

Occipital Artery; of Lingual Artery: Lines of Incision for—Surgical Anatomy of Lingual Artery—Ligation of External Carotid Artery; of Primitive Carotid Artery—Surgical Triangles of the Neck 741

CHAPTER XLIX.

THE ANTRUM OF HIGHMORE AND ITS DISEASES.

Character of Troubles associated with—Indolent Tumor of—Distention with Softening of Walls—Periodontal Abscess of—Dropsy of—Furuncular
Epidemics affecting—Scorbutus in Association with—The Mercurial
Diathesis—Syphilis in Association with 747

CHAPTER L.

SALIVARY FISTULÆ.

Definition of—Causes of—Illustration of—Common Manner of Treating—Horner's Operation for—Agnew's Operation for—The Author's Operation for—Fistule of the Parotid Gland Proper—Foreign Bodies in Salivary
Ducts—Dribbling 760

CHAPTER LI.

CARIES OF THE MAXILLÆ.

Expressions of the Condition—Virchow's Views concerning—Treatment of Acute Stage—The Use of the Surgical Engine in—The Employment of Sulphuric Acid—Miller's Views of Treatment—Pollock's Experiments with Sulphuric Acid—Illustrative Cases 764

CHAPTER LII.

NECROSIS.

Definition of Term—History of Disease—Dental Necrosis—Alveolar Necrosis
—From lack of Room for Eruption of Wisdom-Tooth—Syphilitic Necrosis
—Mercurial Necrosis—Necrosis from Injuries—Exanthematous Necrosis
—Phosphorus-Necrosis—Illustrations of Sequestra 774

CHAPTER LIII.

DISLOCATION OF THE INFERIOR MAXILLA.

Forms of Displacement—Diagnosis of—Exciting Causes of—Predisposing Causes of—Conditions of—Parts in Luxation—Subluxations—Associations with Fracture—Congenital Luxation—Treatment of Luxation—
Use of Anæsthetics in 797

CHAPTER LIV.

FRACTURES OF THE MAXILLARY BONES.

Division into Classes—Weak Points of Jaw—Causes of Fracture—Symptoms of—Illustrative Cases—Treatment of—Barton's Bandage—Pasteboard Splint—Gibson's Bandage—Author's Bandage—Bean's Interdental Splint—Sudduth's Mento-Dental Splint—Non-Union in Fractures—Gunshot Injuries—Interdental Splints 802

CHAPTER LV.

EXSECTIONS OF THE MAXILLARY BONES.

History of Operation—Ligation of Carotid Artery—Manner of Exposure—Instruments used in Excision of—Illustrative Cases—Surgical Engine and Appliances 816

CHAPTER LVI.

ANCHYLOSIS OF THE JAW.

Definition of Term—Arthritic Inflammation—Complicated Arthritis—Acute Synovitis—Rheumatoid Arthritis—Treatment of Arthritic Trismus—Tetanus: Symptoms of; Treatment of—Trismus Nascentium—Trismus Den-tium—Excision of Operculum—Instrument used for—Illustrative Cases—
Trismus Traumaticus 830

CHAPTER LVII.

NEURALGIA.

Definition of Term—Not a Disease—Temperament a Predisposition—Obscurity of Causes—Predisposing Causes—Local Causes—Reactions of Vascular Perversion on Nervous System—Derangements in Respiration—Depressants in the Vital Economy—Sedative Poisons—Irrespirable Gases —Anstie's View of Nerve Pain—Illustrations in Neuralgia—Uterus and Teeth—Treatment of—Recipes used in 855

CHAPTER LVIII.

NERVE LESIONS PROPER AND THEIR TREATMENT BY OPERATION.

