CLARK'S NEW ENGLISH GRAMMAR.

A Practical Grammar, in which Words, Phrases, and Sentences are classified, according to their offices, and their relation to each other: illustrated by a complete system of Diagrams. By S. W. CLARK, A. M. Price 50 cts.

"It is a most capital work, and well calculated, if we mistake not, to supersede, even in our best schools, works of much loftier pretension. The peculiarity of its method grow out of the best practice of its author (as he himself assures us in its preface) while engaged in communicating the science to an adult class; and his success was fully commensurate with the happy and philosophic design he has unfolded."—Rahway Register.

"This new work strikes us very favorably. Its deviations from older books of the kind are generally judicious and often important. We wish teachers would examine it."—New York Tribune.

"It is prepared upon a new plan, to meet difficulties which the author has encountered in practical instruction. Grammar and the structure of language are taught throughout by analysis, and in a way which renders their acquisition easy and satisfactory. From the slight examination, which is all we have been able to give it, we are convinced it has points of very decided superiority over any of the elementary works in common use. We commend it to the attention of all who are engaged in instruction."—New York Courier and Enquirer.

"From a thorough examination of your method of teaching the English language, I am prepared to give it my unqualified approbation. It is a plan original and beautiful—well adapted to the capacities of learners of every age and stage of advancement."—A. R. Simmons, Ex-Superintendent of Bristol.

"I have, under my immediate instruction in English Grammar, a class of more than fifty ladies and gentlemen from the Teachers' Department, who, having studied the grammars in common use, concur with me in expressing a decided preference for 'Clark's New Grammar,' which we have used as a text-book since its publication, and which will be retained as such in this school hereafter."—Professor Brittan, Principal of Lyons Union School.

"Clark's Grammar I have never seen equalled for practicability, which is of the utmost importance in all school-books."—S. B. Clark, Principal of Scarborough Academy, Maine.

"The Grammar is just such a book as I wanted, and I shall make it the text-book in my school."—William Brickley, Teacher at Canastota, N. Y.

"This original production will, doubtless, become an indispensable auxiliary to restore the English language to its appropriate rank in our systems of education. After a cursory perusal of its contents, we are tempted to assert that it foretells the dawn of a brighter age to our mother tongue."—Southern Literary Gazette.

"I have examined your work on Grammar, and do not hesitate to pronounce it superior to any work with which I am acquainted. I shall introduce it into the Mount Morris Union School at the first proper opportunity."—H. G. Winslow, A. M., Principal of Mount Morris Union School.

"Professor Clark's new work on Grammar, containing Diagrams illustrative of his system, is, in my opinion, a most excellent treatise on 'the Science of the English Language.' The author has studiously and properly excluded from his book the technicalities, jargon, and ambiguity which so often render attempts to teach grammar unpleasant, if not impracticable. The inductive plan which he has adopted, and of which he is, in teaching grammar, the originator, is admirably adapted to the great purpose of both teaching and learning the important science of our language."—S. N. Sweet, Author of 'Sweet's Elocution'.

ELOCUTIONARY WORKS,

BY CHARLES NORTHEND,
PRINCIPAL OF THE EPPES SCHOOL, SALEM, MASS.

- I. NORTHEND'S LITTLE SPEAKER.
- II. NORTHEND'S AMERICAN SPEAKER.
- III. NORTHEND'S SCHOOL DIALOGUES.

I. NORTHEND'S LITTLE SPEAKER.

"THE LITTLE SPEAKER, AND JUVENILE READER.—Mr. Northend is known, both as an experienced teacher, and as the author of the 'American Speaker,' and other educational works. The object of this little work is, to provide the means for exercising quite young pupils in declamation. Mr. Northend justly remarks, that the longer exercises in declamation and composition are delayed, the more difficult it will be to awaken an interest in them. This little volume is well adapted to its purpose."—Vermont Chronicle.

II. NORTHEND'S AMERICAN SPEAKER.

"AMERICAN SPEAKER.—This is an admirable book—and as the exercise of declamation, of late, is considered essential to a good and finished education, and is introduced into our best schools as an important element, we hope that this volume of well-selected pieces, compiled with great care by the author from our best writers, will find its way into the hands of every school boy."—Barnstable Patriot.

"AMERICAN SPEAKER, by Charles Northend, Principal of the Eppes School, Salem.—In this work, Mr. Northend seems perfectly to have accomplished the object he had in view. The selections are made with perfect taste, and afford an ample variety, to meet all occasions. Wherever a work of this description is wanted, this may be safely recommended, as possessing every desirable attribute. It is for sale by all our booksellers."—Salem (Mass.) Gazette.

