the paper at home.
- Everybody isexcept the girl and the boy near the car.
- They don't go to school by car, but they are going today.
- The bus.... gets late. It is always on time.
- The girl is looking at the man...the flowers.
- A plane is.... over the buildings.
- There is a bus!... under the bridge.
- The boy..... near the old man is talking to the girl.

Use: going, talking, usually, often, holding, standing, never, sitting, flying.
 Make new sentences of your own and practise with all of them orally.

FIVE

6. Repeat after the teacher, then ask and answer.

Is a bicycle like a car?
No, it's very different.

Is a ball like an orange?
Yes, it is.

Practise with:

table	glass	clock	basket
chair	pen	cat	coffee
book	cup	dog	truck
pencil	apple	notebook	bus
chair	watch	bench	bowl

7. Repeat after the teacher. Then tell the class:
(Point to the person or the object)

There is a girl with black hair sitting near the window.

Practise with:

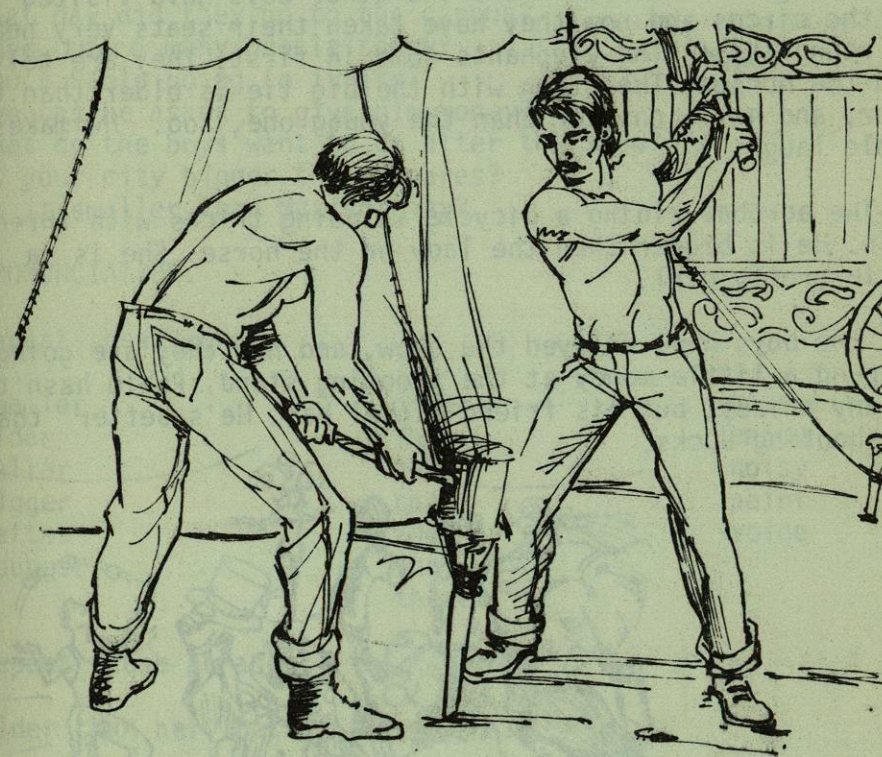

short hair	sitting	behind
a white shirt	standing	near
a yellow pen	reading	between a history book	talking	in front of laughing studying

LESSON SIX

STRUCTURES

This circus is bigger than the last one.
Is your city smaller than Mexico city?
My father is older than my mother.
What do you think of the show?
He hasn't won a prize.

THE CIRCUS

The circus comes to town every spring. The men put up a tent in a field near the houses. Then, all the people come to see the circus. Almost everybody can afford it. This is a little town, its population is about 30,000.