PREFACE.

THE present "New Speller and Analyzer" is offered to the public because the author believes that it contains, within a very narrow compass, and hence in a cheap form, new and highly valuable educational aids to a thorough elementary knowledge of the orthography, orthoepy, formation, derivation, and uses of words.

In the arrangement of the words of the Spelling Lessons, in the early part of the work, in strict accordance with their accented vowel sounds, and in their classification under the heads of the different parts of speech, the author has followed the plan of his previous two Spellers; but upon these features are grafted others, the novelty of which, at least, will be apparent at sight. Of their utility we can speak but briefly here, and must refer to the work itself for a full explanation of its principles.

The participial terminations in ing and ed, which are as numerous as the verbs in our language, present some of the greatest difficulties in orthography, owing to the dropping of the final e of the primitive in most cases, and the occasional doubling of the final consonant in others; yet but few of these very numerous words can be given in a spelling-book upon the ordinary plan. Yet in this little volume we have been able to indicate the correct spelling of all such words, in connection with their primitives, to the number of more than 7500; and that, too, by a plan which serves a better educational purpose, we believe, than that of printing the words in full, and which occupies scarcely any appreciable space. Thus, jŏke, ĵ, indicates the correct spelling, accentuation, and pronunciation of the words jŏke, jŏk'ing, jŏked; and de fĕr', the correct spelling, accentuation, and pronunciation of the words de fĕr', de fĕr'ing, de fĕr'ed;—the former indicating the joining of ing and ed to the verb, after dropping the final e, (put in Italic, for the sign),—and the latter showing, by the double dash before ĵ, that the final r is to be doubled before ing and ed. This is all the explanation that is needed to insure the correct spelling of the 7500 words of this class indicated in the present work; and it applies, also, to the dropping of the final e before all affixes that begin with a vowel, with a few exceptions noted on page 149.

The plurals of nouns are indicated, in the early part of the work, by a plan equally simple, with a similar economizing of space, whether the noun requires the mere addition of s or es, or the changing of y into i before the addition; as, vĀL'LEY,—s; LĀ'DY,—ES (vāl'ley, vāl'leys; lād'y, lād'ies). Words which have no plural forms are indicated by the omission of the plural signs; and those plurals only are given which are well established by usage. Additional but unusual plurals might be introduced; but the object has been to introduce such only as pupils might find little difficulty in using in their written Exercises.

Passing on to the "Second Series of Affixes," beginning on page 38, the plan of the work becomes still more comprehensive; for not only are the participial terminations ing and ed given, for all verbs, but the common derivatives of the words used are also indicated by the affixes which form them when joined to their primitives. Thus, RŪDE,—ly, NESS denote the adjective rude, the adverb rudely, and the noun rude'ness,—the latter two being derived from the adjective rude. So also the forms BRIGHT,—ly, NESS, em ĵ, denote the adjective bright, the adverb brightly, the noun bright'ness, the verb bright'en, and the participles bright'en ing and bright'ened; while the correct derivation of the adverb, noun, and verb, from the adjective — and of the participles from the verb, is also shown.

By this simple plan of showing the formation and derivation of a great multitude of common words — a plan which seems naturally to arise out of the peculiar construction of our language, — this little book is made to contain several times the number of words contained in any other Speller of the same size. Moreover, the significations of the principal affixes are also given; and not only is the use of the affixes shown, in the systematic formation of a large number of derivative words, but the meaning of such words is, to a very great extent, readily apparent from their very construction. It will be observed that, after page 38, each of the four principal parts of speech — nouns, adjectives, verbs, and adverbs — is indicated by a type peculiar to itself, and also in the Exercises at the bottoms of the pages.

Beginning with the "Third Series of Affixes," on page 72, the columnar plan is necessarily dropped; for words are then introduced which have more numerous derivatives than the preceding, with less order in their arrangement; and yet there is no difficulty in indicating the correct spelling and derivation of every word. An interesting feature of the system adopted, is, that it shows, at a glance, the meaning of the primitive running throughout derivatives which the student might, otherwise, never have dreamed of being such; and the changes in spelling, accent, measure of syllables, etc., frequently made in derivative words for the sake of euphony.

Some words found in the early part of the book are subsequently repeated, but for an obvious purpose, as they then appear in new relations to other words with which they are connected.

Although but little reliance is placed upon "Rules," — and although the few "Directions" and "Explanations" in the book might be deemed sufficient without them, yet full Rules for Spelling, Syllabication, Accentuation, etc., are given, as fast as they are applicable to the several classes of words, as they come up in order; and these rules are repeated at the end of the book, and the exceptions to them given, if there are any; while numerous reference figures, corresponding to the numbers of the Rules, are given throughout the Lessons. Pupils will thus be enabled to refer all cases to their appropriate Rules, if desired.

Finally, although the Spelling Lessons may be merely spelled orally, in the ordinary manner, yet the book is adapted to a great amount of study, and a great variety of exercises, as may be gathered from the Directions throughout its pages. We advise that all pupils, who can use the pen, should write out, in full, all the Lessons containing affixes; and that Exercises, similar to those at the bottoms of the pages, should be written out by the more advanced pupils only. It is very certain that pupils who cannot write out the words in the lessons correctly, cannot spell such words correctly in their compositions. The book must therefore be, to the extent of the words embraced in it, a complete test of the pupil's knowledge of spelling.

With great confidence that the system here adopted will do more to make correct spellers than any means hitherto devised, we commend our little book — a true multum in parvo — to the thorough test of the school-room.

FIRST SERIES OF AFFIXES.

THE PLURAL TERMINATIONS OF NOUNS, AND THE PARTICIPIAL ENDINGS OF VERBS.

Many words are formed by adding a letter or syllable to the end of other words. Thus:—

RULE I. Singular nouns* generally become plural by the addition of s, without forming an additional syllable; as, cap, caps; book, books. The part thus added is called an affix.

Note.—The teacher will observe that after the whispered consonants p, t, k, z, and f, s has its regular sharp or hissing sound; and that after the other consonants it has necessarily the sound of z, and is so marked.

LESSON 13. 58 words.

Nouns, with their plurals in s.

Let the pupils read, and spell, first, the noun in the singular, and then in the plural, thus: bat, bats; cat, cats.

Nouns.	văt,-s	năp,-s	făn,-s	běd,-s	lěg,-s
	băt,-s	cap,-s	pan,-s	bet,-s	keg,-s eat,-s	gap,-s	lad,-s	net,-s	web,-s
	hat,-s	lap,-s	cab,-s	pet,-s	kĭd,-s
	mat,-s	map,-s	ean,-s	rag,-s	hen,-s lid,-s

PLURAL NOUNS. I saw the BATS. I saw two CATS. I saw three HATS. The lad had three HENS in a bag. Put the MATS on the bed. Do not put the NETS on the bed.

LESSON 14. 58 words.

Nouns, with their plurals in s.

Nouns.	pĭt,-s	tĭps,-s	măb,-s	săd,-s	lěg,-s
	pĭg,-s	rim,-s	fig,-s	sob,-s	bog,-s
	wĭg,-s	hip,-s	rib,-s	nod,-s	dog,-s
	fin,-s	lip,-s	eăb,-s	pod,-s	fog,-s pin,-s	rip,-s	job,-s	rod,-s	hog,-s
					sop,-s

PLURAL NOUNS. The PIGS are in the pen. The man has two WIGS. He has two PINS, three FIGS, and four DOGS. A fish has FINS.

* A Noun is the name of a thing.

Explain to pupils what is meant by the plurals of nouns. Teach them the distinction between the name of a thing and the thing itself.

RULE II. When the noun in the singular ends with such a sound that s can not unite with it in pronunciation, es is added to form the plural, thereby making an additional syllable; as, fox, fox'es; rush, rush'es: but nouns ending with silent e add s only, and only make an additional syllable when they can not be pronounced without it; as cage, ca'ges; vice, vi'ces.

Note.—In spelling those plurals which add s to silent e, divide them as they may be most easily pronounced; as, vase, va'ses; size, si'zes. [See p. 149, Rule II, Note 2.]

LESSON 15. 34 words.

Plurals in es only.