"It is the best compilation of the kind we have ever examined. The selections are of a high character, and an elevated moral tone is prominent throughout the work. The book is divided into three parts—the first being composed of sixty-two prose exercises; the second, of thirty-four interesting dialogues; and the last, of seventy short poems. We hope this book will soon be extensively introduced into our schools. The author truly remarks in the preface, 'The advantages of frequent practice in speaking are so many and so great, that it should receive more prominence in all our schools.'"—Salem (Mass.) Advertiser.

III. NORTHEND'S SCHOOL DIALOGUES.

"The character of the author of this work is a guarantee that it is a book of good practical common sense—one that will take hold of the youthful mind, and delight and interest it. A cursory examination has fully confirmed us in this favorable opinion. The author has selected such dialogues as contain good sentiments, and such as will have a salutary influence on the mind of the young."—Teacher's Advocate.

"The selections manifest an intimate knowledge of the wants of the young, a scrupulous regard to the sentiments inculcated, and an eye to combined instruction and amusement. They are preferable to any other books of the same character with which we are acquainted, from the greater variety of the selections, and from their being culled to a considerable extent from the works of modern authors. Children tire of old threadbare pieces, however good they may be; and novelty has ever for them peculiar attraction."—Gloucester Times.

THEORY AND PRACTICE OF TEACHING;

OR THE

MOTIVES OF GOOD SCHOOL-KEEPING.

BY DAVID PAGE, A. M.,

LATE PRINCIPAL OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, NEW YORK.

"I received a few days since your 'Theory and Practice, &c.' and a capital theory and capital practice it is. I have read it with unmingled delight. Even if I should look through a critic's microscope, I should hardly find a single sentiment to dissent from, and certainly not one to condemn. The chapters on Prizes and on Corporal Punishment are truly admirable. They will exert a most salutary influence. So of the views sparsim on moral and religious instruction, which you so earnestly and feelingly insist upon, and yet within true Protestant limits. IT IS A GRAND BOOK, AND I THANK HEAVEN THAT YOU HAVE WRITTEN IT."—Hon. Horace Mann, Secretary of the Board of Education in Massachusetts.

"Were it our business to examine teachers, we would never dismiss a candidate without naming this book. Other things being equal, we would greatly prefer a teacher who has read it and speaks of it with enthusiasm. In one indifferent to such a work, we should certainly have little confidence, however he might appear in other respects. Would that every teacher employed in Vermont this winter had the spirit of this book in his bosom, its lessons impressed upon his heart!"—Vermont Chronicle.

"I am pleased with and commend this work to the attention of school teachers, and those who intend to embrace that most estimable profession, for light and instruction to guide and govern them in the discharge of their delicate and important duties."—N. S. Benton, Superintendent of Common Schools, State of New York.

Hon. S. Young says, "It is altogether the best book on this subject I have ever seen."

President North, of Hamilton College, says, "I have read it with all that absorbing self-denying interest, which in my younger days was reserved for fiction and poetry. I am delighted with the book."

Hon. Marcus S. Reynolds says, "It will do great good by showing the Teacher what should be his qualifications, and what may justly be required and expected of him."

"I wish you would send an agent through the several towns of this State with Page's 'Theory and Practice of Teaching,' or take some other way of bringing this valuable book to the notice of every family and of every teacher. I should be rejoiced to see the principles which it presents as to the motives and methods of good school-keeping carried out in every school-room; and as nearly as possible, in the style in which Mr. Page illustrates them in his own practice, as the devoted and accomplished Principal of your State Normal School."—Henry Barnard, Superintendent of Common Schools for the State of Rhode Island.

"The 'Theory and Practice of Teaching,' by D. P. Page, is one of the best books of the kind I have ever met with. In it the theory and practice of the teacher's duties are clearly explained and happily combined. The style is easy and familiar, and the suggestions it contains are plain, practical, and to the point. To teachers especially it will furnish very important aid in discharging the duties of their high and responsible profession."—Roger S. Howard, Superintendent of Common Schools, Orange Co., Vt.

FULTON & EASTMAN'S PENMANSHIP.

Illustrated and expeditiously taught by the Use of a Series of Chirographic Charts, a Key, and a set of School Writing-Books, appropriately ruled.

1. CHIROGRAPHIC CHARTS,
IN TWO NUMBERS. (Price $5.)

PART No. I. Embraces Primary Exercises, and Elementary Principles in Writing.

PART No. II. Embraces Elementary Principles for Capitals Combined, and Elementary Principles for Small Letters Combined.

