

Index.

- Adams, Samuel, 111.
American Authors, 287.
American Libraries, 287.
Annawan, 94.
Atlantic Cable, 241.
Baltimore, Lord, 82.
Barlow, Joel, 187.
Barton, Clara, 290; her childhood and youth, 294; in the Civil War, 295; in the Franco-German War, 295; in Cuba, 297.
Barton, Colonel William, 133.
Blackstone, William, 67.
Boston Tea Party, 116.
Bradford, William, 56.
British Army at New York, 132.
Buttrick, Major, 126.
Cabot, John, 30; and King Henry VII., 31; what he discovered, 34; England's claim to the Atlantic coast, 35.
Calhoun, John C., 208.
California and New Mexico ceded to the United States, 223.
California, gold discovered, 225.
Calvert, Cecil, 84.
Calvert, Sir George, 82.
Calvert, Leonard, 84.
Cape Ann, 63.
Cape Cod, 59.
Champlain, Samuel de, 75, 99.
Church, Captain Benjamin, 94.
Church, first at Salem, 69.
Civil War, results of, 266.
Clark, George Rogers, 157; plan to capture the Northwest, 161; captures Kaskaskia, 163; captures Vincennes, 164.
Clay, Henry, 208; forgetting his poetry, 212; "The Great Pacificator," 214.
Clermont, 188.
Cole, Hugh, 97.
Columbus, Christopher, 15, the sailor, 16; the map that he studied, 17; at the convent, 20; the Prince, 22; his first voyage, 23; land discovered, 24; his return to Spain, 26; his second voyage, 27; sent to Spain in chains, 28.
Compromise of 1850, 215.
Conant, Roger, 63.
Confederate Generals, 256.
Confederate States, 251.
Connecticut Fundamental Laws, 72.
Constitution captures the Guerriere, 196.
Continental Congress proposed, 117.
Cornwallis surrendered, 145.
Creamer, Jack, 192.
Croatan, 47.
Dare, Virginia, 45.
Davis, Jefferson, 251.
Dawes, William, 121.
Decatur, Stephen, 190.
Declaration of Independence, 119.
Dix, Dorothea L., 293.
Dorchester Heights, 132.
Dover, New Hampshire, 64.
Drake, Sir Francis, 42.
Edison, Thomas A., 302; his boyhood and youth, 305; learns telegraphy, 306; studies electricity, 307; telegraphs with a locomotive whistle, 307; in the Stock Exchange, 309; an inventor, 310.
Education, American system of, 285.

- Elizabeth, Queen, 56.
Emerson, Rev. William, 124.
Endicott, John, Governor, 64; his pear tree, 64.
Farragut, David G., 270; anecdote of his boyhood, 271; captures New Orleans, 272; his victory in Mobile Bay, 273.
Federal Convention, 169.
Ferdinand, the King of Spain, 19.
Field, Cyrus W., 240.
Fitch, John, 185.
Fox, George, 87.
France, treaty with, 134.
Franklin, Benjamin, 146; and the old apple woman, 147; and Addison's Spectator, 147; goes to New York and Philadelphia, 148; inventions, 150; and the Queen of France, 151; toast, 139; in the Federal Convention, 152; and the "Rising Sun," 154; grave, 155.
French and Indian War, 104.
Fulton, Robert, 184.
Genoa, 15.
Gettysburg, battle of, 259.
Gilbert, Sir Humphrey, 42.
Grant, Ulysses S., 262; captures Fort Henry, 263; takes Fort Donelson, 263; battle of Shiloh, 263; the surrender of Vicksburg, 264; the campaign of the Wilderness, 264; the end of the war, 264; his trip around the world, 268; his death, 269.
Greene, Nathaniel, 140; reconquers the entire South, 144.
Hamilton, Alexander, 166; at Yorktown, 168; Secretary of the Treasury, 172.
Hennepin, Father, 100.
Henry, Patrick, 113; his speech against the Stamp Act, 175.
Hooker, Thomas, 68.
Houston, Samuel, 220.
Hudson, Henry, 74.
Hudson River, 75.
Independence first proposed, 118.
Independence declared, 119.
Jackson, Andrew, 199; the boy, refuses to obey a British officer, 199; at Natchez, 202; called "Old Hickory," 202; at New Orleans, 204; elected President, 205; his death, 207.
James I., 57.
Jamestown, 49.
Jefferson, Thomas, 174; studies law at Williamsburg, 175; writes the Declaration of Independence, 176; President, 177; and Adams, their death, 182.
John, King of Portugal, 18.
Johnstown flood, 297.
Kentucky, pioneer life in, 160.
La Salle, Cavalier de, 99; at the mouth of the Mississippi, 101; his great expedition, 101; his death, 102.
Lee, Robert E., 255; Peninsular campaign, 258; invasion of North, 259; surrenders at Appomattox, 264; President of Washington and Lee University, 261; death of, 261.
Lincoln, Abraham, 243; his birthplace, 244; his boyhood, 245; earns his first dollar, 246; a storekeeper and postmaster, 248; a great reader, 247; in Congress, 249; elected President, 250; at Gettysburg, 252; Castelar's tribute, 253.
Livingston, Robert R., 187; Minister to France, 177.
Loe, Thomas, 88.
Louisiana purchased by the United States, 180.
Maine blown up in Havana harbor, 299.
Manhattan, 76.
Mann, Horace, 277; Secretary of Massachusetts Board of Education, 278.
Marco Polo, 17.
Marquette, Father, 99.
Mason and Dixon's line, 86.
Massasoit, 69, 93.
Mayflower, 59; compact, 60.
Merrimac and Monitor, 258.
Mexico, war with, 223.
Minnit, Peter, 76, 78.