Nouns.	fĭsh,-es	săsh,-es	erĕss,-es	trĭss,-es	lăss,-es
	bŏx,-es	tăx,-es	rŭsh,-es	elăss,-es	erĕss,-es
	fŏx,-es	găss,-es	hĭss,-es	bŏss,-es	păss,-es
					trĕss,-es

LESSON 16. 43 words.

Long sound of a, as in ape.

Nouns.	măne,-s	găme,-s	jăde,-s	făte,-s	mătĕ,-s
	dăle,-s	lane,-s	eake,-s	eape,-s	patĕ,-s
	gale,-s	dame,-s	lake,-s	nape,-s	eage,-s
	babe,-s	fane,-s	sake,-s	rape,-s	vase,-s daĕ

LESSON 17. 45 words.

Long sound of i, as in fine.

Nouns.	fĭme,-s	fĭne,-s	wĭle,-s	sĭde,-s	wĭre,-s
	dĭke,-s	vĭne,-s	wĭne,-s	rĭnd,-s	kĭte,-s
	pĭke,-s	tĭme,-s	mĭle,-s	pĭnt,-s	dĭme,-s
	fĭfe,-s	tĭne,-s	tĭle,-s	tĭde,-s	sĭre,-s rĭĕ

LESSON 18. 41 words.

Short sound of i, as in pin.

Nouns.	gĭll,-s	fĭlp,-s	erĭb,-s	dĭsk,-s	grĭp,-s
	mĭnt,-s	gĭll,-s	rick,-s	grĭt,-s	wĭsp,-s
	mĭnk,-s	pill,-s	wĭck,-s	grĭft,-s	dĭnt
	bill,-s	sĭll,-s	hĭlt,-s	rĭft,-s	lĭnt
					whĭt

PLURAL NOUNS. Put the two FOX'ES in two BŌX'ES. I saw the FĪN'S of the FĪSH'ES. We spell in four CLĀSS'ES. The BĀBES ate the EĀKES. What are the SĪZES of the EĀ'ĒES? My two KĪTES cost five DĪMES.

What nouns in Lesson 16 require an additional syllable in adding s? In Lesson 17? What nouns in Lesson 16 have no plural forms? In Lesson 17? In Lesson 18? How is g sounded in gill?

Note.—The teacher should explain to the pupil from time to time the nature and uses of Nouns, Adjectives, Verbs, Participles, and Adverbs, as they occur in the Exercises, but only so far as the pupil can readily understand the explanations.*

In Lesson 19, present participles (ending in ing) are formed from verbs. Let the pupil spell, first, the primitive word (as dig), and then the participle (as dig'ging). All the primitives in this lesson, except some of those in the first column, are both nouns and verbs; but participles are formed from verbs only.

LESSON 19. 64 words.

Verbs, with their participles in ing.

Verbs. P.	N. & V. P.	N. & V. P.	N. & V. P.
dig,-ging	cap,-ping	bet,-ting	hit,-ting
rob,-bing	map,-ping	pet,-ting	fit,-ting
beg,-ging	pat,-ting	pen,-ning	dip,-ping
let,-ting	rap,-ping	hem,-ming	rip,-ping
lug,-ging	lap,-ping	run,-ning	sip,-ping sit,-ting	pad,-ding	bid,-ding	job,-bing sup,-ping	fan,-ning	pin,-ning	sob,-bing win,-ning	tan,-ning	sin,-ning	hop,-ping

In the above lesson the final consonant of the primitive word is in all cases doubled before the affix ing; as, dig-ging; rob-bing.

In the following words, the primitives take ing without any change.

böx,-ing	rüsh,-ing	böss,-ing	trüss,-ing
tax,-ing	hiss,-ing	eross,-ing	päss,-ing

RULE III. DOUBLING THE FINAL CONSONANT.

A single consonant, preceded by a single vowel, ending either a word of one syllable or any word accented on the last syllable, is doubled when an affix beginning with a vowel is added to form another word; as, clap, clap ping; o mit, o mit ting, o mit ted. Here the affixes are ing and ed. (For exceptions, see p. 149.)

* An Adjective is a word which describes a noun. Thus, if I say "a black cat," the word cat is a noun; but the word black is an adjective, because it describes the cat, and tells what kind of a cat it is.

A Verb is a word which asserts, declares, commands, or requests, etc. Thus, in the sentence "John made the cage," "made" is a verb, because it asserts, or tells, what John did.

A Participle is a verbal adjective, that is generally formed by adding ing, d, or ed to a verb. Besides being used as a participle, it becomes an adjective when it is used to describe a noun; with a, an, or the prefixed to it, it becomes a noun; and it is often used with am, is, was, were, etc., to form a verb.

EXPLANATIONS.

1st. Where verbs in the present tense are given in the spelling lessons, a small letter i is affixed, to denote the present participle ending in ing, and below it the letter e, to denote both the past tense and the past participle, ending in ed; as, lack,-i—thus denoting the three words, lack, lacking, lacked.

2d. If the verb is not regular in the formation of the ending ed, the small e is omitted, and the irregular form is given in the Exercise at the bottom of the page.

3d. Where the last letter of the verb is to be doubled, in accordance with Rule III., a double dash is placed before the i; as, clap,-i, denoting that the p is to be doubled, as in clap'ping, clapped.

4th. Where a word is put down as both noun and verb, it should be remembered that it is the verb which takes the participial affixes, and the noun which takes the plural affix s or es, as in the following lesson.

LESSON 20. 146 words.

The short sound of a, as in ät.

Formula. Clap, cläp'ping, cläpped, claps. Cräm, cräm'ming, crämmed.

DIRECTIONS FOR ALL THE LESSONS CONTAINING AFFIXES.

1st. The teacher may either give out the primary word (as clap) to be spelled, and require the pupil to spell both it and the words denoted by its affixes, or he may announce each word separately:

Or, 2d. All pupils who can write, should write out, in full, as much of the Spelling Lesson as the teacher may direct (all of it, if possible), according to the Formula at the head of the lesson; dividing the words properly into syllables, and marking the accented syllables.

3d. At the close of each lesson, the class should read aloud all the words in the next lesson, according to the Formula.

4th. In the printed Exercises, a Noun is put in SMALL CAPITALS; an Adjective in ITALIC SMALL CAPITALS; a Participle in ITALIC SMALL CAPITALS, beginning with a capital; and a Verb in full-face letters.

EXERCISE 1. I cläp my hands. The birds flap their wings. We tröp the foxes. They dräg the net. You släm the door. I saw them cläp'ping their hands. I saw the birds flap'ping their wings. We saw the men tröp'ping the foxes. They cläpped their hands. The birds fläpped their wings. We tröp'ped four foxes. I heard two cläps of thunder. The foxes are in the tröps.

RULE IV. Words which end in silent e generally drop this letter when a syllable beginning with a vowel is added; as, fāde, fāding, fād'ed; maze, mazy. See also Rule XII., p. 38. (For exceptions, see p. 149.)

Note.—When the final e is to be dropped before any or all of the affixes which follow it, it is put in Italics.

RULE V. SYLLABICATION. If the final e is preceded by, or the primitive word ends in, any consonant except d or t, the two syllables become one when ed is added; as, bake, baked; stop, stopped. (See Rule V., Note 1, p. 150. Also see p. 150 for exceptions.)

LESSON 21. 108 words.

Long sound of a, as in āpe.

All the verbs in this lesson drop the final e in forming the participles. See Rule IV. [Write out this lesson in full.]

EXERCISE 8. a. I saw the man. b. He felt badly. c. He sought me, and found me REEKING with gore. d. He wept for me. e. His cheeks bled badly. f. He crept on the ground. g. We all knelt, or kneeled, down. h. He froze his face. i. I fed the STEEDS on SEEDS from my GÄRDENS. j. He kept the BEES. k. He slept soundly. l. They swept the STREETS. m. I know not what he felt him. SEEING me, he greet'ed me kindly. I found him BLEEDING and WEEPING. I found the vessel DISMISTED. The wind, VEERING to the west, drove the FLEET near the REEFS. ALTERING our course, and REEKING the sails, we steered for the open sea.

