

blished the Imperial government, and whilst waiting for the arrival in Mexico of the Archduke Maximilian of Austria, the following gentlemen exercised the Executive power as regents: Bishop Juan B. Ormaechea, General Don Juan N. Almonte and General Don Mariano Salas.

EMPIRE.

Maximilian of Austria with the title of Maximilian I, 1864 to 1867.

NOTE.—The Author of this work prepared the extract of the new mining code which appears at the beginning of Article XI, and in which that important branch of the national industry is treated, but as there are many persons who will desire to have more details of this law, the translator has included the whole of it, and it will be found in pages 205 to 248.
