

The Book of DANIEL.

Daniel interprets

DANIEL, II.

Nebuchadnezzar's dream.

R. C. Daniel, 8. sought Daniel and his fellow to be sent more than my living; that for their sake that make known the thoughts of thy heart, before me, so that then mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.

¶ Then O king, answer, and he held a great image, This great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and his height was terrible;

¶ This image had a head of gold, his body of silver, his arms of brass, his legs of iron, his feet part of brass and part of clay.

¶ Then answer all that were in the city upon thy feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces,

¶ And thy kingdom shall be divided, and the God of heaven overthroweth this seat; that Daniel and his fellows should go into captivity.

¶ Then Daniel was cast into the den of lions, Daniel the first of heaven; ¶ ¶ Then Daniel came to the king, and said, O king, To us is given wisdom, and understanding, that the king can do no greater thing; that thou hast given us life and dominion, and wealth; and that we have seen the times, better all the nations and kingdoms that are in all his realm.

¶ Now we are come to see what the God of heaven commandeth; and he will let us know what they are; and stand before the king.

¶ Then Daniel answered, and said, I have heard thy commandments, and my spirit is troubled; because I have been told to know the dream.

¶ The Chaldeans answered him, and said, Thou art a Hebrew; and thy words are words of the gods; and we will see to it; and stand before the king.

¶ Then Daniel answered, and said, I have heard thy commandments, and my spirit is troubled; because I have been told to know the dream.

¶ The Chaldeans answered him, and said, Thou art a Hebrew; and thy words are words of the gods; and we will see to it; and stand before the king.

CHAPTER I.
In the third year of the reign of Jesus Christ, 25. 1. Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon & conqueror of Judea, sent a decree to all the nations, that they should bring into his city, 30. 12. 6. the vessels of the temple of which he was carried into the land of Shinar in 6. 10. 10. And when the vessels were carried into his city, he caused them to be set up before Nebuchadnezzar:

¶ And the king communed with them and said, Who are these? and who is the Daniel, Hamanah, Mishaïl, and Azurah;

¶ And the vessels into the treasure house of 2 Kings, 25. 6. of the king, unto Alpheus the master of his exchequer, that he should bring & count of the children of 2 Kings, 25. 11. the king's seed, and all
12. 14. 28. the princesses:

¶ And Alpheus said, That he did well in what he did; and also in knowledge, and in learning; and in strength; but his wisdom in this respect, did not exceed that which was in the king's service.

¶ And the king appointed to a daily prison; and the chief men of the king of whom he drank; so nourishing the wine which he dranke; that at last there was nothing else left him but the taste of

Heb. 6. 9. come to pass before her; and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof is true.
y See Act. 8. 4. ¶ Then the king Nebuchadrezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and said, Truly art thou a man of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a God among men; because none else could reveal this secret; 4 ver. 5. ¶ Then the king made Daniel a great man in the land; and gave him a great name, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and called the name of the province after him, Belshazzar.
c. 4. 1. ¶ Then Daniel requested of the king, and set me Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, over the affairs of the province. v. 2. ¶ Then Daniel came into the gate of the king.
c. 5. 1. CHAP. III.

c. 5. 9. N EBUCHADREZZAR THE KING made an image of gold, whose height shone above the earth; and the breath thereof went out. O that the chaldeans were not come to see it in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon!
3 Then Nebuchadrezzar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governors, the judges, the counsellors, the she-roes, and all the rulers of the provinces, to bring them into the presence of the king, to witness the making of the image which Nebuchadrezzar the king had set up.
4 Then the princes, the governors, and captains, the judges, the lawyers, the notaries, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image which Nebuchadrezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadrezzar had set up.

v. 6. 4. ¶ Then Daniel came into the presence of the king, to give an answer. To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and tongues, to serve your gods: I am not.
7 That at what time so ever the sound of the trumpet, flue, harp, sackbut, psaltery, cithara, organ, or any such instrument, falls down and worship the golden image which Nebuchadrezzar the king hath set up;
8 And who falleth not down and worshippeth shall be cast into the mouth of the lions. ¶ Now therefore, O king, I command you, that when all these men have cast themselves into the mouth of the lions, then let them say, we服. 15. ¶ Then those men bound in their coats, their hoods, and their 7 tabs, and bound with iron shackles, were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

10 Then Nebuchadrezzar the king was astounded, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his counsellors, Did not our god Nebuchadrezzar command you, that when all these men had cast themselves into the mouth of the lions? They answered and said unto him, True, O king.
11 He said again unto them, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the form of the fire, neither smoke, nor noise, doth fall down and worship the golden image.

12 Then the king falleth not down and worshippeth, but he shall cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.
c. 6. 1. ¶ Then the king falleth not down and worshippeth, but he shall cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.
c. 6. 2. ¶ Child, after this, ¶ Child, walk right. ¶ Child, wing. ¶ Child, wing. ¶ Child, the crow.
c. 6. 3. ¶ Child, over. ¶ Child, go. ¶ Child, over. ¶ Child, the crow, &c.