What nouns in Lessons 37 and 38 have no plural forms? What verbs are irregular? Why? What noun in Lesson 37 requires es to form the plural? What verbs make an additional syllable on taking the affix ed? What is the Rule? (Rule V., and Note.) What verb in Lesson 38 doubles the final consonant in forming the participles? What participles in ing are found in the exercise? What one participle in ed?

LESSON 39. 140 words.

Note.—1st. The word formed by adding ed to the verb is frequently used as an adjective, as well as a verb and a participle; as, the BRAID'ED chain.

2d. The word formed by adding ing to the verb is frequently used as a noun, as well as a participle and an adjective; as, the SPEAK'ING was good.

EXERCISE 12. He plead'ed for the BRAID'ED chain. The chain, BRAID'ED by me, was lost, and I braid'ed another. The SPRAIN'ED ankle pains him. Let us have ROAST'ED pig and TOAST'ED bread. He roast'ed the pig and toast'ed the bread. The pig, ROAST'ED by the cook, was better than that ROAST'ED by me. It is a well TRAIN'ED horse. As idle as a PAINT'ED ship upon a PAINT'ED ocean. The PLEAD'ING before the jury was excellent. We heard the CREAK'ING of the wagons, the RAT'TLING of the spears, and the SREAM'ING of the drivers.

What nouns in Lesson 48 make an additional syllable in forming their plurals? What words in ed, in the exercise, are verbs? What are participles? What are adjectives? What words in ing are nouns?

EXERCISE 22. Their little fleet consisted of three PIN'NA ÇEŞ. They boasted of the little PİTTAN ÇEŞ they gave. Such SCRİM'MA ÇEŞ are disgraceful. The SÄL'VA ÇEŞ will not unravel. The priests wore their SÜR'PLI ÇEŞ. They hung VÄL'AN ÇEŞ around the bedsteads. Let them PÖUL'TİÇE the PÜNCT'ÜRİÇEŞ with fresh PÖUL'TI ÇEŞ. Let him STÜÇEÖ the walls with the best STÜÇEÖ. I hear the leaves RÜS'TLE. I hear the sound of the RÜST'LİNÄ leaves. The RÜST'LİNÖ of the SHRİV'ELED leaves is heard. He is in Venice, İM MÜRİD' in a dungeon. We hear the RE JOİC'INGŞ of the people. We hear the people RE JOİC'ING. We re joiced' with the RE JOİC'ING crowd.

What nouns in Lesson 69 require an additional syllable on adding s? In Lesson 70? By what Rule? What one noun in Lesson 70 requires es to form the plural? What nouns on this page have no plural forms? What verbs on this page drop their final letter in forming the participles?

EXERCISE 23. He fil'lip'd me back again for the FİL'LIP I gave him. A tree thrives and floür'ish es. His writing is full of floür'ish es. He här'borg no deceit. The island has many här'borgs. They close the rıv'ets with busy häm'mers. He häm'mers and rıv'ets the boiler, and rüb'bets the edges of the boards. He fits the boards by rüb'beting them. The vës'tälş were träm'meled with män'tles of satin. His cheek män'tles with shame. "He gave the MÄNT'LING vine to grow." I left when the scräm'blings and wräng'lings began. The pı ä'nists, wearing tı ä'räs, played their so nä'tas. The wır'nesses went away whıst'ling.

What nouns in Lesson 71 add es to form the plural? In Lesson 72? What nouns on this page have no plural forms? What verbs on this page drop their final letter in forming the participles?

RULE VII.—Words ending in y, preceded by a consonant, generally change the y into i when an affix which does not begin with i is added; as, la'dy, la'dies; fan'cy, fan'cied; hill'y, hill'i'ness. (For exceptions, see p. 150.)

Note 1.—Nouns ending in y, preceded by a consonant, become plural by changing the y into i, and adding es; as, dai'ry, dai'ries; la'dy, la'dies.

Note 2.—When the y is to be changed to i before any or all of the affixes which follow it, it has a dot over it in this book, as in the lesson below.

LESSON 73. Final y preceded by a consonant. 293 words.

EXERCISE 24. The DAI'RIES of Vermont. The DAI'SIES by the road-side. The LA'DIES made the EAN'DIES for the PAR'TIES. The SEN'TRIES had not heard of the TREA'TIES between the AR'MIES. He TRIED to ride the PŌ'NIES. He de'fied' the AL'LIES, and re'plied' to their QUĒ'RIES. He cār'ried the PĒN'NIES by FIF'TIES. The CR'YING child is tr'y'ing to write his eōp'IES. His eārl'es wor'ried me. He bur'ied *(bur'id) the ru'BIES under the SHAN'TIES. He re'plies' to me that I have given no RE'PLIES' to him.

37 Pupils may be required to write an exercise with the possessives of the singular number of the above nouns (see Rule VII., § 2, p. 150); thus: The BĀ'BY'S hand; the DĀ'ISY'S bloom; the PŌ'NY'S mane.

Words ending with quy (in which u, being pronounced like v, is strictly a consonant) follow the rule; as, col'lo quy, col'lo quies.

RULE VIII. Words ending in y, preceded by a vowel, generally retain the y when a suffix is added; as, play, play'ing, played; val'ley, val'leys; joy, joys. Hence Nouns ending with y, preceded by a vowel, become plural by the addition of s. (For exceptions, see page 151.)

EXERCISE 25. The BOYS played many DĀYS. They made long JOŪR'NEYS through the VĀL'LEYS. They em'ployed' their AT TŌR'NEYS for MŌN'DAYS and SĀTUR'DAYS. The two MŌNK'EYS were in the āg'o'NIES of death. The FĀM'YLIES of their MĀJ'ES TIES stayed at the ĀB'BEYS on SŪN'DAYS. They con'veyed their DĪA RIES to the eāv'i'TIES of the CHĪM'NEYS. PĒR'JU RIES are VĪL'LAIN IES that lead to many TRĀG'E DIES. The JŌCK'EYS led the DĒP'U TIES to the ēXL'E RIES.

The Lessons on this page may be omitted until the review.

RULE IX. Nouns ending in o, preceded by a vowel, form their plurals regularly by the addition of s.

LESSON 76. 24 words.

Nouns ending in o, preceded by a vowel.

RULE X. Some nouns ending in o, preceded by a consonant, form their plurals by the addition of s, and others by the addition of es.

LESSON 77. 128 words.

Nouns ending in o, preceded by a consonant.

1st. Nouns becoming plural by the addition of s:

EXERCISE 26. The NŪN'CI ŌS wore ČĀM'E ŌS. Three TRĪŌS of ČUCK'ŌŌS were singing SŌ'LŌS for the NĒ'GRŌES. The HI DĀL'GŌS wrote OE TĀ'VŌS full of EĀN'RŌS. We heard the EČH'ŌES of the PĪ Ā'NŌS from the GRŌT'TŌES. The HĒ'RŌES, who were all AL BĪ'NŌS, dined on TO MĀ'TŌES and PŌ TĀ'TŌES. The BĀN ČHE'RŌS are the worst of DES PE RĀ'DŌES. The JŪN'TŌS sent for TOR PĒ'DŌES to blow up the ships and ČĀR'GŌES.

b, Brag ga dō'shi o.

The Lessons on this page also may be omitted until the review.

LESSON 78. Nouns ending in f and fe. 70 words.

1st. The following form their plurals regularly.

brīef,-s	rōof,-s	tūrf,-s	sāfe,-s	dwarf,-s
čičīf,-s	hōof,-s	sūrf,-s	fīfe,-s	seārf,-s

bān'dit,-s	ban dīt'ti	ef flū'vi um	ef flū'vi ā	{ met a mōr'pho sēs

Note.—Compounds ending in ful form the plural by adding s: as, hand'ful,-s; spoon'ful,-s; pen'ful,-s; pan'ful,-s; jug'ful,-s.

EXERCISE 27. The ČHĪEF tied the SHĒAF with his SĒĀRE, and placed it on the RŌOF where the THĪEF could not reach it. The ČHĪEFS tied the SHĒAVES with their SĒĀRFS, and placed them on the RŌOFS where the THĪEVES could not reach them. The DWĀRFs and their WĪVES put their KNĪVES on the SHĒLVES.