2. KEY TO CHIROGRAPHIC CHARTS;

Containing directions for the position at the desk, and manner of holding the pen.—Also for the exact forms and proportions of letters, with Rules for their execution. (Price 25 cents.)

3. SCHOOL WRITING-BOOKS,
IN FOUR NUMBERS. (Price 12½ cents each.)

"The undersigned, trustees of the Union District School of the town of Lyons, take this method of expressing their approval of 'Fulton's Principles of Penmanship.' They have seen the system in operation, during the past year, in the school with which they are connected, and are fully satisfied of its great superiority over all other systems heretofore used. The 'Chirographic Charts,' upon which are drawn in large size the different letters and parts of the alphabet, proportioned in accordance with the rules laid down by the author for the formation of each letter, and which, when suspended, can be seen from all parts of a school-room of ordinary size, they regard as an especial improvement upon, and advantage over, other modes of teaching this art."—From the Trustees of the Union School, Lyons, N. Y.

"Mr. Fulton's system I deem to be the best I ever saw, and I have no hesitation in recommending it. There is an exactness about Mr. F.'s method of teaching this art, which seems to defy the possibility of pupils becoming any thing but accomplished proficient."—Jno. Whitehead, Commissioner of Public Schools for the city of Newark.

"Your theory and practice of Penmanship, which I have had several opportunities to see tested and applied, is, in my opinion, truly philosophical, and fully justifies the high estimate formed of it by all to whom it has been exhibited."—Rev. O. R. Howard, A. M., Late Principal of Fairfield Academy.

"It is with pleasure I inform you that your Chirographic Charts are in use in the Union School of this village, with admirable success. In my humble opinion, they must meet with universal approbation."—W. D. Stuart.

"We believe that Mr. Fulton is the first author who has attempted to teach the art of penmanship by rule. Heretofore, imitation has been almost the sole principle used to direct the student in acquiring a knowledge of chirography, and as every teacher has a system peculiar to himself, no uniform plan of instruction could be successfully introduced into our common schools. Mr. Fulton has rendered an essential service to the cause of education, in perfecting a system which does not, at every change of teacher, require a variation in the handwriting of the pupil."—Rochester Monthly Educator.

"Fulton & Eastman's charts are in use in the Union and Select Schools of this village, and also in other schools of this town and county, and with the happiest success. The scholars, charmed with the novelty which the system continually presents and the ease with which they master its principles, vie with each other in their efforts to excel, and are rewarded by acquiring a beautiful 'hand' and neat mechanical execution—and at the same time, the teacher is relieved from the perplexing practice of random teaching, so universal in our schools."—James M. Phinney, County Superintendent, Monroe Co., East Dist.

Fulton & Eastman's Book-keeping.

A PRACTICAL SYSTEM OF BOOK-KEEPING.

BY LEVI S. FULTON & G. W. EASTMAN.

Containing three distinct forms of Books, adapted for the Farmer, Mechanic, and Merchant—to which is added a variety of useful forms for practical use viz.: Notes, Bills, Drafts, Receipts, &c., &c. Also a Compendium of Rules of Evidence applicable to Books of Account, and of Law in reference to the Collection of Promissory Notes, &c.

BOOK-KEEPING BLANKS. (Two Nos. in a set.)

Adapted to Fulton & Eastman's Book-keeping.

The use of these Blank Books will be found very important in familiarizing the scholar with the forms requisite to the keeping of accounts according to Fulton & Eastman's system.

"I have examined with much satisfaction Fulton & Eastman's System of Book-Keeping, and take pleasure in recommending its adoption to my immediate friends and others. It is simple and easily reduced to practice, and possesses a peculiar adaptation to the wants of the community for which it is designed. The plan for Merchants' Books, which I examined more critically than other portions of the work, is very neat, compact, and economical, and must ensure a great degree of accuracy in keeping accounts."—Elijah Bottom, Book-keeper for John M. French & Co., Rochester, N. Y.

"I have examined Messrs. Fulton & Eastman's 'Practical System of Book-Keeping,' and am pleased with the work. As a branch of Education, Book-Keeping is well deserving a high estimation; and, I will add, there is none of equal importance and utility more generally neglected, particularly in our public schools. The work is plain, simple, and comprehensive, and well adapted to meet the wants of the business community. In many respects I deem it superior to any other work of the kind with which I am acquainted. I shall recommend it to the schools under my charge."—John T. Mackenzie, Town Superintendent.