Inferior Maxillary Nerve exposed; Garretson's Operation for Exsection of —Surgical Engine—Exsection of Nasal Branch of Superior Maxillary Nerve—Carnochan's Operation for Exposure of Second Branch of Fifth Nerve—Langenbeck's Operation for Exsection of Maxillary Nerve—Pancoast's Operation for Exposure of Second and Third Branches of Trifacial —Garretson's Operation for Exposure of Second and Third Branches of Trifacial—Garretson's Operation for Exposure of Foramen Rotundum . 871

CHAPTER LIX.

NERVE LESIONS PROPER AND THEIR TREATMENT BY STRETCHING.

Meaning of Operation—Exposure of Special Nerves—Of Infraorbital—Of Inferior Maxillary—Of Auricularis Magnus—Of Occipital—Of Lingual—
Of Supra-orbital 880

CHAPTER LX.

CLASSIFICATION OF TUMORS.

Definition of Term—Division of Tumors into Two Classes—Local and Systemic Tumors—Homologous and Neoplastic Growths—Clinical Illustration in Diagnosis—Examples of Cases—Relationship of Tumors—Simple Inflammatory Tumors—Hypertrophic Tumors—Tumors resulting from Interference with Function—Histological Distinctions—Examples of Forms—Synonymes 884

CHAPTER LXI.

THE EPULIDES.

Definition of Term—Pulp-Fungoid Tumor—Odonto-Periosteal Growth—Ulitic Tumor—Epulo-Erectile Growth—Treatment of Erectile Epulides—Epulides not self-explaining—Illustrations of Epulic Growths—Treatment by Use of London and Vienna Pastes; by Hypodermic Medicaments; by the Seton; by Heated Needles; Electrolysis; Piecemeal Removal; of the Serres-fines; of Astringents; of Bone-Section 892

CHAPTER LXII.

EXOSTOSES AND SUBACUTE INFLAMMATORY TUMORS.

Derivation of the Term Ostosis—Definition of Term—Exostosis and Enostosis, Varieties of—Ossific Diathesis—Non-Specific Exostosis—Alveolar Exostosis—Exostosis Dentium—Diagnosis of Dental Exostosis—Warty Teeth—Odontomata—Venereal, Scorbutic, and Tubercular Exostoses—Scrofulous and Scorbutic Tumors—Simple Inflammatory Tumefaction of Maxilla—Hyperostosis: Illustrative Cases of—Osseous Tumor of Right Superior Maxilla: Microscopical Analysis of 904

CHAPTER LXIII.

SELF-EXPLAINING CYSTIC TUMORS.

Simple Cysts: Diagnostic Signs of; Treatment of—Odontocoele and the Oral Cystomata—Osteo-Enchondromatous Cysts—Situation of Odontomata—Illustrations of—Unique Case of—Analysis of Teeth—Enamel—Dentine—Cementum—Dental Pulp—Periodontal Membrane—Recapitulation of M. Forget's Case—Data for Diagnosis of Dentigerous Tumors—Cystiform Antra—Giraldes on Multiple Cysts of Antrum—Secondary Cyst of Antrum—Meningocele—Hydatid Cysts 915

CHAPTER LXIV.

NON-EXPLAINABLE TUMORS.

Neoplasms—Kinds of Tumors—Appreciable Systemic Tumors—Appreciation of Cancer through Exclusion—Diagnosis from Stand-point of Treatment—Placing of Tumors Clinically—Histological Definition of Tumors—Classification—Fibrous Tumors—Microscopic Appearance of Fibroma—The Myomata of Virchow—Sarcoma—The Myeloid of Paget—The Fibroplastic of Lebert—Epitome of the Fibromata—Cysto-Sarcoma—Cysto-Sarcoma Phylloides of Müller—Cartilaginous, or Enchondromatous, Tumors—Osteo-fibrous Tumors of the Sinus Maxillare—Softening of Tumors—Suppuration of Tumors—Histoid Mixed Tumors—Illustration of Sarcoma—Scirrhus: Illustration of; Microscopic View of Cells of—Encephaloma: Malignancy of; Illustrations of; Microscopic Views of; Microscopic Appearance of 937

CHAPTER LXV.