What are the plurals of proof, she, gulf, and be lief? Of beef, leaf, life, and woolf? Of man, ox, broth'er, and pen'ny? Of ax'is, vortex, ver'tex, and ra'di us? Of stratum, el līp'sis, and ap pen'dix?

SECOND SERIES OF AFFIXES.

Lessons to be written out by the pupils.

Rule XI. THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE AFFIXES. In the following Lessons each affix is to be joined to the word or syllable that immediately precedes the first dash (-) that is before the affix. Thus, in the first example below (ARCH, -ly, NESS), both the ly and ness are joined to arch; and the three words, arch, arch'ly, and arch'ness, are thus formed.

Rule XII. Words which end in silent e generally retain this letter when a syllable beginning with a consonant is added; as, base, base'ly; blue, blue'ly, blue'ness. (See Rule IV., p. 12. For exceptions, see p. 151.)

LESSON 80. 153 words.

ADJECTIVES, with the Adverbs * and Nouns derived from them.

Signification. The adverbial affix ly generally means manner; as, He did it neat'ly; that is, in a neat manner. The noun affix NESS means state, condition, or quality; as, neat'ness, the state or condition of being neat; hard'ness, the quality of being hard. (But few nouns in ness have plural forms.) For Directions, see page 11.

Formula. Arch, arch'ly, arch'ness: base', base'ly, base'ness.

FAIR,-	ly,	NESS.	NÄAT,-	ly,	NESS.	STERN,-	ly,	NESS.
FINE,-	ly,	NESS.	NEW,-	ly,	NESS.	STOUT,-	ly,	NESS.

* An Adverb is a word which qualifies a verb, adjective, participle, or another adverb, and generally expresses (1) Time, (2) Place, (3) Degree, or (4) Manner. Thus—We are now here, where we wish to be, fully prepared: but it is entirely probable that every soon we shall suddenly depart together.

What are the adverbs in the above Lesson derived from? What do they express? (The meaning of manner attached to the adjectives from which they are derived.)

EXERCISE 28. A BÄSE man is one who acts base'ly, and who is known by the *BÄSE'*NESS of his acts. We say, He smiled bländ'ly; He was led blind'ly; He spoke blünt'ly; They ran brisk'ly; He went böld'ly forward; She loved her sister deär'ly.

KEY, see p. 2. ~ long, ^ short; cäre, fär, äsk, äll, whät, thäre, väll, tärn, firm, pique

LESSON 81. 121 words.

NOUNS, with Adjectives derived from them.

Signification. The adjective affixes Y or LY, ISH, and OUS, mean like, resembling, or partaking of; EN, made of or like; FULL, full of; LESS, without, or destitute of.

Note. Observe that e at the end of a word is dropped, according to Rule IV., before a suffix beginning with a vowel only: and hence it is dropped before y; as fleece, fleece'y; wire, wire'y; brine, brin'y. The final e is put in italic when it is to be dropped before any one, or all, of its affixes. A figure or number attached to a word, or to an affix, refers to the number of the Rule that is applicable in that particular instance.

What do the figures 3 and 4 in Lesson 81 refer to? Figure 7 in Lesson 82? What is the object of the dot, over the y's, in Lesson 82? What does the figure 4, attached to the word juice, show? What are the adjectives in Lesson 81 derived from? In Lesson 82? What are the nouns in NESS, in Lesson 82, derived from? What do the adjective affixes on this page signify? Then what is the meaning of balm'y? Queen'ly? Wolf'ish? Price'less? What does the affix ness mean? Then what is the meaning of blood'iness? Of cost'li ness? Of flesh'iness? Of hair'iness? Of juice'iness?

EXERCISE 29. We speak of a MÜSK'Y odor; a DOWN'Y peach; a WÖRM'Y apple; FLÄX'EN hair; a THÖRN'Y tree; and an ÖÄK'EN bucket. We read of the CÖST-LINESS of the buildings; the HÄZI NESS of the sky; and the JÏÇ'Y NESS of the apple.

Explain the meaning of the numbers 4 and 12, in Lesson 90. Before what endings is the final e dropped, in the derivatives from the word shame? Before what endings is it retained? Apply the same principle to the derivatives from the words taste and blame. Before what affixes is final y changed to i? (Before all except those which begin with i.)

EXERCISE 33. Trust none but a TRUSTY man. It was a SHAMEFUL act, by a SHAMELESS man; and it was done shamelessly, by a man shamelessly wicked. He blamed me not for TASTING the apple. He has my thanks for SHIELDING me from harm. He lent a WILLING ear to my request.

Rule XIV. Accentuation. When the mark of accentuation is placed immediately before an affix, it denotes that the accent is to be on the last syllable of the word to which that affix is annexed. See Formula. Also, Rule XIV., page 152.

Signification. The affix ITY means state, condition, or quality of being; as, stupid' i ty, the state or condition of being stupid; com press i bil' i ty, the quality of being compressible.

Formula. Dûc' tîle, due tîl' i ty; fû' tîle, fû' tîle ly, fû tîl' i ty; ad' vërse, ad' vërse ly, ad' vërse ness, ad' vër' sî ty.

Table with columns: Adj., Nouns, Adj., Adv. Nouns, Adj., Adv. Nouns. Words include DUC' TÎLE, CON' VEX, COM' PLEX, FRÛ' OR, FË TÎLE, FRÛ' ID, RO TÛND, TIM' ID, FRÛ' GAL, STËR' ÎLE, RËN' SID, VË' NAL, PLÛ' RAL, A ÇËRB, SE ÇÛRE, HÛS' TÎLE, VÛL' GAR, MË' JOR, BRÛ' TAL.

LESSON 109. 126 words.

Formula. Ac' rîd, a erîd' i ty; ag' île, ag' île ly, ag' île ness, a gîl' i ty.

Table with columns: Adj., Adv. Nouns, Nouns, Adj., Adv. Nouns, Nouns. Words include AC' RID, HÛ' MID, LIM' PID, STÛL' ID, TËP' ID, FLË' SID, RÛ' ID, VËL' ID, VËP' ID, PLË' ID, SQUËL' ID, JÛ' UND, NË' TIVE, PRÛ' LIX, TÛ' TAL, MË' TÛRE, AC' ÎLE, CAL' LOÛS, SÛ' BER, GEN' TËEL, Ô' PËQUE, PRO' FOUND, SE' RENE, SIN' ÇERE, SUB' LÎME, OB' LIQUE, ANX' IÛS, PRÛP' ER, AU' STERE, OB' SCENE, SE' VËRE, AN' TÛQUE.

What does the affix i ty signify? Then what does hos tîl' i ty mean? Why does the word hostile drop the e on taking the affix i ty? What does se çû' rî ty mean? Ra pi'd' i ty? A gîl' i ty? Show the application of Rule XIV. to the words in Lesson 109.

EXERCISE 40. The MË' JÛR' I TËS in all the cantons decided in favor of HÛS' TÎL' I TËS. His writings were full of AB SÛRD' I TËS. Do not disregard the PRO PRË' E TËS of life. I speak the words of truth and SÛ' BER NESS. Habitual SÛ' BER NESS constitutes SO BRË' E TY.

LESSON 124. 95 words.

Rule XVIII. When the ending ble takes the affix y, the two form one syllable in bly, without changing the accent of the original word; but when the ending ble takes the affix ity, the ble becomes bil, with the accent on the syllable bil. Thus, cul'pa ble-y becomes cul'pa bly; and cul'pa ble-ity becomes cul'pa bil'ity. In like manner the ending ple changes to ply; as, am'plē-y, am'ply. See also Rule XIV., and Notes, p. 152.

Signification. The affix ity generally denotes state, quality, or condition of being; as, viz i bil'ity, the state or quality of being visible.

LESSON 137. 133 words.

Rule XIX. In verbs of more than one syllable, ending in ate, the a has the distinct long sound: but when the same words are used as nouns, or adjectives, the a has, generally, the same sound slightly indistinct or obscure. Thus, dēs' o lāte, dēs' o LA TE; mŏd' er āte, ā, MŌD' ER ATE, etc. See page 152.

