INDEX OF FIRST LINES.

	PAGE.
A dew-drop came, with a spark of flame - - -	154
A mighty pain to love it is - - -	225
A sensitive plant in a garden grew - - -	50
A traveller through a dusty road strewed acorns on the lea - - -	145
Ah, yes—the fight! Well, messmates, well - - -	186
All thoughts, all passions, all delights - - -	25
All worldly shapes shall melt in gloom - - -	32
Beautiful Evelyn Hope is dead - - -	37
Behold this ruin! 'T was a skull - - -	213
By Nebo's lonely mountain - - -	91
Columbia, Columbia, to glory arise - - -	172
Do ye hear the children weeping, O my brothers - - -	40
England's sun was slowly setting - - -	109
Every day brings a ship - - -	221
He does well who does his best - - -	49
Her hair was tawny with gold - - -	176
How richly glows the water's breast - - -	46
I don't go much on religion - - -	227
I love contemplating—apart - - -	181
In sleep's serene oblivion laid - - -	222
It is believed that this harp, which I wake now for thee - - -	199
It was a time of sadness, and my heart - - -	87
It was our wedding day - - -	124
Kiss me softly and speak to me low - - -	130
Know ye the land where the cypress and myrtle - - -	108
Lars Porsena of Clusium - - -	65
Listen to the water-mill - - -	122
Mine be a cot, beside the hill - - -	134
My girl hath violet eyes and yellow hair - - -	137
My goddess romped at school - - -	96
My pretty, budding, breathing flower - - -	119
Near yonder copse, where once the garden smiled - - -	224
O, lay thy hand in mine, dear - - -	126
Och hone! Oh! what will I do - - -	150

	PAGE.
Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud	29
O thou vast Ocean! ever-sounding Sea	231
On Alpine heights the love of God is shed	208
Once upon a midnight dreary	113
Outstretched beneath the leafy shade	164
She is not fair to outward view	136
She sits in a fashionable parlor	216
So the truth 's out, I 'll grasp it like a snake	192
Some say that kissing 's a sin	218
The breaking waves dashed high	210
The curfew tolls the knell of parting day	19
There are gains for all our losses	215
There is a land, of every land the pride	174
There was an old decanter	235
There were three sailors of Bristol City	100
There 's something in the "parting hour"	106
Think not that strength lies in the big, round word	233
Thou lingering star, with lessening ray	203
Thou whom chance may hither lead	219
Thought is deeper than all speech	184
Three fishers went sailing out into the west	230
Tired I am, I 'll go to rest	63
'T is morning; and the sun, with ruddy orb	130
Uprising, the lark	203
Waken, lords and ladies gay	162
We are two travellers, Roger and I	102
We walked along, while bright and red	205
When chill November's surly blast	155
When first thou camest, gently, shy, and fond	97
When freedom from her mountain height	169
When the lessons and tasks are all ended	159
Where shall the lover rest	94
Who has not heard of the Vale of Cashmere	148
Whose image never may depart	147
Why do you wail, O Wind? Why do you sigh, O Sea	47
Winter is cold hearted	32
With deep affection	196
You bells in the steeple, ring, ring out your changes	212
You must wake and call me early	9
Your wedding ring wears thin, dear wife	131