"FULTON & EASTMAN'S BOOK-KEEPING.—We had supposed that, in the multiplicity of works on Book-Keeping, hardly any thing valuable remained to be suggested by later authors, should any such present themselves. But we have been convinced of our short-sightedness in examining the work with the above title, now before us. The work is principally designed for schools—for common schools—but should be in the hands of every Farmer, Mechanic, and Merchant in the land. It opens with a system of account-keeping for farmers, followed by one for mechanics, and this, in turn, by an admirable and comprehensive system of mercantile Book-keeping, which, for its simplicity, and time and labor saving properties, possesses advantages over all other systems with which we are acquainted."—Way & Co. Whig.

"We are very much pleased with the design and execution of this work. It is exceedingly practical; being by single entry, containing three different forms of books, for the Farmer, the Merchant, and Mechanic. To these are added notes, bills, drafts, receipts, and a compendium of rules of evidence applicable to books of account, and of law in reference to the collection of promissory notes. A work of such a character, and of so much practical value, speaks for itself, and stands in need of no commendation from us to ensure it a large sale among all classes."—Albany Spectator.

"I should think it admirably adapted as a Text-Book for schools, and the study of it of much greater importance than it has hitherto been considered. I hardly know whether the Book is of more importance to scholars in school, or to Farmers, Mechanics, or business men. The system, to which is added a variety of useful forms, which most business men have occasion to use more or less, is certainly well worth the price of the Book, to any man transacting business to the amount of twenty-five dollars a year."—E. L. Jones, Book-keeper, Michigan.

Brooks's Greek and Latin Classics.

PROFESSOR BROOKS'S GREEK AND LATIN CLASSICS.

This series of the GREEK and LATIN CLASSICS, by N. C. Brooks, of Baltimore, is on an improved plan, with peculiar adaptation to the wants of the American student. To secure accuracy of text in the works that are to appear, the latest and most approved European editions of the different classical authors will be consulted. Original illustrative and explanatory notes, prepared by the Editor, will accompany the text. These notes, though copious, will be intended to direct and assist the student in his labors, rather than by rendering every thing too simple, to supersede the necessity of due exertion on his own part, and thus induce indolent habits of study and reflection, and feebleness of intellect.

In the notes that accompany the text, care will be taken, on all proper occasions, to develop and promote in the mind of the student, sound principles of Criticism, Rhetoric, History, Political Science, Morals, and general Religion; so that he may contemplate the subject of the author he is reading, not within the circumscribed limits of a mere rendering of the text, but consider it in all its extended connections—and thus learn to think, as well as to translate.

BROOKS'S FIRST LATIN LESSONS.

This is adapted to any Grammar of the language. It consists of a Grammar, Reader, and Dictionary combined, and will enable any one to acquire a knowledge of the elements of the Latin Language, without an instructor. It has already passed through five editions. 18mo.

BROOKS'S CÆSAR'S COMMENTARIES. (In press.)

This edition of the Commentaries of Cæsar on the Gallic War, besides critical and explanatory notes embodying much information, of an historical, topographical, and military character, is illustrated by maps, portraits, views, plans of battles, &c. It has a good Clavis, containing all the words. Nearly ready. 12mo.

BROOKS'S OVID'S METAMORPHOSES. 8vo.

This edition of Ovid is expurgated, and freed from objectionable matter. It is elucidated by an analysis and explanation of the fables, together with original English notes, historical, mythological, and critical, and illustrated by pictorial embellishments; with a Clavis giving the meaning of all the words with critical exactness. Each fable contains a plate from an original design, and an illuminated initial letter.

BROOKS'S ECGLOGUES AND GEORGICS OF VIRGIL. (In press.)

This edition of Virgil is elucidated by copious original notes, and extracts from ancient and modern pastoral poetry. It is illustrated by plates from original designs, and contains a Clavis giving the meaning of all the words. 8vo.

BROOKS'S FIRST GREEK LESSONS. 12mo.

This Greek elementary is on the same plan as the Latin Lessons, and affords equal facilities to the student. The paradigm of the Greek verb has been greatly simplified and a valuable exercises in comparative philology introduced.

BROOKS'S GREEK COLLECTANEA EVANGELICA. 12mo.

This consists of portions of the Four Gospels in Greek, arranged in Chronological order; and forms a connected history of the principal events in the Saviour's life and ministry. It contains a Lexicon, and is illustrated and explained by notes.

BROOKS'S GREEK PASTORAL POETS. (In press.)

This contains the Greek Idyls of Theocritus, Bion, and Moschus, elucidated by notes and copious extracts from ancient and modern pastoral poetry. Each Idyl is illustrated by beautiful plates from original designs. It contains a good Lexicon.

Miscellaneous Books.

POPE'S HOMER'S ILIAD. 32mo. sheep.