ANÆSTHESIA.

Definition of Term—Agents Used. SULPHURIC ETHER.—Dr. Jackson's Formula for—Essentials for the Proper Exhibition of Ether—Author's Inhaling Instrument—Relation of with the Action of Alcoholic Beverages—Dead-Drunkness—French Academicians' Experiments with Ether—Action of the Agent on Nerve Centres—Good and Bad Ether—Manner of Administering in Hospital of Oral Surgery—Concerning Dose Required—Judgment as to Effects—Sick Stomach—Prolonging the Impression—Relation of Atmosphere with Ether Exhibition—Idiosyncrasies. CHLOROFORM.—Formula for Preparing—Appearance, Taste, and Smell of—Test of Purity—Weight—Chlorine and Hydrochloric Acid Formed in the Decomposition of—Test for Hydrochloric Acid—Test for Sulphuric Acid—Degradation by Admixture with Alcohol—Test for Action on the Heart—Use of Agent in Oral Surgery—Average Quantity Required to Produce Anæsthesia—Relation of Agent with Temperature—Danger in Use of—Stimulants Conjoined with—Position of Patient—Ether in Combination with Chloroform—Air and Chloroform—Relation of Temperament with Induction of Insensibility—Treacherousness of Agent—Relation of Agent with Age—With Strength and Debility—With Hysteria—With the Menstrual Period—With Pregnancy—With Disease of the Lungs—With Disease of the Circulatory Apparatus—With Surgical Operations—With Cerebral Diseases—With Insanity—Treatment of Chloroform Narcosis. NITROUS OXIDE GAS.—Discovery of—Introduction of as a Pain Obtunding Agent—Sir Humphry Davy—Dr. Horace Wells—Preparation of the Gas—Apparatus Used for—Nitrate of Ammonia—Test of Purity—Heat Required for Making Gas—Washing—Collecting—Dispensing. LIQUEFIED NITROUS OXIDE.—Accidents in Use of Gas—Action of Nitrous Oxide Gas. ETHYL BROMIDE.—A New Anæsthetic—Color, Odor, and Taste of Agent—Miscibility with Ether and Water—Action of the Agent—Experiments of Dr. Laurence Turnbull—Time Required for the Production of Anæsthesia—Sick Stomach—Hysterical Excitement—Prostration—Wolf's Formula for Making Ethyl Bromide. BONWILL'S METHOD OF RAPID BREATHING.—Usefulness of in Quickly Performed Operations—Relation of with other Anæsthetic Agents—Danger Associated with Use of Means. MEDICINES USED BY HYPODERMATIC INJECTION.—Mixed Narcosis—Morphia and Chloroformization—Semi-consciousness and Anæsthesia—Sulphate of Morphia and Sulphate of Atropia—Chloroform Used Subcutaneously—Ether Used Hypodermatically 956

INFLAMMATION.

Definition of—Perversion of Circulation—Analysis of the Condition—Irritation always the Cause of—Excess of Blood in Parts—Illustration by Rabbit's Ear—By Wings of Bat—By Enlarged Capillaries—Phenomenal Meaning of Inflammation—Simple Vascular Excitement—Congestion—Stagnation—Suppuration—Taking Cold—Local Treatment of Inflammation

tion—Derivation—Cupping—Venesection—Leeching—Blistering—General Treatment of—Diaphoretics—Cathartics—Diuretics—Narcotics—Scrofulous Inflammation—Chronic Inflammation—Redness—Heat—Pain—Swelling—Functional Disorder—Repair—Lymph—Cell Segmentation	980

CHAPTER LXVII.

ON DIAGNOSIS.

Definition of Term—Ease the Normal Condition—Dis expressive of the Reverse of Ease—Disease a Generic Term—Manner of Pursuing Diagnoses—The Process of Exclusion —Illustrative Suggestion	999