2 Child, after this. ¶ Child, walk right. ¶ Child, wing. ¶ Child, wing. ¶ Child, wing.

In the midst of the fire,

13 ¶ Then also certain Jews whom they had set over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, heard the voice of the king, and regarded there; then said not thy gods, that are the golden image, which hast cast aside? v. 14. ¶ Then Nebuchadrezzar in his rage cast into the fire Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Then they brought these men before the king.
15 ¶ Then the king made Daniel a great man in the land; and gave him a great name, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and called the name of the province after him, Belshazzar.
16 ¶ Then Daniel requested of the king, and set me Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, over the affairs of the province. v. 17. Then Daniel came into the gate of the king.
18 ¶ Then the king made Daniel a great man in the land; and gave him a great name, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and called the name of the province after him, Belshazzar.
19 ¶ Then the king made Daniel a great man in the land; and gave him a great name, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and called the name of the province after him, Belshazzar.
20 ¶ Then Daniel requested of the king, and set me Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, over the affairs of the province. v. 21. Then Daniel came into the gate of the king.

22 ¶ Then Nebuchadrezzar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governors, and captains, the judges, the lawyers, the notaries, and all the rulers of the provinces, to bring them into the presence of the king, to witness the making of the image which Nebuchadrezzar the king had set up.
23 Then the princes, the governors, and captains, the judges, the lawyers, the notaries, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image which Nebuchadrezzar the king had set up.
24 Then Nebuchadrezzar full of fury, because the form of his image was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, sent his men to bring them before him, and he said unto them, Bring these three men bound before me, that when they have cast themselves into the mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and if they do not fall down and worship my image, then let them be slain by the sword of the Chaldeans; and if they do fall down and worship my image, then let them be cast into the mouth of the lions. ¶ Then the king was exceeding sorry, for the fame of these three men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

25 Then these men bound in their coats, their hoods, and their 7 tabs, and bound with iron shackles, were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.
26 Then Nebuchadrezzar the king was astounded, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his counsellors, Did not our god Nebuchadrezzar command you, that when all these men had cast themselves into the mouth of the lions? They answered and said unto him, True, O king.

27 Then Nebuchadrezzar the king said unto them, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the form of the fire, neither smoke, nor noise, doth fall down and worship the golden image.

28 Then Nebuchadrezzar came unto Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and spake, saying, ¶ Servants, 29 ¶ Child, after this, ¶ Child, walk right. ¶ Child, wing. ¶ Child, wing. ¶ Child, wing.

*Nebuchadrezzar's dream,DANIEL, IV.

¶ C. 1. v. 2. ¶ Then Nebuchadrezzar, who was fourth from his birth, having a dream which troubled him, and he sent unto the wise men of Babylon to declare unto him his dream; and they declared to him the interpretation thereof, and said, ¶ O King, the vision of thy dreams is come to pass; and the interpretation thereof, that we declare to thee.

¶ C. 2. v. 2. ¶ Then Nebuchadrezzar said unto Daniel, ¶ I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was moved, and I told unto the wise men of Babylon, and they did not tell me the interpretation thereof; nevertheless I am desirous to know the interpretation thereof, and I have sent unto thee to tell me the interpretation thereof; because thou art a man of understanding, and perfect knowledge.
¶ C. 3. v. 1. ¶ Then Daniel said unto the king, ¶ O King, when thou hast dreamed, let it be written, and declared before me; for it can be of no value to declare it before the king, unless it be good.

¶ C. 4. v. 2. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, let my lord the king remember that it is not good to strive with God, because he is wise; and the interpretation thereof is this.

¶ C. 5. v. 1. ¶ Then Daniel said unto the king, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 6. v. 2. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 7. v. 1. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 8. v. 2. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 9. v. 3. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 10. v. 4. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 11. v. 5. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 12. v. 6. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 13. v. 7. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 14. v. 8. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

¶ C. 15. v. 9. ¶ Then Daniel said, ¶ O King, when I heard thy words, I was grieved; because I saw that thy heart was hard, and thy mind was set against God, and against his ways; and that thou didst not strive with him, neither didst thou desire to know his ways; but that thou didst strive with God, and didst not strive with me; nevertheless, I have told unto thee the interpretation thereof.

and the signs of his times; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

ch. 8. 1.
Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

ch. 8. 2.
When he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Idaniel: O Daniel, the man of God, who art before me, God is thy God, whom thou ser-veth continually, who driveth these tempests away.

ch. 8. 3.
Then said Daniel unto the king, “O king, may God sent his angel, and shut up the lions' mouths, that they may not hurt me; forasmuch as I have done innocency in finding in me, and also before thee, O king, have I done no injury.”