This edition of the translation of Homer is used not only as a volume for the Library, but as a text-book in grammar classes in Schools and Academies.

POLYMICRIAN NEW TESTAMENT. (ILLUSTRATED WITH MAPS.)

This is the only edition of Polymicrian New Testament published in this country. It contains short explanatory Notes, and numerous references to illustrative and parallel passages, printed in a centre column.

WATTS ON THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE MIND. WITH QUESTIONS.

There is no book better adapted for the School Room, or more calculated to be useful to the youth of our country, than a familiar acquaintance with the sound instruction of this learned divine, given in this manual.

"An old substantial author in a new dress,—a little volume of 281 pages, in a neat but cheap form, worth its weight in gold; no sensible discriminating man would ever think of collecting a library without including this work. For a professing Christian to say that he has never read it, would argue that his reading had been superficial indeed. It is neither dry nor uninteresting, but it is filled with solid and useful truths."—Western Paper.

COLTON'S PUBLIC ECONOMY FOR THE UNITED STATES.

ONE VOL. 8vo.

"In this volume of 536 pages octavo, Mr. Colton, who is favorably known to the American public as the author of the 'Life of Clay,' the 'Junius Tracts,' and other popular works, has supplied the desideratum of a complete defence of the protective system, and an answer to the numerous works on the Free Trade side of the question. As far as we are able to judge from the opportunity we have had to examine the elaborate arguments of the author in the work before us, it appears to us that he has produced a work not only calculated to refute the points made by writers in favor of free trade, but sufficient to puzzle them to find ready answers to many of the positions he has taken. We rather think they will be disposed either to misrepresent him, or to pass over in silence some of his most potent arguments."—New York Tribune.

GOULD'S ABRIDGMENT OF ALISON'S EUROPE. ONE VOL. 8vo.

This work presents a comprehensive and perfect view of Europe during the stormy period from 1789 to 1815, in clear and perspicuous language, and in a beautiful style. Its publication supplies a desideratum in History, there being no work of a similar character attainable by the public, except at four times the expense. It is well adapted as a class-book in History for Colleges, Academies, and Schools, as well as for the general reader.

COLTON'S LIFE AND TIMES OF HENRY CLAY. In Two Vols. 8vo.

"Mr. Colton has done his work—a great work—bravely and well. This is the first successful life of Henry Clay yet written. This describes the man, not as a politician, orator, statesman, alone, but as all—and that honestly, candidly, thoughtfully, and the darkest and deepest passages intelligibly and philosophically. The chapters of his early life and personal character are beautiful, and the account of his political rise intensely interesting."—Hunt's Merchant's Magazine.

Kingsley's Valuable Music Books.

VALUABLE MUSIC BOOKS.

Edited by Geo. Kingsley, Professor of Music—author of "Social Choir," "Sacred Choir," &c.

KINGSLEY'S JUVENILE CHOIR

A selection of the choicest melodies from the German, Italian, French, English, and American composers. Designed for public and private schools, and for young classes in academies and seminaries. Price 40 cts.

KINGSLEY'S YOUNG LADIES' HARP.

A selection of secular and sacred music, arranged in two and three parts, with a Piano Accompaniment. Designed for female seminaries, and the social circle. Price 75 cts.

KINGSLEY'S HARP OF DAVID.

A collection of Church Music, consisting of selections from the most distinguished composers, together with original pieces by the editor—also a progressive system of Elementary instruction for pupils. Price $1.00.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Gilbert Combs, Principal of the Female Seminary, Philadelphia.

Among the numerous works now prepared for youth, few are worthy of taking a higher rank than Kingsley's Juvenile Choir. Arranged in a style calculated to enlist the youthful feelings, it is still free from common-place or imperfect harmonies. It is chaste in style, simple and pure in sentiment, and vigorous in tone. Much of the music is original, and the favorite airs that are copied, are much improved in harmony and adaptation. * * * * * A judicious teacher, with the aid of such a manual, can hardly fail to produce good scholars. * * *

From the Louisville Journal.

KINGSLEY'S JUVENILE CHOIR.—This is the title of a delightful little collection of vocal music for the use of children. The tunes are well selected, and there is a great deal of beautiful poetry which children will feel. It would be a treat to hear some of these songs sung by a school of sweet young voices. Music should be taught in every primary school. Nothing can be better for cultivating the taste and sweetening the affections. Men are too much inclined to believe that the only object in education is to enable the pupil to count up dollars and cents. They forget that there are other objects much more important than to make of man a good calculating machine.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel.