- Monmouth, battle of, 136.
 Montcalm, death of, 110.
 Morey, Captain Samuel, 185.
 Morse, Samuel F. B., 235; anecdote: portrait of King George, 235; invents the telegraph, 237; his bill passes Congress, 238; the first telegraphic message, 239.
 Mount Vernon, 131.
 Napoleon proposes to sell Louisiana, 178.
 Narragansett Indians, 62.
 Naumkeag, 63.
 New Amsterdam captured by the English, 80.
 New England, early schools in, 279.
 New Netherland, 76.
 Nullification, 205.
 Ortiz, John, 37.
 Penn, William, 87; treaty with the Indians, 91.
 Pennsylvania, 90.
 Perry, Oliver Hazard, 196; his victory on Lake Erie, 196.
 Philadelphia, 91.
 Philip, King, 93.
 Pilgrims in Holland, 58.
 Pinzon Brothers, 22.
 Pitcairn, Major, 124.
 Plains of Abraham, 107.
 Plymouth, the landing at, 60.
 Pocahontas, 52.
 Poor Richard's Almanac, 149.
 Portsmouth, New Hampshire, 64.
 Powhatan, 53.
 Prescott, Samuel, 123.
 Prescott, General Richard, capture of, 133.
 Quakers, 87.
 Quebec, battle of, 104; surrender of, 110.
 Raleigh, Sir Walter, 41.
 Red Cross Society, 296.
 Revere, Paul, 121.
 Revolutionary war begun, 126.
 "Right of Secession," 211.
 Robinson, John, 58.
 Rolfe, John, 54.
 Ross, Betsey, 134.
 Rumsey, James, 185.
 Salem, Massachusetts, 65.
 Samoset, 61.
 Schools in the olden time, 280.
 Slavery Question, 250.
 Smith, John, 48.
 Soto, Ferdinand de, 36; the burial of, 39.
 Sowams, 69.
 Speedwell, 59.
 Stamp Act, 112.
 Stars and Stripes, the first flag, 134.
 Steamboat, the first American, 188.
 Stevens, John, 186.
 Stuyvesant, Peter, 74.
 Tarleton, Colonel, 143, 144.
 Texas, the "Lone Star" Republic, 221; annexed to the United States, 222.
 Tripoli, war with, 190.
 United States frigate captures the Macedonian, 193.
 United States, its rapid growth, 393.
 Valley Forge, 134.
 Vergennes, Count de, his prophecy, 110.
 Virginia Company, 48.
 War with Spain, 299.
 Washington, George, 129; his boyhood, 130; Elm, 132; at prayer, 136; President, 137; inaugurated, 171.
 Webster, Daniel, 208; his reply to Hayne, 216.
 White, Rev. John, of Dorchester, 64.
 Whitman, Marcus, 228; his famous horseback ride, 230; at Washington, 232; massacred, 233.
 Willard, Frances E., 293.
 Williams, Roger, 68.
 Winthrop, John, 63; Margaret, 66.
 Wolfe, James, 104; death of, 107; personal appearance of, 105.
 Women, early education of, in this country, 291; education of, 284; American, distinguished as authors, 292.

Books for Outside Reading.

MacCoun—Historical Geography of the United States. Bonner—Child's History of the United States. Butterworth—Young Folks' History of America. Ellis—Youth's History of the United States. Markham—Colonial Days. Wright—Children's Stories in American History.

Hale—Stories of Discovery. Towle—Marco Polo. Kingston—Notable Voyages. Abbott—American Pioneers and Patriots. Abbott—Ferdinand de Soto. Higginson—American Explorers.

Henty—Under Drake's Flag. Towle—Sir Walter Raleigh. Cooke—Stories of the Old Dominion. Cooke—My Lady Pocahontas. Eggleston—Pocahontas.

Bacon—Historical Pilgrimages in New England. Hawthorne—Grandfather's Chair. Hawthorne—Twice-Told Tales. Moore—Pilgrims and Puritans. Abbott—Myies Standish. Drake—Around the Hub. Gilman—The Story of Boston. Moore—From Colony to Commonwealth.

Abbott—Peter Stuyvesant. Irving—Sketch Book. Kennedy—Rob of the Bowl. Watson—The Great Peacemaker.

Drake—Indian History for Young Folks. Catherwood—Story of Tonty. Henty—With Wolfe in Canada.