Note. The Italics a. n. v., etc., after a word, denote the several parts of speech to which it belongs: - a, adjective; n, noun; v, verb.

DERIVATION.

I. DERIVATION OF NOUNS.

Nouns are derived from adjectives, from verbs, from nouns, and from participles.

1st. From adjectives, by adding ness, as in Lessons 80, 82, 83, 84, 85, etc.:—by adding ity, as in Lessons 108, 100, and 124:—by changing t or te into ce or cy, as in Lessons 114, 115, 123, 127, etc.; or by adding ship, dom, hood, ard, ist, etc.

2d. From verbs, by adding ment, as in Lessons 93, 97, 122, etc.:—by changing the termination of the verb into ion, sion, or a'tion, as in Lessons 97, 98, and 112:—by adding ance, al, ure, age, er, or or, etc., as in Lessons 100 and 111.

3d. From nouns, by adding y, ship, ist, ude, et, etc., as in Lessons 95 and 128; or by adding dom, rick, wick, or ate, hood, ian, let, etc.

4th. From participles in ing,—the nouns being the same in form as the participles, and only distinguished from them by the construction of the sentence.

II. DERIVATION OF ADJECTIVES.

Adjectives are derived from nouns, from verbs, from adjectives, and from participles.

1st. From nouns, by adding y or ly, as in Lessons 81, 82, 83, and 84:—by adding ful, less, ish, ive, al, as in Lessons 87 and 89:—by adding ous, some, al, ine, ate, as in Lessons 104 and 107:—or by adding en, ic, able, or ible, etc.

2d. From verbs, by adding able or ible, as in Lessons 101, 130, and 155:—or by adding ive or ory, as in Lessons 112, 117, 119, 130, etc.

3d. From adjectives, by adding ish or some;—in a few cases by adding y or ly; or by prefixing dis, in, un, or il,—as on page 115.

4th. From participles, by prefixing un, and by using the participle as an adjective, as on page 115.

III. DERIVATION OF VERBS.

Verbs are derived from nouns, from adjectives, and from verbs.

1st. From nouns, by adding ise, ize, en, or ate.

2d. From adjectives, by adding en, as in Lesson 86;—or by adding ate or ize; or by using adjectives as verbs.

3d. From verbs, by prefixing a, be, dis, for, fore, mis, over, out, under, up, or with.

IV. DERIVATION OF ADVERBS.

1st. Many adverbs are derived from adjectives by adding ly, as shown in Lessons 80, 85, 87, 88;—and so throughout the book. A few adverbs in ly are derived from nouns.

2d. There are many compound adverbs; as, here-in, to-day;—and about seventy are formed by means of the prefix a; as, a-broad, a-way, a-go, etc.

Conjunctions and prepositions are very irregular in their derivation.

Note. A very few compound words,—such as press-man, fish-man, head-most, etc., have been introduced, in the Lessons, with the derivatives.

We would suggest here, that pupils should be allowed the aid of a Dictionary, if they need one, in writing out their Exercises. Those not sufficiently advanced to write them should read aloud the printed Exercises, and designate the parts of speech, etc.

THIRD SERIES OF AFFIXES.

Let pupils write out the Lessons in full.

Explanations. Nouns are in ROMAN SMALL CAPITALS; Adjectives in ITALIC SMALL CAPITALS; Verbs in Roman full face; and Adverbs in Italic full face. In the Exercises, Participles are in Italic small capitals, beginning with an Italic capital. The Italica a. n. e., etc., after a word, denote the several parts of speech to which it belongs.

The signs of the participial affixes (s), connected with words that are printed either as nouns or as adjectives, show that the words are used as verbs also. In the following Lessons these signs are joined to the verb without any intervening dash, where there is no other affix to be joined to the same verb. Thus: OX' Y GEN, -Ize s, Rte, -s, ION.

LESSON 153. 143 words.

Formula. Art, art'ful, art'ful ly, art'ful ness; art'ist, ar tist'ic, ar tist'ic al, ar tist'ic al ly; art'less, art'less ly, art'less ness. See Rule XI.

It will be found useful for advanced pupils to write out Exercises like the following, either with or without the aid of a dictionary.

EXERCISE IN DERIVATION AND DEFINITION. Art'ful, a., from the n. ART; full of art. Art'ful ly, adv., from the a. ART'FUL; in an artful manner. Art'ful ness, n., from the a. ART'FUL; the quality of being artful. Art'ist, n., from the n. ART; one skilled in the practice of some art. Ar tist'ic, a., from the n. AR TIST; pertaining to art, or artists. Ar tist'ic al, same as ar tist'ic. Ar tist'ic al ly, adv., from the a. AR TIST'IC AL; in an artistic or artistical manner. Art'less, a., from the n. DERIVATION. Reverse'ing and reverse'd, p. 5 a., from the v. reverse': re verse'ly, ad., from the a. reverse': re vers'al, n., from the v. reverse': re vers'i ble, a., from the v. reverse'.

EXERCISE 65. We all descend from one common ancestry; but we cannot trace the descent. Many beggars have descended from princes, and in direct descent. In descending to play with children, we are not injuring our dignity. They are descendants of a race of kings. "More than mortal grace speaks thee descendant of ethereal race." The hill is easily descendent; and its descendent hill is not to be doubted. "There is no descent, but from above." The reverse of this is, that we must reverse the operation, and begin in a reverse order.

He was noted for his ERROREOUS views, and ERRANT conduct. They were ERRANT fools, whose KNIGHT-ERRANT RIES were worse than follies. A PRIME is a PRIMARY book, so called because it was read at the PRIME, or first hour of the day. The PRIME cost of an article is first cost. The PRIMATE of the realm is to be deprived of the PRIMACY. He claims to belong to the PRIMATIVE church. PLEASED to know that my PLEASEANTRIES pleased him, I found a PLEASEFUL occupation in getting up MASQUERADES at his PLEASEANT mansion. * Judgment: See page 152, Rule XII., Exceptions.

Note. When a series of English derivatives have a common root, and that root is derived from a Latin or a Greek word, a knowledge of this primary will often be found a great aid to a correct understanding of its English derivatives. Hence we have designated many of these primaries in the subsequent part of this work, that the teacher may embrace them in the Exercises in Derivation, if he think best. But even if no direct use be thus made of them, we think they will be likely to benefit some of the more enquiring pupils, — sufficiently, at least, to compensate for the little space they occupy.

DERIVATION. Latin. a, le gōlis, legal, from lex, law. b, lĭn'guā, the tongue. c, mōrbus, disease. d, nā'tang, swimming. e, *sāp'i' dū*s, savory, from sāp'e' re, to taste. f, scā'r' rā, a buffalo. g, *stāb' i lĭ*s, from stā're, to stand. h, ta cĒ'te, to be silent. i, tĒch'ne (Greek), an art. j, vĪ' ū, life. k, nŏ'cus, new. l, rĒ'g, a thing. m, q'vĪs, a citizen. n, lŏ'cus, a place.

EXERCISE 100. He feigned that he perceived eight tiers of fierce cavalry. His feints were viewed as a species of deceit. He would make seizeures of the thieves at his leisure. The priests in veighed with fierce shrieks against their friends and neighbors. The height of the heir of the chief was one eighth of the length of the shields of the weird grenadiers whom I saw on the prairie. He said he would give me the sieve which his friend did send him. I saw the heir of the reindeer which the cashier seized when the thief bade him a dieu as he fled from pursuit. It is a relief to perceive that the fields yield neither mulleins nor oysters.

THE PREFIXES.

A Prefix is a letter, syllable, or word, placed before a word, or united with it at its beginning, to vary its signification; as, il legal, not legal; in secure, not secure; mis-judge, to judge wrong.

Note 1. There is a great number of prefixes, both simple and compound; but those which occur the most frequently are the negative prefixes un, in, il, ir, im, and non; together with dis, mis, and re.

Note 2. Certain words take in or un, and others ir or im, indiscriminately; but good usage is fast giving the preference to ir before r, and to in instead of un in most of the other doubtful cases.