KINGSLEY'S HARP OF DAVID.—This is an excellent collection of Church Music, consisting of the best selections from distinguished composers, and a number of original pieces. It is compiled by George Kingsley, professor of music and author of "The Sacred Choir," &c. By way of preface, there is a very complete and intelligible elementary course of instruction in vocal music. The work is very neatly printed and got up, throughout, in excellent taste. It is not only a useful assistant for the choirs of churches, but may be introduced with advantage into the school-room and the family circle. It embraces 360 pages, and contains no less than 317 different tunes. We believe, indeed, that it is the most complete collection of Church Music now in print.

Kingsley's Valuable Music Books.From the New York Courier & Enquirer.

THE YOUNG LADIES' HARP. By George Kingsley.—This is a very judicious selection and arrangement from the works of the most popular Italian composers; the music selected, being adapted to English words frequently selected from the best of our American poets. Some of the simplest German and of the best English vocal compositions or arrangements from instrumental works, will be found scattered through the volume. It is a publication admirably calculated to beget and diffuse a taste for the better sort of music. It is distinctly printed on white paper.

Extract from the New York Evangelist.

The best pieces, besides the old standards which make their appearance in every book, are decidedly those of Mr. Kingsley's own composition—the grace and sentiment of whose style, the public know and appreciate.

From the Christian Observer.

YOUNG LADIES' HARP.—This is a beautiful book of music, printed in superior style, on fair paper, with an embellished title-page—containing a choice collection of pieces, which will render it a favorite in those parlors where music is cultivated. The compositions in the secular department are chaste and elevated in spirit and character. The sacred pieces comprise an excellent selection, embracing among others the following—"Bow down thine ear, O Lord;" Brattle-Street; China; Emanuel; Greenwood; Haydn; Messiah; Northampton; Prentiss; Siloam, &c., &c.

From "Wright's Paper" for the Dissemination of Useful Knowledge.

THE JUVENILE CHOIR.—A selection of the choicest melodies from the German, French, English, and American composers—designed for public and private schools, and for young classes in academies and seminaries—is the first of a series of musical works prepared by Prof. Kingsley, and which appears to us admirably adapted to the use of the young in public and private schools. There is a purity of sentiment in the selections made by Prof. Kingsley for his series which is commendable. We recommend this series to the attention of parents and teachers opposed to the low, debasing, doggerel rhymes so widely disseminated.

The second in this series of musical works is styled "THE YOUNG LADIES' HARP;" a selection of secular and sacred music from distinguished composers—arranged in two and three parts, with a Piano Accompaniment, designed for female academies, seminaries, and senior classes in public and private schools, and for the social circle.

The third is entitled, "THE HARP OF DAVID."—A collection of Church Music, consisting of selections from the most distinguished composers, and a number of original pieces by the editor—with a progressive system of elementary instruction for pupils. This is the last of the series, and we can truly say of this, as also of the other two, they are excellent, and well worthy the extensive patronage they have received.

From the Connecticut Whig

THE JUVENILE CHOIR.—This is the best musical manual for children we ever saw. George Kingsley, its author, is a composer of exquisite taste, and some of his collections have never been surpassed. This book has been introduced on account of its intrinsic excellence, into the Hartford Female Seminary.

*Music for Schools.SCHOOL SONG AND HYMN BOOK.

BY N. BRITTON &amp; L. H. SHEERWOOD.

This work contains copious selections of Hymns and select pieces, adapted to the various popular tunes now so familiar and agreeable to the many children, who begin to make music a part of their education. It will be found that the character of the poetry is elevated. The musical references, which accompany nearly every piece, will be found useful in the selection of tunes. Indeed, the time is not far distant when a School Hymn Book will be found as indispensable, as a Church Hymn Book now is.

"This is quite out of our line. We cannot sing and are ashamed to confess that we have 'no music in our souls.' We probably have, therefore, but a faint appreciation of the beauties of this volume. It was collected from many sources for the use of schools in which singing is taught. The pieces are sacred and secular, but seem to have been selected with reference to their literary merit and lyrical capabilities. We believe that the moral tone of every piece is unexceptionable, while many are of a decidedly religious character. It is, we doubt not, well adapted to schools where singing is a branch of instruction."—N. Y. State Register.

KINGSLEY'S JUVENILE CHOIR.

This work by the author of "The Social Choir," will be found to contain some of the choicest gems. It has been recommended as the best Music Book for schools extant, and a very proper companion to the "School Song and Hymn Book," by Messrs. Britton and Sherwood.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Gilbert Combs, Principal of the Female Seminary, Philadelphia.