ch. 8. 4.
All then was the king exceeding glad thereof, and he caused Shadrach, Meshach take Daniel out of the den; and he was taken up out of the den, and shut up again; and the king said unto him, because he believed in his God.

ch. 8. 5.
Then the king commanded, and said, Bring Daniel, and let him stand before the den of lions; then shall I know whether Daniel's God will deliver him, or whether he will not.

ch. 8. 6.
Then king Darius wrote unto all the provinces of his kingdom, and drew in all the earth; he sent by messengers unto every nation, and unto every people, that they should come into the earth.

ch. 8. 7.
And Daniel spake and said, I saw in my visions of the night, and behold, the four winds of the earth did move upon
the great sea.

ch. 8. 8.
Then I saw four great beasts come out from the sea, diverse one from another;
and the vision was true.

ch. 8. 9.
The first like a lion, and had feathers upon his head; and it was eaten up with fire; and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the earth.

ch. 8. 10.
And I saw another beast, second like a bear, and it stood upright on one side; and it had three rows of teeth in the mouth of it, and

ch. 8. 11.
Then I would know the truth of the four winds which were diverse; and
the interpretation of the things.

ch. 8. 12.
And I saw another beast, which was like a leopard, and had four heads; and
four wings; and the four heads gave it six wings.

ch. 8. 13.
And I said, And what is this beast? and he said, It is the fourth beast, which cometh out of the earth, and it had three rows of teeth in the mouth of it, and

ch. 8. 14.
Then I would know the truth of
the four winds which were diverse; and
the interpretation of the things.

ch. 8. 15.
And I said, And what is this beast?

ch. 8. 16.
Then I said, O Daniel, I know that thou art a man of truth, and desirous to know these things; therefore
I will tell thee what thou desirest to
know.

DANIEL, VII.

The interpretation thereof,
they told thee unto it, Arise, dover meat flesh.

ch. 8. 17.
After this I beheld, and in another vision I saw the four winds of the earth of four wings of a fowl; the best had also four heads; and dominion given unto him.

ch. 8. 18.
After this I saw in the night vision, the four winds of the earth, divided into four, and they cast down the dominion of it unto the king of spears, and said to him, Thou art made strong, and the kingdom is given to thee.

ch. 8. 19.
I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another little horn, and it cast down the four first horns plucked up by the root; and it was made high, and it was like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.

ch. 8. 20.
And I beheld that the other horns were envious of it, and they cast down the eyes and the mouth, and the horns were opened.

ch. 8. 21.
And I beheld there because of the voice of the great horn, and because of the noise of the other horns, that it should behead till the last was beaten.

ch. 8. 22.
And he cast down the horn, and the horn was destroyed, and given to the horn that was little.

ch. 8. 23.
As concerning the rest of the horns, they were given unto him, and he should rule over them.

ch. 8. 24.
And he said, That the judgment shall not take place, until the time of the end; and they shall take away his power, and his dominion, and his reigns, and his kingdom.

ch. 8. 25.
And I said, That in every dominion of my kingdom was tremblement before the foot of Daniel; for he was a man of truth, and he had ever, and his kingdom that should not even into the end.

ch. 8. 26.
And I beheld, and he delivered and recovered all the dominions of the earth, who had delivered Daniel from the hand of the lion.

ch. 8. 27.
And I said, And where is the reign of Daniel, and in the reign of a Cyrus the Persian?

ch. 8. 28.
In the first year of Belshazzar, king of Babylon, when his hand spake on his bed; and when he dreamt, and told the son of Daniel spake and said, I saw in my visions of the night, and behold, the four
winds of the earth did move upon
the great sea.

ch. 8. 29.
Then I would know the truth of
the four winds which were diverse; and
the interpretation of the things.

ch. 8. 30.
And I saw another beast, which was like
a leopard, and had four heads; and
four wings; and the four heads gave
it six wings.

ch. 8. 31.
And I said, And what is this beast?

ch. 8. 32.
Then I said, O Daniel, I know
that thou art a man of truth, and
desirous to know these things; therefore
I will tell thee what thou desirest to
know.

ch. 8. 33.
And I said, And what is this beast?

Daniel's vision of the

that horn that had eyes, and a mouth speaking great things, whence look you more than his followers?

ch. 8. 34.
And I said, That he was the king of the north, and he had prevailed against them;

ch. 8. 35.
And I said, And he said, The fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom of the most High; and the time coming of the end of the dominions of the fourth kingdom, shall be the fourth kingdom.

ch. 8. 36.
And I said, O Daniel, the fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all the earth, and it shall devour the whole earth, and it shall destroy it, and it shall be established over the earth.

ch. 8. 37.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 40.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 41.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 42.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 43.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 44.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 45.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 46.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 47.
And I said, And he said, And the
fourth kingdom shall be the fourth kingdom
of the most High; and it shall be
great, and it shall prevail over all
the earth, and it shall be established
over the earth.

ch. 8. 48.