In or Un—ÄL' IEN A BLE, ÄP PRE HÈN' SI BLE, ÄP PRE HÈN' SÏVE, ÄR TÏ FÏ' ÇIÄ LY, E LÄS' TIC, E LAS TÏÇ' I TY, EX PÈ' RIENÇED.

Ir or Un—RÈE' ON ÇÏL A BLE, RÈE' ON ÇÏ' A BLY, RE DEEM' A BLE, RE DÛ' ÇI BLE,-NESS.

Note 3. The prefix re denotes again; as, re'e nact, to enact again. Re—act', AC' TION, ÄN' I MATE, AN I MÄ' TION, as çÈnd',h, as çÈN' SÏON, ÈL' I ÇI BLE, ÈL I ÇI BÏL' I TY, as çÈrt',h, ÇX ÄM' INC,-h, Ä' TION.

Note 4. The prefix dis denotes separation—a parting from. The prefix mis denotes wrong; as, mis'ad vÏse, to advise wrong.

Dis—HÛN' EST, hÛN' est ly, ÄP PRO BÄ' TION, al low',h, ANÇE, A BLE,-NESS. Mis—apply', AP PLÏ' ING, AP PLÏED', AP PLÏ ÇÄ' TION, trust',h, FÛL,-ly.

Note 5. Many words take the prefixes in only a part of their derivatives, as shown below. The prefixes are placed immediately below the words to which they are applicable.

Rule XXI. Most scientific terms ending in y drop the y on taking the affix er, ist, or ice, without forming an additional syllable, or changing the accent. Thus, from a nāl' o ġy, we have a nāl' o ġist, instead of a nāl' o ġy ist; from ġo ōg' ra phy, ġe og' ra pher; from a pōl' o ġy, a pōl' o ġize.

Note. When the y is to be dropped it is put in Italic.

Ask Mr. Ewart to send Mr. Ewing a dozen of Faber's pencils; and tell him the thermometer now stands at 96° Fahrenheit at Faneuil Hall. A Captain Minié was the inventor of the mín'ie ball.

Among the many Frenchmen noted in History, may be found the names of Balzac, the restorer of the French language; Richelieu, the statesman; those elegant early writers Bruyère, Rochefoucauld, and Rousseau; La Fontaine the Fabulist; that famous trio of dramatists, Molière, Corneille, and Racine; those eloquent and world-renowned preachers, Bourdaloue, Massillon, and Bossuet; and those famous philosophers, Voltaire, Condorcet, and D'Alembert, whose writings heralded the Revolution. In the bloody drama which followed, we read the names of Brissot, Carnot, Danton, Marat, Mirabeau, Fouché, and Robespierre; and then comes that brilliant galaxy of military heroes, Napoleon, and his marshals Augereau, Berthier, Davoust, Mortier, Grouchy, Massena, Moreau, Ney, Suchet, Lannes, Bernadotte, and the Polish Poniatowski.

Later still, in French History, we meet with the names of the writers De Tocqueville, Guizot, Chateaubriand, and Lamartine, and of Dumas the novelist, and Thiers the historian.

Among the Germans and Prussians we find the names of the generals Wallenstein and Blücher, who lived nearly two centuries apart;—of Boerhave the physician; Mosheim the historian; and Goethe, the writer of that famous drama of which Faust is the hero and title.

Among the Italians we may mention the names of those famous painters of the sixteenth century, Michael Angelo, Titian, Raphael, Corregio, and Cagliari—the latter generally known by the name of Paul Veronese;—and the poets Dante, Tasso, Bontivoglio, and Alfieri.

We close the list with Camoens, the most celebrated of the Portuguese poets; Pestalozzi, the famous Swiss educator; the English statesmen Brougham and Palmerston, and Agassiz the great American naturalist.

RULES AND EXPLANATIONS

Governing the Affixes and Prefixes; and Rules for the Spelling, Syllabication, Accentuation, and Pronunciation of Words.

See the pages referred to, in the body of the work, for more full illustrations.

☞ The small superior figures connected with the words in the Spelling Lessons refer to the corresponding numbers of these Rules.

☞ Pupils should spell, or write out, all the exceptions found under these Rules.

Rule I. [Page 8.] Singular nouns generally become plural by the addition of s, without forming an additional syllable; as, cap, caps; book, books. The part thus added is called an affix.

Note. The added s has its regular sharp or hissing sound after the whispered consonants p, t, k, c, and f: after the other consonants it has, necessarily, the sound of z.

Rule II. [Page 9.] When the noun in the singular ends with such a sound that s cannot unite with it in pronunciation, es is added to form the plural, thereby making an additional syllable; as, fox, fōx'es; rush, rūsh'es; but nouns ending in silent e add s only, and only make an additional syllable when they cannot be pronounced without it; as, cāge, cāg'es; vice, vî'çes.

Note 1. In spelling those plurals which add s to silent e, divide them as they may be most easily pronounced; as, vāse, vā'ses; size, siz'es.

Note 2. The plurals of nouns are generally given in the first 70 pages of the book: but such nouns as have only one form—whether used as singular only or plural only, or both;—as, deer, sheep, trout, rice, mush, muck, food, dust, pride, anger, banter, freedom, etc.; and such, also, as are seldom used with a plural form; as, doom, hoot, am'i ty, etc., are designated by having no plural affixes.

Rule III. [Page 10.] Doubling the final consonant.

A single consonant, preceded by a single vowel, ending either a word of one syllable or any word accented on the last syllable, is doubled when an affix, beginning with a vowel, is added to form another word; as, clāp, clāp'ping; omî't, omî't'ing; omî'ted. Here the affixes are ing and ed.

Exceptions. The only real exceptions to this rule are gū's'es, gū's'e ois, gū's'i fy, gū's'i ty; a few words ending in x, as fōx'es, fix'ing, mix'ing, ox'en, trans fēr'a ble from trans fēr', in fēr'a ble from fēr' (but in fēr'rible and trans fēr'ri ble follow the rule); and those derivatives in which the accent of the primitive is thrown back upon another syllable; as, ca bāl', cāb'a list, cāb'a list; pre fēr', prē'fer ençe; con fēr', cōn'fer ençe; re fēr', rē'fer ençe, rē'fer a ble; de fēr', dē'fer ençe: but where the accent is not changed, the words from the same primitives follow the rule; as, de fēr'ring, de fērred', etc.

Note. In words not embraced in the foregoing Rule, the final consonant is not doubled. Exceptions:—chān'çel lor, cōr'al line, crÿs'tal line, sil'yl line, me tāl'ic, cān'çel lā ted, can çel lā'tion, me dāl'ion.

☞ Where the last letter of the verb is to be doubled, in accordance with Rule III., a double dash is placed before the s, as clāp,=s, denoting that the p is to be doubled, as in clāp'ping, clāpped. [See page 11.]

Rule IV. [Page 12.] Words which end in silent e generally drop this letter when a syllable beginning with a vowel is added; as, fade, fād'ing, fād'ed; maze, mā'zy. [See, also, Rule XII., page 28.]

Note. When the final e is thus to be dropped before any or all of the affixes which follow it, it is put in italic in this book.

Exceptions. 1st. The following words do not drop the e: — dye, dye'ing; hõe, hõe'ing; tõe, tõe'ing; shqe, shqe'ing; mîle, mîle'age; singe, singe'ing; swinge, swinge'ing; tinge, tinge'ing; mòrt'gàge, mòrt'gàge'br'.

2d. The following change ie into y before ing: — dië, dÿ'ing; hõe, hÿ'ing; lië, lÿ'ing; tië, tÿ'ing; vië, vÿ'ing; be lië', be lÿ'ing; un tië, un tÿ'ing; but they make died, lied, tied, etc.

3d. Words ending in ce and ge retain the e before able, ably, and ous, in order to preserve the soft sound of c and g.

Examine Rules IV. and XII., and XVIII., and apply them in the following words.

These words should be written out in full.