"Among the numerous works now prepared for youth, few are worthy of taking a higher rank than 'Kingsley's Juvenile Choir.' Arranged in a style calculated to enlist the youthful feelings, it is still free from common-place or imperfect harmonies. It is chaste in style, simple and pure in sentiment, and vigorous in tone. Much of the music is original, and the favorite airs that are copied, are much improved in harmony and adaptation. * * * * * A judicious teacher, with the aid of such a manual, can hardly fail to produce good scholars." * * *

KINGSLEY'S YOUNG LADIES' HARP.

A selection of Secular and Sacred Music, arranged in two and three parts, with a Piano accompaniment. Designed for female seminaries, and the social circle.

CRUIKSHANK'S SABBATH SCHOOL GEMS.

This work contains a collection of music and poetry, designed for Sabbath Schools, and will be found worthy of a place in any school where music is taught.

KINGSLEY'S HARP OF DAVID.

A collection of Church Music, consisting of selections from the most distinguished composers, together with original pieces by the editor. Also, a progressive system Elementary instruction for pupils.

KINGSLEY'S SACRED HARMONIST.

A new collection of original pieces—adapted to Church Choirs, as well as Academies.

McIntyre's Astronomy and Study of the Globes.

A NEW TREATISE ON

ASTRONOMY AND THE USE OF THE GLOBES.

Containing Definitions, Motions and Positions of the Sun, Moon, and Planets; Kepler's Laws, and the Theory of Gravitation; Gravitation; Refraction; Twilight and Parallax; Connections, Periods, Distances, Phenomena and Magnitudes of the Heavenly Bodies, composing the Solar System, &c.; Also, an extensive collection of the most useful Problems on the Globes; illustrated by a suitable variety of examples.

BY JAMES M'INTYRE, M. D.,

PROFESSOR OF MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY IN THE CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL OF BALTIMORE.

"This is a very complete and valuable elementary treatise, and the best astronomical work for the use of schools that we remember to have seen. While the information is in a very condensed form, simplicity is not sacrificed to brevity."—Boston Transcript.

"Astronomy is one of the most pleasing studies that can engage the attention of youth. It elevates the mind above the poor, mean, transitory things of this earth, to the contemplation of pure, holy heavenly objects. Although many books have been written, intended to impart a knowledge of this sublime study to the rising generation, yet we have never come across anything that pleased us half so well as the volume before us. Dr. McIntyre's arrangement and analysis of the subject is admirable, and is peculiarly adapted for schools. He has prepared a great number of problems and gives examples, which the learner cannot fail to understand. We cordially recommend the volume to the attention of teachers and school directors, believing that it is superior to any other book now in use."—Pittsburgh Post.

Extract of a Letter from the Baltimore Public School Teachers.

BALTIMORE, FEBRUARY, 1850.

Respected Sir:—We have carefully examined McIntyre's "New Treatise on Astronomy and the Use of the Globes," and we are fully persuaded that no work on these subjects that has hitherto come under our notice, will compare with it in its adaptation to general use in our schools. We are much pleased to learn that the Board of School Commissioners have resolved to introduce it as a 'standard text-book' in the Public High Schools of this city. Such resolve on the part of the Commissioners evinces their correct discrimination of what is really useful, and that they can rightly appreciate the merits of a work, and in the production of which you have unquestionably expended much labor and research, and at the same time shown a critical knowledge of the principles of the science.

OWEGO, N. Y., MARCH 23, 1850.

"I have examined with some care the copy of McIntyre's Astronomy you so kindly sent me. I am much pleased with it, and think that such a work, upon the interesting science of which it treats, is much needed in our Academies and High Schools. I suppose the book is not intended so much to give the pupil the names and localities of the several constellations, as to teach physical, mathematical, and practical astronomy. The mathematical demonstrations of the principles of astronomy have not generally found a place in our school books on that science, and I have long felt that that part of astronomy has been much neglected. I am glad to see that place filled by the work of Prof. McIntyre."

Gillespie's Manual of Road-Making.

GILLESPIE ON ROADS AND RAILROADS.

A MANUAL OF ROAD-MAKING.

Comprising the principles and practice of the Location, Construction, and Improvement of Roads, (common, macadam, paved, plank, &c.) and RAILROADS. By W. M. GILLESPIE, A. M., Professor of Civil Engineering in Union College. Price $1.50.

"I have very carefully looked over Professor Gillespie's Manual of Road-Making. It is, in all respects, the best work on this subject with which I am acquainted; being, from its arrangement, comprehensiveness, and clearness, equally adapted to the wants of Students of Civil Engineering, and the purposes of persons in any way engaged in the construction or supervision of roads. The appearance of such a work, twenty years earlier, would have been a truly national benefit, and it is to be hoped that its introduction into our seminaries may be so general as to make a knowledge of the principles and practice of this branch of engineering, as popular as is its importance to all classes of the community."—Professor Mahan, of the Military Academy.