Watson—Boston Tea Party. Greene—Peter and Polly. Preble—History of the Flag. Woodman—Boys and Girls of the Revolution. Scudder—George Washington. Fiske—Washington and His Country. Henty—True to the Flag. Coffin—Boys of '76. Abbott—Blue-Jackets of '76. Ellet—Domestic History of the Revolution. Watson—The Friend of George Washington. Mayhew—Young Benjamin Franklin. Wilkins—Adventures of Ann.

Abbott—Daniel Boone. Bolton—Famous American Statesmen. Coffin—Building the Nation. Upton—Our Early Presidents, their Wives and Children. Hale—Philip Nolan's Friends.

Knox—Life of Robert Fulton. Hale—Stories of Inventions. Lossing—Story of the United States Navy. Abbott—Blue-Jackets of 1812. Soley—Boys of 1812. Eggleston—Big Brother. Seawell—Twelve Naval Captains.

Brooks—Boy Settlers. Eggleston—Hoosier Schoolboy. Monroe—Golden Days of '49. Irving—Astoria. Brooks—Boy Emigrants. Wright—Children's Stories of American Progress. Field—Story of the Atlantic Telegraph.

Butterworth—In the Boyhood of Lincoln. Brooks—Abraham Lincoln. Coffin—Drum Beat of the Nation. Henty—With Lee in Virginia. Adams—Our Standard Bearer. Page—Two Little Confederates. Coffin—Redeeming the Republic. Soley—Sailor Boys of '61. Abbott—Blue-Jackets of '61.

Stepping Stones to Literature.

A Unique Series of Eight School Readers upon an entirely New Plan, Brilliantly Illustrated with Masterpieces and Original Drawings.

By SARAH LOUISE ARNOLD, Supervisor of Schools, Boston, Mass., and CHARLES B. GILBERT, Superintendent of Schools, Newark, N. J.

This series marks a new era in School Readers. It combines with the necessary technique of reading, a real course in literature. It has the sincere literary atmosphere. The early volumes create the beginnings of a literary judgment. The advanced volumes comprehend the whole range of the world's best writing. The pupil, at the end of the course, knows what literature means.

In this achievement these Readers stand absolutely alone. They justify the following deliberate characterizations:

They are the most interesting Readers ever published.

They surpass all other Readers in wise technique.

They are superlative in stimulating thought and creating taste.

They are unequalled in attractiveness of illustration.

They give a better idea of the world's great literature, and more of it, than can be found anywhere else in the same space.

A Mark of Their Acceptability.

In their first year they were adopted by Boston, New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore, Atlanta; by over a thousand smaller towns; by hundreds of counties; and by the State of Virginia.

Patriotism in These Readers.

The entire series is peculiarly rich in selections and pictures closely connected with American history and American greatness, well fitted to stimulate love of country in the pupil. The "Reader for Seventh Grades," is distinctively and wholly American, and its tales, poems, historical extracts, and illustrations are alive with a proud patriotism.

Send for Descriptive Circular.

Silver, Burdett and Company, Publishers,
New York. Boston. Chicago.

The World and Its People.

A Series of Eight Geographical Readers, Charmingly Illustrated, for Supplementary Work in Schools, and for the Interest of the Family at Home.

Under the Editorial supervision of LARKIN DUNTON, LL.D.,
Head Master of Boston Normal School.

BOOK I. First Lessons - 36 cts.	BOOK V. Modern Europe - 60 cts.
BOOK II. Glimpses of the World - 36 cts.	BOOK VI. Life in Asia - 60 cts.
BOOK III. Our Own Country 50 cts.	BOOK VII. Views in Africa 72 cts.
BOOK IV. Our American Neighbors - 60 cts.	BOOK VIII. Australia and the Islands of the Sea 68 cts.

This series of fascinating books makes geography a study of absorbing interest. The maps, the boundaries, the spots called cities, begin to be alive as the pupil reads these graphic and ample descriptions of the countries of the world, their individual characteristics, their people's ways. Behind the map he sees a real world, tangible and bright-hued as his own surroundings.

This circling picture of the world comes, not as a task, but as a wise direction of the home reading, in which all the family are often impelled to join.

Of peculiar and timely interest just now is Book VIII., which vividly describes, among the "Islands of the Sea," those new possessions over which our gallant sailors and soldiers have raised the Stars and Stripes.

Send for Specimen Pages.

Songs of the Nation.

A Superb Collection of the Most Representative American Songs, for Schools, Societies, and Homes.

By COL. CHARLES W. JOHNSON, 10 years Chief Clerk of U. S. Senate.

In these days, when the sentiment of country is calling for a new and fuller expression, this collection is most timely.

It embodies the patriotic songs most in demand (25 of them), together with many more songs for Anniversaries and occasions, American folk-songs, a group of old religious favorites, the best College songs, etc.

Sent by mail on receipt of price—60 cents.

Silver, Burdett and Company, Publishers,
New York. Boston. Chicago.