Change, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble, -ness.	Mån' age, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -er, ment.
Charge, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble, -ness.	" -a ble, -y, ness, 'i ty. <sup>12</sup>
Pierce, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble, -ing, -ly, ness.	Ìm' age, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -ry, a ble.
Sürve, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -i tade, i tor.	Nõ' tice, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble.
" -le, -ly, ness.	Chål' lenge, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble.
" -ice, -a ble, -y, ness.	Dãm' age, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble.
Träçe, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -cr y, a ble, -y, ness.	SER' vice, -a ble, -y.
Peäçe, -ful, -ly, ness.	Ex chånge, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble, -'i ty. <sup>12</sup>
" -a ble, -y, ness.	Mår' ry, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> . Mår' riage, -a ble.
Cõür' age. Cõür' ã' geõüs, -ly.	Pro noun, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble.
Out' rage, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> . Out' rä' geõüs, -ly.	Pro nån' cë' tion.
Al lëge, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble.	Ad vån' tage. Ad van' tä' geõüs.
Di vörce, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -eç, a ble, ment.	En förce, <sup>4</sup> / <sub>1</sub> , -a ble, ment.

Rule V. [Page 12.] SYLLABICATION. If the final e is preceded by, or the primitive word ends in, any consonant except d or t, the two syllables become one when ed is added; as, bake, baked; stop, stopped.

Note 1. A better rule for children is this. Where ed is added it does not form an additional syllable, if that and the preceding syllable can be pronounced in one. Thus, we can pronounce paved, hoped, named, convoked, etc., without forming a separate syllable of the ed; but in a mend'ed, con' tent'ed, etc., the ed forms a separate syllable.

Exceptions. 1st. In some participial and a few other adjectives, the e is commonly sounded; as, a' ged, be lóv'ed, blëss'ed, cråb'bed, cråg'ged, crõök'ed, cår'sed, dõg'ged, hõök'ed, jåg'ged, kårn'ed, når'ked, råg'ged, rüg'ged, stüb'bed, wick'ed, wrëch'ed; but when any of these words are used as verbs in the imperfect tense, the ed should not form a separate syllable; as, blessed, cursed, learned, etc.

2d. In adverbs formed by adding ly, and in nouns formed by adding ness, to words ending in ed, the ed uniformly makes a separate syllable; as, as sÿr'ed ly, from as sÿr'ed'; con füs'ed ly, from con füs'ed'; a mãz'ed ness, etc.

Rule VI. [Page 19.] Words ending in ee add d only to form the past tense or participle; as, ra zee', ra zee'd' (not ra zee'ed'); de cree', de cree'd'; free, freed. See Notes to pages 19, 22, and 28.

Rule VII. [Page 34.] Words ending in y, preceded by a consonant, generally change the y into i when an affix which does not begin with i* is added; as, låd'y, låd'ies; fån'cy, fån'cies; hìll'y, hìll'ies; thÿr'ty, thÿr'ti eth. The affix makes an additional syllable only when it cannot be pronounced without it.

* When an affix beginning with i is added, the y is retained to prevent the doubling of i; as, fly, fly'ing, (not flÿ'ing). Words ending in quy (in which u, being pronounced like w, is strictly a consonant), follow the rule; as cõl'lo quy, cõl'lo quies.

Note 1. Nouns ending in y, preceded by a consonant, become plural by changing the y into i and adding es; as, dåi'ry, dåi'ries; låd'y, låd'ies.

Note 2. When the y is to be changed to i before any or all of the affixes which follow it, it has a dot over it in this book.

Exceptions to the Rule. 1st. Most derivatives of adjectives of one syllable ending in y preceded by a consonant, do not change the y into i; as, shy, shÿ'ly, shÿ'ness, shÿ'er, shÿ'est; dry, drÿ'ly, drÿ'ness; sly, slÿ'ly, slÿ'ness, slÿ'er, slÿ'est; wry, wrÿ'ness; spy, spÿ'ly, spÿ'ness, spÿ'er, spÿ'est. But we write drÿ'er and drÿ'est, from the adjective dry, in accordance with the rule.

2d. Derivatives formed by adding the termination ship; as, sée're ta ry ship, låd'y ship, sÿre'ty ship, retain the y; also the words bå'by hood, låd'y kin. The y is also retained in the possessive case singular of nouns, when they are formed by adding s with the apostrophe; as, our country's good; nobody's, everybody's, etc.

3d. The following change y to e on taking an affix. Pÿ'ty, pÿ'te õüs ly; då'ty, då'te õüs ly; pÿ'n'ty, pÿ'n'te õüs ly; boun'ty, boun'te õüs ly; pÿg'my (or pÿg'my), pÿg'm'e an. But pÿ'ti ful, -ly, ness; då'ti ful, -ly, ness; pÿ'n'ti ful, -ly, ness; boun'ti ful, -ly, ness, etc., follow the rule. See, also, Rule XXI., and page 140.

Rule VIII. [Page 35.] Words ending in y preceded by a vowel generally retain the y when a suffix is added; as, plåy, plåy'ing, plåyed; vål'ley, vål'ley'ing; joy, joy'z. Hence, nouns ending in y preceded by a vowel become plural by the addition of s.

Exceptions. The words dåi'ly, låd, påd, såd, saith, slåin, and ståid (from day, lay, pay, say, slay, stay), with their compounds, change the y into i. But we write both ståid and ståyed for the verb and participle, always ståid for the adjective.

Rule IX. [Page 36.] Nouns ending in o preceded by a vowel form their plurals regularly, by the addition of s; as, rå'tio, rå'tios; fõl'to, fõl'tos.

Rule X. [Page 36.] Some nouns ending in o preceded by a consonant form their plurals by the addition of s, and others by the addition of es; as, cån'tõz, cån'tõz; brå'vo, brå'vões.

Irregular plurals, foreign words, and compounds ending in ful. See p. 37.

Rule XI. The Arrangement of the Affixes. See page 38.

Rule XII. [Page 38.] Words which end in silent e generally retain this letter when a syllable beginning with a consonant is added; as, båse, båse'ly; blåe, blåe'ly, blåe'ness. [See, also, Rule IV., page 12.]

Exceptions. When the final e is immediately preceded by another vowel (except e), it is often dropped from the derivatives and compounds; as, åwe, åw'ful; trÿe, trÿ'ly; wõe, wõ'ful; dåe, då'ty, då'ty; år'gue, år'gu ment. But åwe'sõme follows the Rule.

The following words also drop the e in the derivatives: — nårse, nårse'ing; wise, wis'dom; lådge, lådge'ment; jüdge, jüdge'ment; ad jüdge'ment, mis jüdge'ment, pre jüdge'ment, a bridg'ment, as knõw'ledg'ment. Lõath'ful and lõath'wõe are spelled without the e, but they are probably derived from lõathe (instead of lõathe), — changing the th from sharp to flat or vocal.

Let the pupil write out the following in full. See Rules XI. and XIV.

Åwe, -i, SÕME, FÿL, -ly, NESS.

Dÿe, -ly, Tÿ, -FÿL, -ly, NESS. Dÿ' TY, -Oÿs, -ly, NESS.

År' gus, -i, MENT, -AL, Å' TION, Å' TIVE, -ly, NESS.

Rule XIII. SYLLABICATION. See page 45.

* See Rule VII., Exception 3d.

Rule XIV. [Page 50.] ACCENTUATION. When the mark of accentuation is placed immediately before an affix, it denotes that the accent is to be on the last syllable of the word to which that affix is annexed.

Examples. Thus, in fru'gal, -ly, ness, 'i ty, — when ity is annexed to fru'gal, the accent is to be on the syllable immediately preceding ity; as, fru gal'i ty. So also in such cases as com'pliment, -ary, 'al, when ary and al are annexed to the word com'pliment, the accent is on the syllable immediately preceding ary and al; as, com pli ment'ary, com pli ment'al.

Note. When a word takes the affix i ty, ion, sion, or tion, the accent is always on the syllable immediately preceding such affix. Only a few words in ity have plurals.

Rule XV. [Page 52.] Most words ending in t, te, d, de, or ge, drop those letters on taking an affix beginning with t, or the sound of s; as, a vēr't, a vēr'sion; as cēnd', as cēn'sion; con tēnd', con tēn'tious; con elūde', con elū'sion; de fēnd', de fēns'e; de fēns'e; e mērg'e', e mēr'sion; āc'cu rate, āc'cu ra cy; āl'o-quent, āl'o quēns'e.