"This work contains in a condensed form, all the principles, both ancient and modern, of this most important art; and almost every thing useful in the great mass of writers on this subject. . . . Such a work as this performs a great service for those who are destined to construct roads—by showing not only what ought to be done, but what ought not to be done; thus saving immense outlay of money, and loss of time in experiments. . . . The committee, therefore, recommend it to the public."—Report of a Committee of the American Institute.

"The views of the author are sound and practical, and should be read by the people throughout the entire length and breadth of the land. . . . We recommend this Manual to the perusal of every tax-payer for road-making, and to the young men of the country, as they will find useful information in relation to each department of road-making, which will surely be useful to them in after-life."—American Railroad Journal.

"If the well-established principles of Road-Making, which are so plainly set forth in Prof. Gillespie's valuable work, and so well illustrated, could be once put into general use in this country, every traveller would bear testimony to the fact that the author is a great public benefactor."—Silliman's American Journal of Science.

"This small volume contains much valuable matter, derived from the best authorities, and set forth in a clear and simple style. For the want of information which is contained in this Manual, serious mistakes are frequently made, and roads are badly located and badly constructed by persons ignorant of the true principles which ought to govern in such cases."—Journal of the Franklin Institute.

"It would astonish many 'path-masters' to see how much they don't know with regard to the very business they have considered themselves such adepts in. Yet all is so simple, so lucid, so straightforward, so manifestly true, that the most ordinary and least instructed mind cannot fail to profit by it. We trust this useful and excellent volume may find its way into every village library if not into every school library, as well as into the hands of every man interested in road-making."—New York Tribune.

"This elaborate and admirable work combines in a systematic and symmetrical form the results of an engineering experience in all parts of the Union, and of an examination of the great roads of Europe, with a careful digestion of all accessible authorities. The six chapters into which it is divided comprehend a methodical treatise upon every part of the whole subject: showing what roads ought to be in the vital points of direction, slope, shape, surface, and cost, and giving methods of performing all the necessary measurements of distances, directions, and heights, without the use of any instruments but such as any mechanic can make, and any farmer can use."—Newark Daily Advertiser.

History of the Mexican War.

THE MEXICAN WAR:

A History of its Origin, with a detailed Account of the Victories which terminated in the surrender of the Capital, with the Official Despatches of the Generals. By EDWARD D. MANSFIELD, Esq. Illustrated with numerous Engravings.

From the Philadelphia North American.

Mr. Mansfield is a writer of superior merit. His style is clear, nervous, and impressive, and, while he does not encumber his narrative with useless ornament, his illustrations are singularly apt and striking. A graduate of West Point, he is of course familiar with military operations; a close and well-read student, he has omitted no sources of information necessary to the purposes of his work; and a shrewd and investigating observer, he sees in events not alone their outward aspects, but the germs which they contain of future development. Thus qualified, it need hardly be said that his history of the war with Mexico deserves the amplest commendation.

From the New York Tribune.

A clear, comprehensive, and manly history of the war, is needed; and we are glad to find this desideratum supplied by Mr. Mansfield's work.

From the New York Courier and Enquirer.

This is really a history, and not an adventurer's pamphlet destined to live for the hour and then be forgotten. It is a volume of some 360 pages, carefully written, from authorities weighed and collated by an experienced writer, educated at West Point, and therefore imbued with a just spirit and sound views, illustrated by plans of the battles, and authenticated by the chief official despatches.

The whole campaign on the Rio Grande, and that, unequalled in brilliancy in any annals, from Vera Cruz to the city of Mexico, are unrolled before the eyes of the reader, and he follows through the spirited pages of the narrative, the daring bands so inferior—in every thing but indomitable will and unwavering self-reliance, and military skill and arms—to the hosts that opposed them, but opposed in vain.

We commend this book cordially to our readers.

From the Baptist Register, Utica.

The military studies of the talented editor of the Cincinnati Chronicle, admirably qualified him to give a truthful history of the stirring events connected with the unhappy war now raging with a sister republic; and though he declares in his preface that he felt no pleasure in tracing the causes, or in contemplating the progress and final consequences of the conflict, yet his graphic pages give proof of his ability and disposition to do justice to the important portion of our nation's history he has recorded. The very respectable house publishing the book, have done great credit to the author and his work, as well as to themselves, in the handsome style in which they have sent it forth.