Note 1. The addition of te does not form an additional syllable, unless the plural affix s be also added.

Note 2. When t or d is to be dropped before any or all of the affixes which follow it, it is marked with a dot under it in this book. See p. 52.

Exceptions. Plurals formed by adding s retain the t, te, de, etc.; as, per mit't, per mīt's; prē'vūde, prē'vūdes; dē'vāge, dē'vāges; also, a few words ending in t, preceded by a vowel, retain the t on taking the affix cy; as, cor'net cy, bar'o net cy, bro vēt'cy.

Rule XVI. [Page 54.] Scribe becomes scrip, and sūme becomes sūmp, before t; as, as cribe', as crip'tion; as sūme', as sūmp'tion.

Rule XVII. [Page 54.] Verbs ending in it change the t into s, and those ending in pe change that syllable into ps, on taking an affix beginning with s; as, ad mit't, ad mīt'sion; sub mit't, sub mīt'sive; com pē't, com pē'sive, com pē'sion.

Rule XVIII. [Page 57.] When the ending ble takes the affix y, the two form one syllable in by, without changing the accent of the original word; but when the ending ble takes the affix ity, the ble becomes bil, with the accent on the syllable bil. Thus, cūl'pa ble-y becomes cūl'pa bly; and cūl'pa ble-ity becomes cūl pa bil'ity. In like manner the ending ple changes to ply; as, ām'ple-y, ām'ply.

Rule XIX. [Page 63.] In verbs of more than one syllable, ending in ate, the a has the distinct long sound; but when the same words are used as nouns, or adjectives, the a has generally the same sound slightly indistinct or obscure.

Note 1. Some of the botanical adjectives in ate (see page 138) seem to have the a long, contrary to the general rule. But even those which on p. 138 have the a long according to Webster, have the a obscure in Worcester, with the single exception of cūp'i tate.

Note 2. The Italics a. n. t., etc., after a word or affix, denote the several parts of speech to which it belongs.

Rule XX. Verbs ending in ic add k before ing and ed; as, frō'lic, frō'lick ing, frō'licked; trā'fic, trā'fick ing, trā'ficked; biv'ouac (-wāk), biv'ouack ing, biv'ouacked.

Rule XXI. [Page 140.] Most scientific terms ending in y drop the y on taking the affix er, ist, ism, or ize, without forming an additional syllable, or changing the accent. Thus, from a nāl'o gy we have a nāl'o gist, instead of a nāl'o gy-ist; from gē ōg'ra phy we have gē ōg'ra pher; from a pō'l'o gy, a pō'l'o gize.

Note. When the y is to be dropped, in accordance with this Rule, it is put in Italic. See pp. 140 to 143 inclusive.

ABBOTTS' ILLUSTRATED HISTORIES.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S OPINION OF ABBOTTS' HISTORIES.—In a conversation with the President just before his death, Mr. Lincoln said: "I want to thank you and your brother for Abbotts' series of Histories. I have not education enough to appreciate the profound works of voluminous historians; and if I had, I have no time to read them. But your series of Histories gives me, in brief compass, just that knowledge of past men and events which I need. I have read them with the greatest interest. To them I am indebted for about all the historical knowledge I have."

PUBLISHED BY HARPER & BROTHERS, NEW YORK.

HARPER & BROTHERS will send any of the above works by mail, postage prepaid, to any part of the United States or Canada, on receipt of the price.

IMPORTANT FEATURES.

HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE will continue to furnish its readers every week the usual variety of entertaining and instructive reading matter. The authors and artists who regularly contribute to its columns form a combination of talent which is without a parallel in the annals of juvenile literature. Wherever an intelligent interest is taken in the education of the young, it has won enthusiastic friends. SPRIGHTLY STORIES, STIRRING POEMS, AMUSING RHYMES, DIVERTING ANECDOTES, INGENIOUS PUZZLES, &c., will be found in every number. Both boys and girls will find HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE valuable hints as to pleasant methods of spending their leisure time in the playground, in the family circle, or in the social gathering. NUMEROUS ILLUSTRATIONS of the finest description will appear weekly in the paper, and carefully executed COPIES OF NOTED PAINTINGS will be given from time to time. The enlargement of the POST-OFFICE BOX enables that favorite department to serve more efficiently than ever the purposes for which it was instituted; and letters from subscribers requesting or conveying information, or soliciting exchanges of youthful treasures, will always be welcome.

WILLSON'S READERS AND SPELLERS.

SCHOOL AND FAMILY SERIES.

Beautifully Illustrated.

I. The Primer, adapted to interest and instruct small children, begins with the Alphabet, and extends to words of four letters. It has much of the simple, conversational style.

II. The First Reader, beginning with easy words of four letters in Part I, extends to easy words of six letters in Parts IV, and V., and a few easy words of two and three syllables. Indications are given where required, but no rules.

III. The Second Reader is divided into Seven Parts, each preceded by one or more simple elocutionary lessons, designed for the Teacher only.

IV. The Third Reader contains, after a brief synopsis of the "Elements of Elocution," Part I. Stories from the Bible; Part II. Moral Lessons; Part III. First Division of Animal Life—Quadrupeds, &c.; Part IV. Miscellaneous.

V. The Fourth Reader contains the "Elements of Elocution," the same as in the Third Reader, as frequent reference is made to the Rules. Part I. Treats of Human Physiology; Part II. Second Division of Animal Life—Ornithology, or Birds; Part III. First Division of Vegetable Physiology, or Botany; Part IV. Miscellaneous; Part V. First Division of Natural Philosophy; Part VI. ## INTERMEDIATE READERS.

A Third Reader, designed as an Intermediate book, to be used between the Second and Third Readers of the School and Family Series, by those who wish an additional book for this grade of pupils. Much of the matter in this book is practical, and is thus specially adapted to illustrate the rules of good reading contained in the Introductory article. A leading idea, also, has been to introduce a great variety of acting and talking characters, in different circumstances and positions in life, that their conduct might be made available to teach important Moral Lessons; and, especially, to enforce by example the principles of right and duty.

A Fourth Reader, designed to be used between the Third and Fourth of the regular Series. A leading object in this book has been to introduce as great a variety as possible of the best selections and adaptations in the different kinds of composition, in both prose and poetry, with such brief notes and explanations as shall best prepare the way for the Intermediate Fifth, or Rhetorical Reader. The Notes also furnish an analysis of both the meaning and literary character of the lessons.

A Fifth Reader, to be used between the Fourth and Fifth of the regular Series. This book, designed with special reference to Rhetorical and Elocutionary instruction through the medium of the reading-lessons, embraces, in their natural order, the leading kinds of composition as they are affected by figurative language; the whole forming a work illustrative of the principles of Rhetoric, Criticism, Elocution, and Oratory. The Plan of the work necessarily requires the greatest variety of good illustrative selections which the size of the volume will permit.

SPELLERS.

I. The Primary Speller contains a simple and progressive course of lessons in Spelling, with Reading and Dictation Exercises, and the Elements of Oral and Written Compositions. It is designed as a graduated system of Mental Development in the use of words.

II. The Larger Speller, designed to carry out the general principles embraced in the Primary, contains a progressive course of lessons in Spelling, arranged according to the principles of Orthography and Grammatical Construction, with exercises in Spelling, for spelling, and writing, and a new and practical Definitions, by the use of sentences.

III. The New Speller and Analyzer, by an ingenious system of analysis, which merely indicates the particular locations of all parts, and the correct use of many thousand derivatives, this book is made to contain several times the number of words embraced in any other speller of the same size; while the whole is aided through elementary instruction in Orthography, Etymology, Formation, Location, and Use of words.

The leading idea of the higher numbers of the School and Family Series is to popularize, to the capacities of children, the Higher English Branches of Study, and to adapt the whole, in a Series of INTERESTING, INSTRUCTIVE, and PROGRESSIVE Reading-Lessons, to the wants of our Public as well as Private Schools.

No other Series of Reader makes any approach to this in EXTENT, VARIETY, BREVITY, and UTILITY of ILLUSTRATIONS.
